THE HOWE ENTERPRISE, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1971, VOL. VIII—No. 16

I can understand a business having a tough time, even getting into debt. The reason this happens is because most businesses have a minimum expense they can go around, but have to earn and build the source of income. Government has a fixed income, known in advance. It ought to be able to operate debt free, it seems to me."

BULLDOGS IDLE THIS WEEK AFTER DISTRICT LOSS TO CELINA FRIDAY

Howe's Bulldogs battled the Celina Bobcats to a 0-0 deadlock for 20 minutes last Friday night, when a blocked punt, two minutes before half time, set the Bobcats on a 42-point scoring spree to gain undisputed lead in the district rivalry.

The dogs have an open date this week, then will face S&S here November 12, climaxing the season at Gallivanville on November 23.

The Bulldog defensive unit kept the Bobcats "in the hole" during the first 20 minutes, even though the offensive unit kept the ball for only 22 plays during the first half compared to 41 for the cats.
Howe's first punt carried into the end zone from their own 30, but the blocked kick shortly before half was covered on the Hows 13, with the Bobcats scoring in two plays. Conversion made 10-70.

Howe then fumbled away on the first offensive play to set the cats in motion again only 27 yards out. Celina cov-

Trustees Study School construction

School board members viewed diagrams for additional classrooms at the elementary building and of a new cafeteria, prepared by Bill Lightfoot, a Paris architect.
Although no official action was taken, members discussed the need for the new building program, at an estimated cost of $150,000. Taxpayers approved a $1,000,000 bond program here several years ago. Tentative layout shows two new classrooms and rest room facilities across the north end of the existing elementary school and a cafeteria (cafeteria with additional facilities, including a stage) in a separate building west of the new gym.

Firemen's Association names officers

Officers for the coming year were elected Tuesday night at a meeting of the Grayson County Volunteer Firemen's Association. The meeting was held in the Vocational Agriculture building here.
Officers include Dag Wortham, chief of fire president, John Haggard, Pottsville, Vice President, and Lloyd W. Butts of Howe, secretary-treasurer.

A committee was appointed to study the constitution of the organization, with recommendations for any changes to be brought before the group at the next meeting, slated in Pottsville. The group also decided that each group study their individual contracts with the county regarding rural fire protection.

Self evaluation program slated

A complete self-evaluation of the educational program is underway in the Howe Elementary and Secondary schools. The evaluation is being done by the Howe teachers and the administrators. Materials for the evaluation and a consultant are provided by the Administrative Services Department of Region X Education Service Center.

Mr. Charles Thompson, Superintendent of Schools, stated that this evaluation is being done voluntarily by the district in an attempt to improve the educational offerings to the students. Thompson added that upon completion of this study, the faculty and administration would have a better understanding of the present offerings, a set of recommendations or changes that need to be made in the future, and some new ideas about how these changes should take effect.

Committee members are held monthly. Mr. Wayne King and Mr. Joe Austin consultants or Region X are providing resource and consultative services for the study.

School will be dismissed at 2:00 p.m. on the days of these meetings. Dates for the meetings are as follows: November 12, 1971, January 10, February 14, March 13, April 17, and May 8. Committee meetings will be held at 2:30 p.m. in the home economics room at the high school.

County road bond issue carries; Howe votes "no" in light turnout

Howe voters turned down the countywide road bond proposal by more than two to one last Saturday. The issue passed by a slim majority, to finance right of way for new and improved road construction in the northern part of the county. Vote here was 43 for and 84 against. Most rural areas nixed the proposal, with Sherman and Denison approving the measure by small margins.

Denison and Sherman were moderately strongholds for the bonds, with Denison voting 83 for to 65 against. Sherman margin in favor of the bonds almost equaled the county-wide margin.

Two Denison boxes opposed the bond issue, the Fourth Ward, by a close count, and the Fifth Ward made decisive gains. Most surprising was the large Eighth Ward where the bonds gained only a two-vote margin, 167 for to 165 against.

The results also were spotted in Sherman, where one large box went heavily against the bonds. The Sherman totals were 94 for to 104 against.

Will not opposing the bonds during Sherman's Mayor's race, Gillespie built up to have the county bond issue expanded to vote the highway bonds, and strip within the corporate limits of Sherman and Denison.

The fifth Grayson attempt to vote the highway bonds was the first under a constitutional amendment changing the required majority from two-thirds to a simple majority.

In much heavier voting in recent years Grayson came close at least twice at reaching the then required two-thirds margin. The program approved in Saturday's voting provides for a new controlled-access section of 75 from Sherman along the west end of Denison, completion of U.S. 82 across the east half of the county, and extension of FM 1417 from U.S. 75 around the east edge of Sherman and Denison to return to U.S. 75 north of Denison.

Also included are several farm-market road projects, notably the improvement of FM 120 through Denison and Pottsville and on the Preston Peninsula and Lake Texoma.

Kiddies pictures to be featured

For many years the Enterprise has been running a special feature of the youngsters in this area as "Young Ideas." In the near future we will again be publishing free a picture of all the children who are brothers or sisters or other guardian to the Enterprise office between 11:00 A.M. and 7:00 P.M. on Wed. November 17, at the Enterprise office.

LIVING COLOR An expert children's photographer will take the pictures to assure uniform quality and size for color reproduction, and this year will be taken in natural living Color. Please dress your children colorfully to take full advantage of the beauty of Color photography. The pictures will run in black and white in the newspaper.

NO COST TO PARENTS There are absolutely no strings to this invitation nor are there any charges to the parents if they do not want to be subscribers or even readers of this newspaper to participate. Neither are the parents obligated to purchase any of the Color pictures taken.

Those who might desire Color photographs may obtain them by making an appointment with the Studio Representative when they select the pose they wish to be appointed in the Enterprise.

APPOINTMENTS Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Robert Helms phone number 532-5403. While appointments are not necessary to have your children photographed it could avoid your having to wait. Check this date on your calendar now Wednesday, November 17th and help make this a memorable community feature.

Grass and legumes for winter grazing

"How can I get more production from my improved pasture grasses?" This question being asked by many cattle producers. The answer is easy, an improved grass overseeded with a legume.

It has been known for a long time that the ideal pasture is an area of sufficient rainfall contains a combination of grass and legume. Clover and alfalfa a grass pasture makes for longer more nutritious forage does a higher quality forage at less cost than straight grass causes grazing animals to gain weight more rapidly and give more milk, and provide a longer grazing season in the same pasture.

One combination that has achieved notable success in this area is a coastal and crimson clover mixture. Crimson is a clover that furnishes great early and late season feed and seeds out early in the spring. It is adapted to over-crowded sandy soils. Legume 54 white clover is one that works well in both coastal and fence and is adapted to bottomland soil.

Other blackland soils. Aromated clover is a new legume that is showing promise on our sandy soils.

Many others such as vetch, lupine, peas, lucerne or black medick clover can increase production as well as good productivity in nearly all of the improved pastures in the area. However, management of a grass-legume mixture and fertilizer problems are complex ones with all grass pastures.

Assistance and information on these problems can be obtained from the local Soil Conservation Service Office assisting the Upper Elbow Soil and Water Conservation District.

Treatment of peach trees needed now

"Now is the time to examine the trunk of peach trees for signs of scale," said Grayson County Agent Stanley Oakley. The work may be caused by the larvae of peachtree beetles feeding in the trunk of the tree.

Treatment for peachtree borers is parathion-labeled IP-120 crystals applied to the tree trunk. Two to three inches of parathion must be removed from around the tree trunk for about a foot. Place the PDB crystals in a circular band around the tree about 2 inches from the trunk. A pound of dirt 6 inches high should be piled against the tree without allowing the crystals to touch the tree. Leave the mound until the crystals have been to the original ground line.

Two to three years old trees require about 1/2 ounce of PDB crystals per tree, and four to five year old trees need about 3/4 ounce per tree. A mature tree requires 1 ounce of PDB crystals per tree, according to the County Agent.
