THE HOWE ENTERPRISE, THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1971 - VOL. III - No. 5

Care to take a hippie to lunch?
You may already be doing it.
The Oakland, Calif. Tribune says that as a working taxpayer you are financing hippies. It cites the case of a specific hippie —

"He hoards that for 50 cents he buys $28.00 worth of food stamps... Each week he uses the stamps to buy exactly $27.51 worth of groceries and gets 49 cents back in cash change, the maximum amount of cash he can get on a purchase — Then he adds one penny for the 50 cents to get another $28.00 worth of stamps for the next week. The food stamp program takes his sell his food stamps to friends for $15.00 in cash. Thus, in a month he's paid out 53 cents for $122.00 worth of stamps, for which he gets $83.53 worth of food and $14.47 net profit in cash."

"From the food stamp salesman: 'Can you imagine how this adds up when I have 15 hippies — kids living in a commune house, all doing the same thing? No wonder they laugh at the Establishment!'"

"To wonder the welfare programs are in trouble. You may be taking a hippie to lunches — without knowing it. And at the same time, the hippies are taking you for a ride."

Now that the rains have come to the Howe area (up to a half inch reported in most areas) maybe those dirt doblers will get a little red. According to a reliable source the weather was so dry last week that the poor doblers had quit going to the creeks and lakes, and had resorted to ready-made instead...

And, according to a story in a weekly magazine, a correspondent for a newspaper in Texas could not give an up-to-date report on the rainfall — said he: "It rained two drops, and still falling."

What with all the taxes, the drought and everything, it could be expected.
"We received a news release this week from the ASCS office, and, according to the story, farmers are in a bad way. Says the story:
"Grazing and hayting privileges on cropland taken out of production under the ASCS Set-Aside program is now available free of charge to farmers."
Guess you city folks could regard along the fence rows or road rights-of-way.

COFFEE HOUSE COMMENT:
"Noticed they raised the skirt length a couple of inches this year (school policies); just hope I can hang around for a couple more years."

Charges set for garbage pickup

Starting date for the city's garbage and trash pick-up program has tentatively been set for August 15. Date was established in a special meeting last Thursday night, when city council also set residential rates and maximum size containers. Charge of $2.00 monthly was set for residences with more than one occupant, with an additional $1.00 charge per month for more than two containers per pick-up. Homes with only one resident will be charged $1.00 monthly for the two-week service. Charges for business firms are to be set according to number of trips necessary, officials decided.

The service will be mandatory in an effort to curb dumping in county roadside ditches or burning, which will be prohibited by city ordinance. State Air Control Board recently stopped the city from burning rubbish at the present city dump after repeated warnings, and, under state law, it is unlawful for businesses to dump refuse now.

"It would be only a matter of time before the state outlawed residential burning, so we're trying to handle our own problems," Mayor Lloyd Butts said.

VEE program

The tight agenda of the spread of (Venezuela Equine Encephalomyelitis) continues under the joint efforts of local, state and federal agencies. At the request of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Texas Animal Health Commission, the Texas Agriculture Extension Service has joined the fight in two ways, according to Stanley Oakley County Agent.

"First, we have organized a survey aided reporting service to help state and federal disease control officials minimize the spread of the infectious disease; and to gain some idea of how effective control programs that have already been designed to find out how many horses have died or have shown signs of the disease. Daily reports of disease by county Extension offices are relayed to district offices and in turn are telephoned to Joe Rothe, Assistant Extension Director and State Agricultural Agent. State technicians are relayed directly to USDA officials at the Headquarters office in Houston."

"Our second mission is to assist local veterinarians to organize mass immunization of all horses in the county," Oakley said. This is possible under the new regulation issued by Texas Animal Health authorities allowing the movement of horses for vaccination, even though they are quarantined, Oakley concluded.

Student schedules, enrollment at high school

Schedule checks for all residential students and pre-enrollment for new students will be held at Howe High School August 5 and 6, Principal L. H. Linker announced this week.

Seniors and Juniors should come to the high school on Thursday, August 5 from 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. Sophomores and freshmen are asked to report Friday, August 6.

between 9 and 4. All students are urged to come by and check their individual schedule and fill out enrollment cards. Linker added.

Lightning Hits Car; Woman Uninjured

A Howe woman narrowly escaped serious injury Monday after lightning struck her car at the corner of Fleming Street and Highway 5. Mrs. Pauline Hopper, employee of Bud-Rick Mig. here, had just followed by another heavy

Rains cover Northeast Texas area

Rainfall continued in the Howe area last Tuesday afternoon to break a severe drought of several weeks duration. City and rural measurements ranged to half an inch Saturday, with reports of an inch in some areas Monday, followed by another heavy downpour Tuesday. The rainfall was spotty throughout the North Texas area, however, with measurements varying in all areas.

The downpours persisted along and about 100 miles each side of a cool front which stalled across the state, generating at least one destructive tornado and a zone of wild thunderstorms late Monday.

National Weather Service observers reporting 11 inches of rain in two days around Brady in West Central Texas, put out a renewed flood warning for areas in San Saba County, the San Saba River, which already had risen to flood stage in places.

Another soaked area was in Central Texas around Killeen, where the measurement for two days reached 6.47 inches with 1.15 added during the night.

A writer bounded through the Lake Dallas area near Denton County, wrecking at least two trailer homes and two homes, smashing windows and damaging some roofs. Bill Garrett, 8, was dismissed after treatment of lacerations inflicted by flying debris.

For a short time Dallas, Denton and Tarrant counties were placed under a tornado warning.

Most of Monday's scattered and generally moderate storms ranged from Central into East and Southeast Texas, and a severe thunderstorm warning went up for the area embracing Beaumont, Port Arthur and Orange.

Free grazing on cropland

Grazing and hayting privilege on cropland taken out of production under the ASCS Set-Aside program and the Crop Land Adjustment Program (CLAP) is now available free of charge to Grayson County farmers. Previously, CAP acreage has not been approved, and also, a small charge and application was necessary before grazing or harvesting hay on set-aside acreage. According to the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office, the drought has been so persistent in Grayson County that farmers are liquidating their livestock herds. Grazing and harvesting of hay from this acreage should help to alleviate the situation.

Haying and grazing privileges on acreage under the CAP and set-aside programs is offered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture under emergency conditions. Grayson County is one of 100 counties approved in Texas for haying and grazing privileges.

Orderly conduct outlined in new school policies

REGULATIONS FOR JUNIOR HIGH AND HIGH SCHOOL

1. Suspension
Students guilty of flagrant disregard for school rules and regulations, or disobedience, when in the judgment of the principal the severity of the case warrants, the principal may suspend a student for a period of three days. At the end of this period, the student and his parents are to report to the principal's office. Students who are guilty of repeated misbehavior may be suspended indefinitely by the Board of Education.
2. Any student guilty of vandalism, theft, destruction of property, cheating, gambling, or forgery is subject to suspension.
3. The principals and teachers have jurisdiction over the student from the time he leaves home until he returns at the close of the school day. Misconduct which leaves home becomes a matter of school discipline if it involves the interest of the school. Regulations governing the discipline apply to all school sponsored contests either in or outside the school district. Such regulations also apply to participants in the contest as well as other students.
4. TRUNCAY
First offense: Student will be given an (unexcused absence, grade zero) for the day and shall be disciplined as deemed necessary by the principal.
Second Offense: Three day suspension (Unexcused absence grade zero). Three days will be deducted from the student's six weeks grade for each day of an unexcused absence. Both parents are to return to school with student for conference.
Third Offense: Dismissal for the semester.
5. Other Absences:
If a student may be excused for the following reasons: DEATH IN THE FAMILY, ILLNESS, PRINCIPAL'S DISCRETION. The grade remains zero until, on his own initiative, the student removes it. This must be done on agreement with the teacher within reasonable time.
Unexcused Absences for all reasons other than those listed under "excused" are unexcused. The grade will be a zero for each subject, plus three points will be deducted from the six weeks grade of each subject missed. When student is absent he shall not be eligible to participate in any school activity that day or night. All excuses must adhere to school Board policy and be acceptable to school authorities.
6. PARDONING:
If a student is tardy the time must be made up at the principal's discretion. The student who is constantly tardy may be subject to suspension.
7. SMOKING: Smoking is forbidden on campus, in school buildings, and at school sponsored activities. The penalty for violation of this regulation is the same as truancy.
8. Students are expected to conform to the established rules of good conduct and common courtesy in their relationship with teachers and fellow students and with the general public at all times.
9. CORPORAL PUNISHMENT:
If a student is found to take corporal punishment, when it is properly administered by the principal or one of the teachers will be suspended immediately. The student will remain suspended until he takes his punishment. The student will be given an unexcused absence for the time he is suspended. Corporal punishment should always be administered in the presence of one other (faculty member)
10. MAINTENANCE OF ORDERLY CONDUCT:
Students shall conduct themselves in keeping with their level of maturity, acting with due regard for the supervisory authority vested by the Board in all instances for the employees for the educational purpose underlying all school activities for the widely shared use of school property, and for the rights and welfare of other students.
Employees of the District shall share responsibility for supervising the behavior of students and for seeing that they meet the standards of conduct which in each instance is which an employee acts to help a student conduct himself properly. Emphasis shall be placed upon the growth of the student in ability to discipline himself.
11. Students are not to ride in the car with anyone other than a member of their immediate family at lunch. Students who eat at school must go to cafeteria and not eat in the classrooms.
12. Students leaving school.
(1) no student will leave school without the principal's (or person left in charge) permission.
(2) Students will not be allowed to go home for books, clothes or other minor needs, excluding emergencies.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Union Goo!

When Mike was fired from his job as a mechanic, the company called "noncompetent" as the main reason. But Mike thought the real reason was prejudice. At a hearing, the union started the grievance machine. But Mike still isn't satisfied, decided to file a damage suit against the union.

— AND ALL THIS WATER FELL OUT OF THE SKY!

They just didn't say "had" at the arbitration hearing, the union representatives did not know the facts of any case. Furthermore, they forgot to tell me the date of the hearing, so I wasn't even there. They also forgot to have me read of grievances.

The court decided that the union had to stand down on its job and would have to pay damages to standing up for the rights of its members.

Most courts agree. However, that does not mean a union is liable every time a member's grievance is turned down. As a practical matter, the law gives a union considerable leeway in deciding how to handle a particular grievance.

A legal matter case, involving a discharged worker, the union failed to stand up for arbitration at all. When the man took the matter to court, the union pointed out that it had repeatedly failed to do so.

Therefore, the court held that the union was exercising a legitimate discretion in not putting up a fight. A union that would lose arbitration and the court would lose its effectiveness.

Furthermore, an union may be liable in a grievance if the group of members of the union is negligent of the expense of another.

Two companies merged, releasing thousands of job seekers among their respective employees. The companies' management, the union worked at a compromise that left some men out of work. Could these men hold the union liable for "failing to represent" their interests?

No, said a court, so long as the union had acted in good faith. The judge ruled that "the complete satisfaction of all who are represented is hardly to be expected."
