

Howe's That

by Monte Walker

It's always nice to have a good neighbor. This week the antiquated copier machine in the downtown HDA office needed a toner transformation and I, for one, was highly unable to figure out how to manipulate the first generation machine. After I summoned help from a fellow city co-worker, I felt a little better because two people could then not figure out the contraption.

Here I am, the grandson of a printer. I watched him spin the wheels and master those machines effortlessly and administer perfection to ink. I can't even change the toner.

But after nearly losing my cool and wanting to toss the thing in the landfill, I called on Todd Creekmore who is, by the way, Mr. Copier in this town and has a downtown business full of copiers and that's, um, what he does for a living.

Todd came over and gave me a quick lesson on what to do and what not to do. He cleaned up the giant mess that I'd made and helped me out just as my Papaw would have done to anyone that asked.

"Victory Town" parade set for Saturday

This Saturday Howe will celebrate Christmas with the annual parade. For the second year in a row, the route will make a trip through the downtown stretch on Haning Street. Prior to 2014, the parade would bypass downtown via Denny Street to Haning Street, but the one block venture off of the path creates the special community atmosphere.

"I've lived here for 50 years and it was the first time I remember a parade through downtown." said Joyce Park in December of 2014.

"I feel like we're a real town now."

The parade will start with a lineup of floats at the Howe Middle School parking lot. The route will be from Beatrice Street to Duke Street to Denny Street to Davis Street to Hughes Street to Haning Street down to King Street and back to the Howe Middle School campus.

The Howe Area Chamber of Commerce is preparing the parade and organizing the floats. So far 15 floats have been registered and there is

#14 ranked Lady Bulldogs come back vs. Muenster

It was announced last Monday that the Lady Bulldogs of Howe (then 6-0) had moved up to #14 in the Class 3A rankings by the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches. On Tuesday, they found themselves trailing to #8 ranked Muenster (then 3-0) from Class 2A.

The traveling Lady Hornets immediately jumped out to a 19-10 lead after the first period. All they did in the second period was extend their advantage to a commanding 34-22 halftime lead over the Howe girls.

Character is often build and tested by resiliency and for teams as good as the Lady Bulldogs, resiliency is rarely ever tested. But on this night, the girls from Howe stood up and fought their way back into the game by staying even with a 12-12 tie in the third period and completely dominating in the final period by exploding for 26 points to finish out the dramatic come-from-behind one-point win, 60-59.

It wasn't the best performance by the Howe girls, but it was a chance to become battle-tested before entering the heart of their season.

Bulldogs open season by ringing Bells, now 2-2 on season

Athletes are athletes and Howe has plenty of them. No, they don't just reside on the football field. It's the time of year where leaping members of the football secondary become leaping power forwards and and shooting guards. And then there are other players in this small town that shine this time of year because for them, this is not the "off-season" - this is their time to shine. Guys like Griffin Underwood, Michael Kehrer and Sam Akins think Friday night lights are made for gymnasiums and buzzer-beaters instead of the end-around-reverses and halftime performances.

Keher, Underwood and Akins have been patiently waiting on the others who were all members of the varsity football team that played two rounds deep into the playoffs and shortened the basketball season. But on Tuesday night, the wait was over and Howe exploded on Bells to start the season with a 68-48 win on the road.

Kehrer finished as the game's leading scorer with 18 points coming on all 2-point field goals.

Howe led 22-10 after the first period with all five starters chipping in with points. The starting five of Underwood, Akins, Nick Wilson, Levi Mrozinski, and Kehrer all finished in double digits with points.

The Bulldogs took a 33-16 lead into the first halftime of the year and then came out and commanded the third quarter, 18-13. The only period that Howe failed to outscore Bells was in the final one that saw the Panthers put up 19 to Howe's 18.

Other scorers behind Kehrer were Akins (12), Wilson (11), Underwood (10), Ty Harvey (8), Mrozinski (6) and Brandon Wall (3).

On Thursday night, Howe defeated Gainesville, 62-56 with a strong second half performance in the Sanger Tournament opener. The Bulldogs were tied 29-29 at the half, but had their best defensive period in the 4th by holding Gainesville to 12 points. Underwood led the 'Dogs with 13 points and was closely followed by Keher with 12. Other scorers were Akins (10), Wilson (7), Wall (7), Mrozinski (6), Stratton Carroll (4) and Ty Harvey (3).

Howe's second game of the tournament was against Chant Home School. The 'Dogs won the first period 16-10, but couldn't regain that form until the fourth period. Howe eventually lost, 61-49.

Howe finished out the tournament with a loss to Denison, 66-57 and sit with a record 2-2 on the young season.

Leading the charge for the Lady Bulldogs was Holly Hawkins who had a team high 13 points. She was a perfect 4 for 4 from the field and sunk 5 of 8 free throws while also pulling down two rebounds. Alissa Smith had 11 points and three assists while Darci Foster, Riley Harvey and Landry Rhoten each had nine points. Harvey led the team with six rebounds. Other scorers were Peyton Streetman (7) and Kayla Anderson (2).

The Lady Bulldogs shot 43 percent as a team from the field and 33 percent from three-point range. They shot 62 percent from the free-throw line.

With the win over Muenster, Howe's Lady Bulldogs moved to 7-0 while Muenster fell to 3-1 on the season.

Howe FFA students finish 3rd at state competition

Allie Morgan, Mati Abner and Jessica Doty are the first Ag Advocacy team in the LDE (Leadership Development Events) program to advance to state from the Howe FFA chapter. They are now the only Ag Advocacy team from Howe to place as they finished third of 300 teams overall. Finishing just ahead of the Howe girls was Salado (1st) and Madisonville (2nd).

"We were all very excited and proud to find out that we had placed third." said Doty. "It was a great time that couldn't have been made possible without the hard work of these girls as well as the constant support and dedication of Mrs. Blum. I will always cherish the memories that I made this weekend."

Howe had previously participated in the district contest on November 9 and were one of two teams that advanced to area where they finished second and qualified for state.

LDE focuses on creating situations for members to demonstrate their abilities in public speaking, decision making, communication and their knowledge of agriculture and the FFA organization. Team and individual events are used to reinforce what is taught in agricultural science classrooms.

Friday, the girls competed in the prelim competition. That evening at awards, it was announced that they had made the top 10 which qualified them for the finals. Saturday morning, they competed in the finals and that afternoon at awards ceremony they announced

All LDE events have elimination rounds at the district and area before the state level competition.

Corey Horton, owner of The Green Acre Garden Center of Van Alstyne gave Keep Howe Beautiful a great deal on an upgraded tree from last year's six footer to the ten foot beautiful tree this year. It is the second year in a row that the Van Alstyne nursery has donated the Howe Community Christmas Tree. Discussions were taking place to plant a living tree in the area of the old First Christian Church, but more time is needed for a project like that.

Keeping with tradition, Paris Palacios will once again emcee the parade from the downtown area. She will be located between City Hall and Abby's Restaurant by the community tree.

Is God still blessing America?

by Monte Walker

My pastor once said that he thought that God is no longer blessing America because America has shunned Him. We have banned Him from our schools, our children, the workplace and in public. Why would He continue to bless America? Maybe America should turn to Him again so He will bless us again.

I recently read an article in rebuke to the New York Daily News headline after the heinous attacks in San Bernadino on Wednesday. The article was from Sean Davis, co-founder of The Federalist. With his permission, I took a few excerpts from his online post:

“Come down from the cross and save yourself!” they later demanded. He did not save Himself by hopping down from that cross.

Instead, He “fixed” the situation by dying an unimaginably horrible death, bearing the weight of the sins of all mankind for all eternity, being laid in a cold and empty tomb, and then, on the third day, after literally defeating death and sin itself, Jesus Christ rose from the dead and informed the world that as a result of His perfect life, painful death, and resurrection from the dead, sinful man might one day share in the infinite glory of God’s holy and perfect Son, not because of our own actions or merit, but because of the sacrifice and unending grace and mercy of the only perfect man to ever walk the earth.

Granted, it’s not a snarky tabloid cover, but it’s pretty impressive nonetheless.

We don’t have to imagine how God might respond to those clever little devils in charge of formulating headlines for New York City’s third-tier tabloids, because the Bible tells us exactly how God responded when questioned by man. Job 38 and 39 should sum it up quite nicely.

It seems to me that the agenda of the front page was political which is just as disturbing as the shocking insinuation. It paints the picture that all Democrats are atheists and I happen to believe that the thought of that should be offensive to the left-leaning party members.

My feelings on this cannot be measured in a few hundred words. It is rarely a good idea for a small town newspaper editor to get involved in politics or religion, or in this case BOTH. But the news of the world today involves Christianity, Atheism, Islam, Republicans, Democrats, moderates and extremists. Each member of these associations have an agenda. The country seems to be split more so than anyone can ever remember.

The storm clouds are gathering. The winds of revolution are blowing. The farther we get from God, the more the world spirals out of control. The most pressing problem facing America can’t be solved in Washington. True hope and change can only be found at the foot of the cross. Let us return to HIM.

Faith

by Debbie Wallis

“For to us a child is born, to us a Son is given, and the government will be on His shoulders. And He will be called Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace,” Isaiah 9:6.

It is Christmas time and Jesus is the reason we even have this season. I cannot think about the birth of baby Jesus without remembering the cross on which He died. The cross is where we see the true heart of God. It’s where love went to die for everything you and I did and will ever do in contradiction to love. The cross is the perfect representation of God. The cross is where we see the ugliness of our sins. The cross is where God met an ungrateful world and poured out His unconditional love.

The cross is where God gave His perfect sacrifice for you and for me. "He made Him who knew no sin, to be sin on our behalf, that we might become the righteousness of God in Him," 2 Cor. 5:21. The cross is where Jesus was crushed for our redemption. Jesus felt the overwhelming emotion of abandonment by His Father. "My God, My God, why have You forsaken Me?" Matthew 27:46. Jesus became sin on our behalf and God the Father had to turn His back upon the Son. Hab. 1:13 says that God is too pure to look upon evil. When Jesus bore our sins in His body on the cross (1 Pet. 2:24), God the Father spiritually turned away. We have no capacity to appreciate the utterly horrific experience of having the sins of the world put upon Jesus as He hung in excruciating pain from that cross. The physical pain was immense and the spiritual heaviness must have been even greater.

Jesus was born for you. He lived a sinless life so you could relate to His temptations. He chose right over wrong every time because He had a life goal and it was to die for you. He had to remain pure so He could be a perfect, blemish free and blameless sacrifice at the cross for you.

He didn’t defend Himself when He was falsely accused. He chose to be guilty of your sins. He carried the cross for you. He stayed on the cross for you. With every agonizing lash of the whip He made a conscious decision that you were worth dying for. He accepted your sins as His own so that He could pay the penalty of death for you. He took back the keys of hell for your life and defied the grave so you could live eternally with Him in Heaven. Jesus went to the cross for one reason; desire. “Father, I desire that they would be with Me where I am,” John 17:24.

“Let Us make man in Our image, according to Our likeness,” Genesis 1:26. God has always loved you. When rebellion entered Adam and Eve’s life they hid from their nakedness. We hide from God because we feel the embarrassment of our sin. If you think you are not beautiful and loved by God...think about the cross. God has always loved you. Every step Jesus took closer to His death was because you are lovely and loved by God. He saw Adam and Eve when they talked to Satan. He saw their sin against His Word. He saw their shame and He said, “I shall put enmity between your seed and her Seed; He shall bruise your head and you shall bruise His heel,” Genesis 3:15. The “He” is Jesus. God made a way for our sins to be forgiven at the point sin entered the human race. God said that Jesus, the Seed, will come and be killed by man for all mankind.

This Christmas focus on the short distance between the manger and the cross. They both were a valuable gift. One without the other would leave us lost. The gift of the cross will drastically change your way of living. The birth of Christ lead to the life He gave at the cross. Christ is the good news of Christmas...so, keep saying, “Merry Christmas!” it’s the most wonderful time of the year!

Jesus defeated death and rose again! He now sits at the right hand of God. “I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to Myself, that where I am you may be also,” John 14:3.

If you don’t have a Bible please contact me at sfadebbie@yahoo.com and I will provide you one.

"Save the Church" Meeting

The committee that constructed the "Save the Church" fundraiser met for the first time since the Dec. 7 event. President Jean Norman opened the meeting by thanking all of the committee members. Secretary Georgia Caraway gave improvement ideas for things to consider on future fundraisers. Treasurer Janie Finney gave the report that the account now has over $29,000. Construction Project Manager Boyd Dunn gave a recap of what they've done on the construction phase of the structure. The baptistery has been removed and matching pine flooring has been found for replacement portions of rotted spots on the floor.

The committee discussed what the interior should look like and agreed to have a wedding venue professional give direction. Also, a new name for the former church was discussed and Summit Garden Event Center was originally suggested by Janie Finney. The words Event Center then was replaced with "Venue." No official action was taken on the renaming.

Learn about antiques and collectibles with Georgia Caraway

Rare large Christmas balls called Kugels first appeared in the early 1820s when German glassblowers would sometimes amuse themselves by challenging each other as to who could blow the biggest bubble. They often silvered the inside of the bubbles with lead or zinc for a reflective effect.

Kugels quickly became popular Christmas tree decorations and glassblowers soon created them in various shapes and sizes. Berries, grapes, apples, pears, and balls were made. Early Kugels are rare and valuable. Dating Kugels is easy—early Kugels have broken stems with fitted cork caps for hanging. By 1885, embossed brass caps with metal rings were used; in 1892, metal tree-hook loops appeared. From 1900 to 1913, flat caps had embossed tin and after 1913, caps had a spring hook. This design is used today.

Prices vary according to size and design: 2-inch silver ball with some rubbed spots, $150; 5-inch cobalt raspberry, $1,000, deep red ball, $200; 7-inch cobalt ball, $535; 6-inch cobalt grape cluster, $400.

Because Kugels were so large they were not hung on Christmas trees but were rather hung in doorways. Yule want to hang these ornaments very carefully.

A Christmas present from Georgia: If you will bring a copy of this column into Howe Mercantile, you will receive a free Howe Christmas votive candleholder as a gift. A Happy, Healthy Holiday to All.

Dr. Georgia Caraway, former director of the Denton County Museums for 14 years, and her friends opened the Howe Mercantile at 107 East Haning. The Texas Minute: Henry B. Gonzalez

Dr. Ken Bridges

Henry B. Gonzalez had a long and controversial career as a Texas politician. He was the first Hispanic elected to Congress from Texas and was never afraid to speak his mind on the issues.

Gonzalez was born to immigrant parents in San Antonio in 1916. His parents arrived in Texas, fleeing the violence of the Mexican Revolution. His father rose to become an editor of a local Spanish-language newspaper and started a successful translation service.

Gonzalez graduated from San Antonio Junior College in 1937 and briefly attended the University of Texas. However, he completed his bachelors degree at St. Mary's University in Austin where he also earned a law degree by 1943.

After graduation, he briefly worked as a probation officer, quickly rising to lead the Bexar County office. He also worked as a teacher for a short period. In 1952, he was elected to the San Antonio city council.

He soon aimed for higher office. In 1956, he was elected to the state senate. While a state senator, he became an outspoken defender of civil rights as he filibustered a bill that would have allowed the state to close schools that faced any disturbances related to racial integration and defeated other bills attempting to enforce segregation. In 1958, Gonzalez ran for governor, losing the primary but winning re-election to the state senate in 1960. In 1961, after Lyndon B. Johnson became vice-president, Gonzalez ran for his open U. S. Senate seat. In a field of fifty candidates, he placed sixth statewide with 9% of the vote, carrying Bexar County.

Later that year, San Antonio's longtime congressman, Paul Kilday, resigned in order to take a position on the Court of Military Appeals. Gonzalez quickly jumped into the race to fill the remainder of the term. In a hard-fought race, Gonzalez prevailed with 55% of the vote.

He went to work immediately. On the same day he was sworn into office, he filed a bill banning the poll tax, through which many states required citizens to pay to exercise their right to vote. The poll tax was banned by the Twenty-Fourth Amendment, which was ratified in 1964.

One of his most well-publicized actions was his service as chairman of the Select Committee on Assassination in 1977. This committee was pushed by Gonzalez in 1976 to study the assassinations of President John F. Kennedy, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, and the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr. Behind the scenes, the committee quickly erupted into acrimony over disputes stemming from investigative techniques, committee procedures, and even the budget. Gonzalez resigned from the committee within a few months, while the committee ultimately concluded that no conspiracy was apparent with the murders.

His harsh criticisms of political opponents did not win him many allies at the Capitol, but he eventually became the chairman of the House Banking, Finance, and Urban Affairs Committee in 1989. Here, he advocated banking reforms to make it easier for the working poor to afford their own homes. He criticized deregulation attempts that resulted in the collapse of the savings and loan industry in the late 1980s which ultimately cost taxpayers more than $1 trillion. He chaired the committee until 1994.

In 1998, as his health failed, he announced his retirement. His son, Charlie Gonzalez, won the race to succeed him. He died on November 8, 2000, but has since been widely honored for his service to Texas and the nation as the convention center in San Antonio was named for him in addition to three different schools across the state.

Dr. Bridges is a Texas native, writer, and history professor. He can be reached at drkenbridges@gmail.com.

Howe's that...

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES - The Howe Bulldogs have ended another memorable football season. As I said last week, this team will be the topic of conversations in Howe and the surrounding area for years to come. (If you don't believe it, you have only to get with some folks who have lived here a while. They'll tell you about the 1985 football year or they may even go back to years long past, but glorious years for Howe football.)

I enjoyed all the games we won and even enjoyed some parts of the ones we lost. I thought we played very well against Pilot Point - a team that is still in the state playoffs. But my personal favorite game was the one against Celina. Thank you to the football team, coaches, cheerleaders, band, drill team, sponsors and others who helped make this season GREAT!

Win or lose, the Howe Bulldogs are the GREATEST!

MY GRANDSON has been "adopted" by his babysitter's 2-year-old. Last week, on the first day the babysitter had Jordan (aka P.J.), the her son, Nathan, decided that Jordan was his mom's new baby. Nathan got very upset when Jordan's dad came to pick him up. So, two days a week, Jordan has a big "brother" to watch over him and make sure he's okay!

Nana Lana also gets to babysit with Jordan two days a week - on Thursdays and Friday mornings. If you drop by the office during that time, you will probably see him - either in my arms or in the playpen. Those are two days when I'm not very busy at the office and can get some work done while the baby's sleeping.

PATRIOTIC RALLY - honoring the soldiers in Operation Desert Shield and their families was held at Howe ISD Tuesday, Dec. 4. Special guest was U.S. Senator Phil Gramm of Texas. Due to press deadline, story and pictures of this event will appear in next issue.

WANTED: Addresses of Howe area residents who are stationed in Saudi Arabia. Several groups in Howe would like to write to these local people who are in the service in Operation Desert Shield. Please call 532-6012, write to Box 488, Howe or drop by office at 106 E. Haning. The addresses will be printed in the paper so that all who wish to do so will be able to write to these young men and ladies who are serving our country.

Bulldogs End Amazing Season

The Mart Panthers had the speed and all the right moves Friday, Nov. 30, as they eliminated the Howe Bulldogs from the playoffs with a score of 28-0. The Dogs ended their season with a record of six wins, five losses, and two ties plus trophies for the bi-district and area wins.

Head coach Joey McQueen said, "We knew coming in this game would be a challenge...but we can't look at this loss and judge our season on it. We have to remember the consecutive victories over Bells, Celina and Olney that got us this far in the first place."

McQueen added, "I'm proud of every one of the players on this team."

Things turned bad for the Dogs early in the game. Howe took the opening kickoff and managed a first down before having to punt on downs. On their first play from scrimmage, the Panthers scored on a "flea flicker" 67-yard pass play. The PAT kick made the score 7-0 with 9:42 left in the first quarter.

The Dogs managed a couple of first downs on their next possession, but had to punt on the fourth down. The defense held the Panthers to a gain of only 4 yards on this possession, but the Dogs were also unable to move the ball on 4 tries. Once again Mart took control at their 35 yard line and on the first play from scrimmage scored on a 65-yard TD pass with 1:26 left in the first quarter. The PAT kick failed for a 13-0 score.

With 5:07 left in the first half, Mart scored again on a 44-yard pass. The try for 2 points failed and the score was 19-0.

On Howe's next series, Mart intercepted the ball at the 50 and several plays later attempted a field goal which fell short. On the first play from scrimmage, senior quarterback Wade Carson was injured (a strained knee) and was out for the remainder of the game. Junior Scott Grogan took control only to have his first pass intercepted. Two plays later Damien Horton intercepted a Panther pass at the 15, but the Dogs were unable to gain any yardage before the half ended.

As the third quarter began, Mart marched downfield to the 16, but a penalty and the Bulldog defense held off their attack. A try for a field goal fell short with 8:36 remaining in the third quarter. Then with 3:26 left in the third period, Mart scored again on a 19-yard run and a PAT kick for a 26-0 score.

THEIR EYES ARE ON YOU

At the recent pep rally, Supt. Pete Simmons read a poem describing how the younger students are watching their "heroes" - in football, band, drill team, cheerleading, etc. He has several kindergarten students beside him to dramatize this concept.

At the beginning of the fourth quarter, Mart pinned the Dogs in the end zone for a safety to make the final score 28-0.

McQueen said, "I would like to thank the city of Howe and Howe ISD for their great support during this past football season. Our band is the best in the land. Our drill team, under the direction of Betty Mullins, is great. Our cheerleaders, directed by Tina Yates, have worked so hard to make signs, run-throughs and promoting spirit. Also our Bulldog moms and dads have worked hard cooking and making signs. We, the coaching staff of Howe ISD, would like to thank everyone for their great support throughout the season. It was memorable!"

PTA To Meet

The Howe PTA will meet Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 7 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. The Middle School Band will perform and a guest speaker from Harbor Creek will present a program. Everyone is welcome.
