THE HOWE ENTERPRISE, THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1971 — VOL. VII — No. 38

HOWE'S THAT

Saturday was a busy day in Howe, what with the school board election, city council and mayor election, and the local 4-H, FHA and FFA project show.

The person who should have enjoyed the project show more than anyone else was Mrs. Altan Norman, serving as the judge in the foods and clothing division. All those cakes, pies, cookies, etc. sure looked tempting — in fact, we even offered our assistance in the sampling department, but this was declined.

Anyway, the project show moves to Loy Lake next week and the school kids get a few days' holiday to enjoy themselves.

Future Homemaking members are "doing their thing" this week — part of National FHA week, or month, or some thing.

In addition to the serious side of the situation, the group has sponsored pie eating contests, initiated a few treatmen, and cut other capers this week. And we even captured part of it on film — which is supposed to be reproduced elsewhere in this issue.

We've heard of a few resolutions passed by the House of Representatives in Austin that couldn't have received much study, but the one passed recently as reported in the big papers takes the cookies —

Rep. Tom Moore, the chief sponsor of the resolution withdrew the commendation after it passed — saying "it might reflect unfavorably upon the dignity of this body, and I wouldn't want to do that."

The resolution: Endorses the job by the Boston Strangler in the field of population control."

The resolution, submitted by two representatives who believed the House would pass any resolution set in front of its members, commended Albert De Salvo for "dedication and devotion to his work in population control."

The resolution also commended De Salvo for "unselfishly serving his country, his state and his community."

"This compassionate gentleman's dedication and devotion to his work has enabled the weak and lonely throughout the nation to achieve and maintain a new degree of concern for their future," the resolution stated.

O. T. Corbins Retire After 32 Years Here

A business firm established here in January, 1939, closed its doors Tuesday, April 6. Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Corbin announced the closing this week, after operating the grocery store and service station in the same location for 32 years.

Mr. Corbin plans to "piddle around the shop," following retirement, "but we'll still be around here if anyone needs anything."

FHA Week Celebrations continued here this week. Here Sherry Muse, Sherry Bledsoe and Nelda Rogers were the markings of Freshmen — inaugurated by upper classmen.

School Board Reorganizes

School board was reorganized at regular monthly meet Monday night, when one new member was seated and officers elected for the coming year.

Ray Bledsoe, winner of last Saturday's election, was seated, replacing Billy Murdock.

New officers named were: Dr. Ned Culp, president; Leon Thornhill, vice president; and James L. Davis, secretary.

Culp expressed appreciation to former Board President Grady Lankford, for his work through the office during the past year, and named two members to head committees for the coming year. Thornhill was named to sports, with Jimmy Sutton to assist administrators in upgrading the school curriculum.

In other business, the board authorized contracts for teachers, with the exception of three, one of which will probably be reconsidered at a later date, one school board member said Wednesday.

Contracts not renewed were those of Royt Lamstrom, who had informed Principal L. H. Linker that he was going to Europe this summer, and Larry Miller, who had told Linker he had made applications for another job.

Request by Librarian Mrs. Gerald Hickox for a leave of absence during the first semester next fall was denied. "Because it would be almost impossible to hire a replacement for only one semester, board decided. Custodians, bus drivers and cafeteria help were re-hired.

Program for students requiring special education is under study following a discussion on the matter and one individual case here within the past year. According to board member James Davis, schools must furnish either a special education class with a teacher or a testing program whereby students requiring the special teaching can be transferred to Sherman where facilities are available. The program is financed by the state, Davis said "and we can have this program by making application."

Mrs. Davis, also present at the meeting, said it took six months to trace down the procedure for obtaining the special services. Further investigation of the program is to be made.

School calendar for the '71-'72 year was approved, listing four semesters instead of the usual six. Reports of students will be made on a nine-week basis, with students doing unsatisfactory work issued teacher reports between semesters.

Luncheon Held By Sesame Club

By Marie Roberts The Harvest Creek Country Club was the setting for the Sesame Club's Appreciation Day Luncheon, Tuesday at noon.

Mrs. Nell Robertson, 1310-1911 president, was the luncheon guest. The theme of the program was "Toll Nook."

Mrs. J. W. Bond and Mrs. Ray Houston were in charge of arrangements and decoration, and received guests.

The hospitable dining room was decorated with tables laid in cloths of gold and yellow. Spelling flowers centered the tables, carrying out the color motif. Place cards and favors were decorated with yellow daisies.

Marie Roberts was master of ceremonies, and introduced Mrs. Ned Cline, who spoke on "Appreciation every day," and what it means at home and elsewhere, how appreciation lifts a heart — and paid tribute to 2003, as a capable leader, loyal to the high ideals of the club, and fair-minded service.

"If you want a job done on time and well, tell her" has been the theme of the club during the administration.

Each member responded to roll call — "Toll Nook," and the tributes were many.

Appreciation Day is an annual affair, which is a feast to take time to be kind. Next meeting of the club will be a Tea at the home of Mrs. W. W. Collins, with Mrs. News Davis and Marie Roberts as assistant hostesses. April 20 is the date at 2:00 p.m.

TO THE CITIZENS OF HOWE:

I want to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to each of you who helped in selecting me as mayor of Howe. I want to especially thank those who actively campaigned in my behalf. Without your efforts, I could not have won the election.

As your mayor, I want to serve you, the people, to believe in a representative type of government. I do not intend to try to run the city nor to make all of my decisions. I do want to work in harmony with the Council and with you, the citizens, in making the kind of decisions that will continue to make Howe a prosperous community and an enjoyable place to live.

I ask for your help. If you have suggestions or comments, bring them to me whenever possible. We may not be able to solve all of your problems, but I can assure you that, if you bring them before the Council, we will make an honest effort to find a solution.

Thank you again for your support.
