

Howe's That

Sports parents of 4-6 year-old kids lose their ever loving minds. When their kid reaches about 10, they've figured it out. Middle school and junior varsity sees the best mannered parents. By then they've become well trained on reality and expectations. But when the sports parent moves to varsity, they revert back to the 4-6 year-old parent who loses their ever loving mind.

With the loss by the Howe Bulldogs to rival Van Alstyne Panthers and things overheard in the stands by Bulldogs fans, it's a reminder that "woulda coulda shoulda" is still undefeated. Second-guessers are the only ones in the history of the world that are undefeated and unscored on.

Think this presidential election is packed with ugly one-liners? How about when Lyndon Johnson said about Gerald Ford: "So dumb he can't fart and chew gum at the same time."

Here's some more quotes from presidents:

"People say I'm indecisive, but I don't know about that." - George H.W. Bush

"Blessed are the young, for they shall inherit the national debt." - Herbert Hoover

"If I were two-faced, would I be wearing this one?" - Abraham Lincoln

Spiked Punch; VA continues streak over Howe, 39-36

The Howe Bulldogs (4-3, 0-2) were seeking victory for seeding position in District 5-3A as well as stopping a nine game winning streak by Van Alstyne (5-1, 1-1) in the Silver Spike. Howe's last win came back in 2000 in the series. The Bulldogs led for the vast majority of the football game, but a costly interception and an unsuccessful fourth down conversion allowed the Panthers to escape with a come from behind, 39-36 win in the fourth quarter to extend their streak over Howe to 10 games.

For the first time in school history, the Bulldogs rushed for over 400 yards and lost. Back in 1969, Howe rushed for 386 yards against Leonard and lost, 37-22.

But this game was remarkably similar to the 29th Battle of the Silver Spike in 1986 when Howe led for the majority of the game and victory seemed probable until a late fourth quarter comeback and a 22-19 Van Alstyne win despite Howe loading up with 409 yards of total offense. Friday night, Van Alstyne won the coin toss and elected to receive the football to start the game. They wasted no time in scoring with a 7-play, 65 yard drive that was ended when Panther sophomore quarterback Gage Proctor hit junior receiver Chase Wilson for a 17-yard screen pass for a touchdown. The extra point attempt by Scott Taylor was

Benefit golf tourney for Derek Lands successful

It was announced a few weeks back that there would be a charity golf tournament benefiting longtime Howe Lady Bulldogs coach Derek Lands. Lands who is battling colorectal cancer is currently going through radiation treatment.

Over 100 players and 28 teams formed at Stone Creek Golf Course in Sherman on a beautiful Saturday afternoon to raise money for the upcoming medical bills Lands will be faced with. The golf scramble included a silent auction, hole sponsorship and t-shirt sales brought an estimated gross receipt total in the $20,000 range.

Lands, age 49, is one of the winningest girls varsity basketball coaches in the State of Texas. According to Jack Walker, of the Van Alstyne Leader, he has racked up 352 of them. Lands began treatment with a procedure on Monday, September 19 which kept him in the hospital for nearly a week. But just a few days later, the tall soft-spoken coach was already back at work in his coaching office at Howe High School.

Your pool and the "West Nile and Zika Viruses"

by Par Pool and Spas

Swimming pools, both in ground & aboveground are a great source of clean, clear summer fun & family enjoyment. However, good, continuous care must be given to properly treat the water when the pool is not being used. For health reasons, the pool must be properly sanitized & balanced (pH, Total Alkalinity, Water Hardness). The filter system must operate daily to clean the water.

What has all of this got to do with the "West Nile and Zika viruses?" Lots. A swimming pool that is left to stagnate & turn green with algae or other "undesirable conditions" will be a tremendous breeding ground for mosquitoes & other insect pests. Mosquitoes fly in, lay their eggs & go. A pool that is not properly maintained will allow this to happen. Mosquitoes must have water to breed so make sure there is no standing water in the yard. Actually, it only takes a week for standing water to become a breeding ground for mosquitoes.

Preventative Measures

1. Run the pool filter daily about 12 hr. as a minimum. This will prevent stagnation.
 2. Maintain the pool's Sanitizer in the recommended range.
 3. Regularly clean, vacuum & brush the pool walls & surfaces to remove any type of bio-film that will attract mosquitoes.
 4. Add an initial dosage of a good quality quaternary algacide (such as BioGuard® Back Up).
- Algacides such as Back Up® not - only prevent algae; they also work as a surfactant in the pool water.

5. If the pool is to be covered, make sure the cover is completely drained of excess water. Observe the warnings issued by the local health authorities regarding standing, stagnant water.
 6. Delay winterizing the pool until mid-October when we've had our first freeze and mosquitoes have been killed.
 7. Delay winterizing to prevent buildup of standing water on the pool cover.
 8. Covered pools must be kept completely free of leaves & other debris. Debris & water left on the cover will decay over time providing a breeding area for mosquitoes & other insect pests.
 9. Make sure floats, equipment and pool toys are stored so they will not collect water.
 10. When backwashing makes sure the water does not collect or puddle in the yard.
 11. Check planting pots to make sure they are not holding water.

Swimming pools are a great center for family health & fun. In times of drought, they can also be a good source of clean potable water. Let's keep them clean & sanitary! Pool products are intended for swimming pool use only. Do not use any swimming pool or spa product as a larvaecide or treatment of water outside of the pool or spa. It is a violation of federal law to use a registered product inconsistent with its labeling directions. All pools are to be drained into the sanitary sewer.

no good and the Panthers led early, 6-0. Howe's first possession started at their own 29 yard line and the offense moved quickly taking 2:51 off the clock on six plays and scored on a 1-yard Tyler Grisham plunge. Howe took their first lead, 7-6, of the night with Brice Honaker's PAT.

Van Alstyne traveled 68 yards on their next possession and scored on a 13-yard touchdown by Levi Jones, who came in with 853 yards, the sixth most rushing yards in the area. The drive took 2:29 off of the clock. Jones also ran in the 2-point conversion and Van Alstyne led Howe 14-7 with 2:21 left in the first.

Howe's second possession of the night was a typical Bulldogs style of three yards and a could of dust, er, rubber pellets in this turf case. Howe held the ball for 13 plays and went 87 yards, taking the remaining 2:21 of the first quarter and the first 3:54 of the second quarter. Jaden Matthews crossed the goal line from the 2 yard line and Honaker's PAT tied the game at 14.

Howe got a great Silver Spike gift on the first play of the Panther's next drive as Jones coughed it up and Tanner Hartsfield recovered the fumble that gave Howe the ball at the Van Alstyne 36 yard line. Five plays later, Howe quarterback Brandon Wall scampered up the middle for 16 yards and a touchdown. Howe took the lead, 21-14 after Honaker's PAT with 6:05 left in the second quarter. The Panthers answered right back with a 3:02 drive that went 6 plays and 65 yards. Another hookup of Proctor to Wilson for 14 yards did the trick for Van Alstyne. But again Taylor missed a PAT attempt and Howe retained the one point lead, 21-20 with 3:03 left before half.

The Bulldogs tried to take the remaining 3:03 off of the clock and score, but came up empty after a 9-play drive ended in Wall's first interception of the night on a last-second attempt at points before the half. Howe Head Coach Zack Hudson opted to not try a 48-yard field goal with one second left with arguably the best kicker in school history, instead throwing the ball which ended in the turnover. Howe held the slimmest of leads at 21-20 heading into the halftime locker room.

Since the Panthers started the game with the ball, Howe had a golden opportunity to extend the lead and obtain some breathing room as they started with the ball to being the second half. Howe started at their own 25 yard line and drove 75 yards on seven plays. Grisham took it over from six yards out for his second touchdown of the night. Howe was completely in control for the moment with an eight point lead at 28-20 with 7:52 left in the third. Van Alstyne then put together a Bulldog-like drive that kept Howe's defense on the field for 15 plays and 6:37 seconds taking most of the third quarter away. At the one yard line, Jones tried to carry it over and was stripped of the ball by Hartsfield who ran from the one to midfield before the officials blew the whistle and said that Jones was down before the ball came out. Van Alstyne tried to quickly snap the new ball that was delivered in the game before Hartsfield could get back to the line of scrimmage. With the Howe linebacker having to come out of the game, Van Alstyne's Proctor scored on a quarterback sneak on a 1-yarder to narrow the gap to 28-26 with only 1:15 left in the third quarter. Howe held Jones back for the 2-point conversion attempt.

Trading punches was the name of the game as neither defense had much of an answer to either offense. Howe's next possession started at their own 43 yard line. Grisham, who was a horse for Howe with 202 yards on the night, converted multiple fourth down conversions with the help of lead blocker Hartsfield. Time and time again, Offensive Coordinator Dale West called Grisham's number to get them the needed one or two yards for the first down. In this situation, Grisham was good for around eight yards in each scenario. But with Howe facing a 4th and 3 at the Van Alstyne 36, Grisham was turned away in that situation for the first time of the night and Howe turned the ball over on downs with 9:31 left in the game leaving the door cracked for a late Panther comeback. To make matters worse for the 'Dogs, a personal foul occurred at the end of the play and instead of the Panthers starting at their own 36 yard line, they got the ball in Howe territory at the 49.

Howe's new librarian reaping the rewards of hard work and faith

Melissa Atchison feeling at home at Howe Community Library.

Melissa Atchison was born in North Central Arkansas in a little town called Batesville. After many moves, the family landed in Plano, Texas in 1974 when Parker Road west of US Highway 75 was a gravel road. A Plano Senior High School graduate of 1978 and a University of North Texas graduate of 1982, Atchison started her working career as an estate administrator with Nations Bank for ten years.

"I would probably still be doing that, but our oldest daughter (Catherine) was born in '92 and I quit to stay home with her."

Not long afterwards, in 1994, the family moved to Van Alstyne away from the Metroplex. Two years later in '96, second daughter Amanda was born.

"When I went back to work, I knew I needed it to be something with the schools because I wanted summers off," said Atchison. "It was too far to commute to downtown Dallas where there was a trust department, so I just ended up at the library. I was volunteering at the elementary library and decided that would be a good place for me. I thought it would be a fate worse than death to be in a classroom full of kids the whole time. I had helped set up our church library and I thought, 'this is what I need to do. I need to be in the library.'"

Atchison then went back to school to get her Master of Library Science degree at Texas Women's University in Denton. She learned there that she had to spend a minimum of two years in the classroom to be a certified school librarian in the State of Texas. Now she was staring at a two year sentence of what she thought was fate worse than death.

"I go to the Methodist church in Van Alstyne and there's a Wee School there and a lot of the Wee School teachers were certified teachers who had put their careers on hiatus while their kids were little." said Atchison. "They told me that there were no part-time teaching positions available and they won't let you job share here and it's not going to work. I was still going to try so I emailed all three principals at Van Alstyne and the next day I got a response from the middle school saying, 'you're never going to believe this, but I have a two year part-time position open next year.' God opens doors and I walk through them like that when it's that obvious."

As it turned out, it was a much better fate than she anticipated and she spent 12 years as a classroom teacher.

"I ended up loving being in the classroom," said Atchison.

She ended up teaching sixth grade language arts in Van Alstyne for those 12 years through last school year. While she loved teaching, she was patiently waiting the librarian position to open in Van Alstyne. About 10 years ago, most ISDs in Texas decided that they needed just one certified librarian on staff. This limited her opportunities.

In keeping up with mandatory CPET (Center for the Professional Education of Techers) credits, she attended classes in Austin this summer and took some library courses to keep up with her certifications. During that trip to Austin, she attended the Texas Association of School Library Administrators, she realized that now was the time to move forward with her goal of being a library administrator.

"I just decided, it's time," said Atchison. "I've got to use this MLS (Masters of Library Science). That's where I wanted to be in the first place."

From that decision, she went online

You Might Be From Texas if...

You may have noticed in last week's edition a new featured cartoon of the week for the Howe Enterprise. The cartoons are from a book entitled You Might Be From Texas If... which is a publication full of cartoon drawings by Nick Anderson of the Houston Chronicle.

Anderson cannot remember a day that he was not drawing. The youngest child of 11 bought his first book in cartooning in fifth grade.

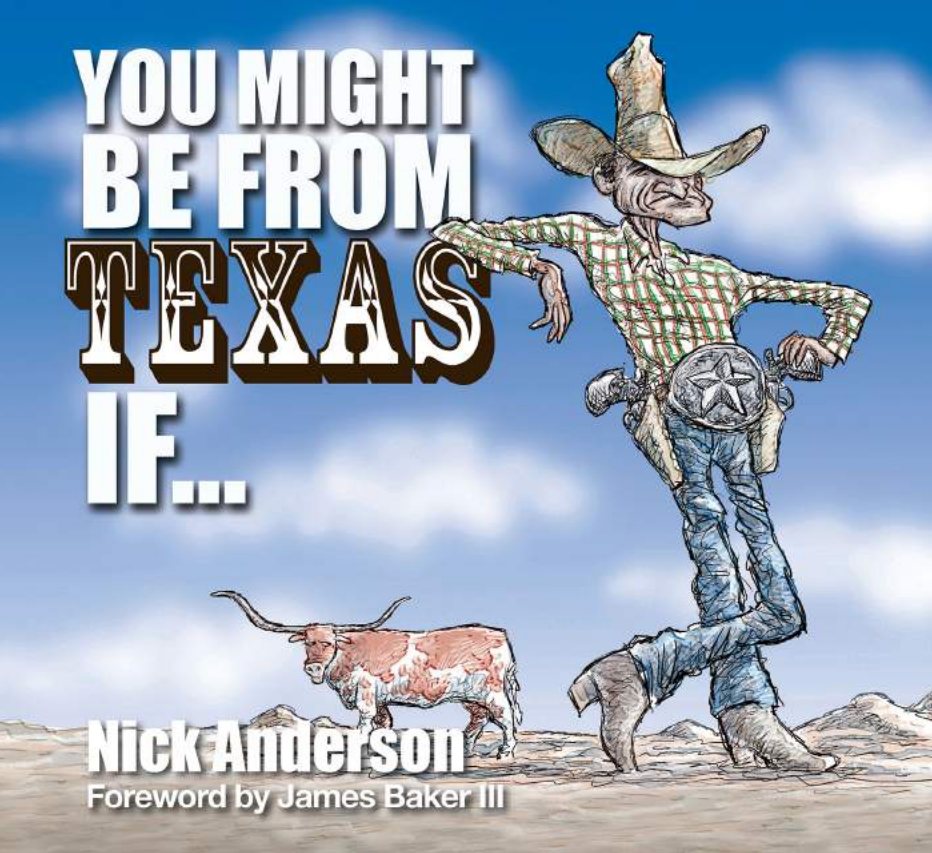

"My dad was a biochemist and I just loved drawing. I told my dad I wanted to be a cartoonist and he laughed and laughed and laughed. I got my first laugh talking about cartoons, not actually from an actual cartoon." Anderson joked. "He told me 'there's as many people that could fit in a phone booth that is drawing editorial cartoons in this country.' I was never good at math so I decided to do it anyway."

Anderson did editorial cartoons for his high school newspaper and his college newspaper at Ohio State.

"I lucked out and I got a job right out of college and I've never had a real job and I plan to keep it that way." said Anderson.

Cartoon

Anderson got his start with the Courier Gazette in Louisville, Kentucky where he stayed for 15 years before moving to the Houston Chronicle a little over 10 years ago.

Being in Texas for over 10 years has given him the true experience of the title of the book. "I couldn't have done this in the first two years. I had to be here a little while. Even then I had to enlist the help of some natives.

Anderson said that he had to completely learn about Texas during that time and that one of the biggest shocks to him were the high school football homecoming mums and the gargantuan sizes of them.

"The first time I saw them, I thought,'what the heck is going on there.'" Anderson laughed.

He says his favorite cartoon changes from day to day but right now seems to be, "You might be from Texas if...you're gun collection is larger than the pentagon's."

"One thing that I've found in my research is that there's a handful of these things floating around out there." said Anderson. "There's a few lists of "you might be from Texas if..."

and about 60 percent of these are completely mine and 20 percent are ideas that friends gave me and about 20 percent are ideas that were out there already. We didn't want to leave those on the table. We wanted this to be a pretty comprehensive list of things about Texas. So basically I just illustrated it and I think the drawings really do add to the content. It really does crystallize the idea and make it funnier."

Anderson is currently working on cartoons for the presidential election and says that the circus that it is makes it really easy to draw.

"I tend to lean to the left and when I got the job offer here in Houston, I was like, 'have you seen my cartoons?'" said Anderson. "You want me to come to Texas? Are they going to run me out on a rail?"

Anderson does get a lot of feedback and people will email him and tell him how "stupid" he is. "That just means I'm just doing my job. I was thrilled to get James Baker to write the forward. He's one of the old-style Republicans that I really respect." said Anderson.

There could be a follow-up second volume if this one is successful. "The population of Texas is sure big enough to support it, but we'll just have to see if it catches on." said Anderson.

Pride of Howe Marching Band faced larger schools in competition

The Howe High School Marching Band failed to make the finals this weekend. It was not due to a bad performance as one spectator said that "Howe knocked it out of the park." Making the trip were 32 bands to Princeton's "Sounds of Fall" in which more than half of the competition came from schools much larger with 4A, and even a 5A and 6A programs. Band Director Angie Liss said that they had a really good run and some great scores and wonderful comments from the judges.

Faith by Debbie Wallis

“There is therefore now no condemnation for those who are in Christ Jesus,” Romans 8:1.

David grew up the youngest son in a large family and looked after the sheep and ran errands to his older brothers. He gained a level of faith in God which few men had. David defeated Goliath using a sling and a stone solely because of his faith in God. Shortly afterwards he moved into the palace with Saul and lived a life of a warrior for the next 7 years. His abilities and bravery earned him great popularity and King Saul became jealous and obsessed with wanting him dead. For the next 13 years David ran and hid from Saul but refused to raise a sword against him. David had a listening heart towards the Lord during those years of persecution and when he learned that King Saul had committed suicide he waited for the Lord to guide him. God lead David to the town Judah where he was content to serve God with a small army. Eventually David returned to Jerusalem and became King of Israel. David wanted to build God a temple to show gratitude and love. The reply from God was that David's son, Solomon, would build the temple and that God wanted to build David's house (2 Sam. 7:4-13). A detailed promise was given to David by the prophet Nathan. Read 2 Samuel 7 to learn more. Jesus is in the lineage of David and the remainder of the promise will be fulfilled through Him. King David messed up so many times yet is remembered as "a man after God's own heart," 1 Samuel 13:14. His story is a reminder that despite our sins we can find favor in God's sight, through the sacrifice of Jesus Christ.

Everything began to flourish when David became King but he lost the contentment he had in battle; his strength was also his weakness. David added 5 more wives while he was king. I've wondered if this is where Satan knew he could get David's attention to turn to Bathsheba. If David had given his whole heart to his first love he would not been tempted that day on the balcony. “And David sent someone to find out about her. The man said, “She is Bathsheba, the daughter of Eliam and the wife of Uriah the Hittite,” 2 Samuel 11:3. God warned him that this woman was not his to take. Bathsheba's husband was a loyal servant in David's army and even followed him to the wilderness when he ran from Saul. David ignored what was right and chose what was wrong. At that decision making moment he didn't care what God had called him to do, he wanted Bathsheba. David's home fostered rebellion from that day forward. "Thus says the LORD, 'Behold, I will raise up evil against you from your own household; I will even take your wives before your eyes and give them to your companion, and he will lie with your wives in broad daylight. Indeed you did it secretly, but I will do this thing before all Israel, and under the sun.'" Then David said to Nathan, "I have sinned against the LORD." And Nathan said to David, "The LORD also has taken away your sin; you shall not die. However, because by this deed you have given occasion to the enemies of the LORD to blaspheme, the child also that is born to you shall surely die," 2 Samuel 12:11-14. David was the greatest king that Israel had ever had but he failed as a husband and a father. All of his trouble that followed was a direct result of his rebellious and undisciplined influence to his sons. David had a calling on his life and he knew it. He was an amazing warrior king in battles but he failed to battle his own war. He lost the description of his true calling when he stayed home and sent his General into battle instead. When we aren't active in our gifts and talents we become distracted, restless and a target for the devil's lies. If David had been the warrior king he was anointed and called to be he would not have been home hanging out on the roof watching another man's wife. Instead he would have been leading the way with passion against the enemies of the Lord. David wasn't looking for sin but sin found him not active in his calling. Sometimes what we think will bring us happiness brings our greatest heartaches. David had killed tens of thousands of enemies. He persevered under great difficulties. He slept years in caves in the wilderness waiting on the Lord. He kept his eyes on the calling of God no matter how long it took. In his battles he relied on the truth of God but when life was easy he took a back seat and that's when Satan showed up. “Be alert and of sober mind. Your enemy the devil prowls around like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour,” 1 Peter 5:8.

David separated himself from the army he was called to lead. He isolated himself and gave way to his enemy the devil. We are at that same risk and we all sin. Adam had no worries in the Garden; beautiful wife, talked to God in the cool of each day, everything was given to him without worries; yet he sinned. If Adam could be distracted by sin then so can I! If David could be that weak when he was that strong, then so I can. We are capable of the most blatant sin if we are given the right isolation and presented with the right temptation. Don't isolate yourself from other believers. Don't entertain sinful thoughts. We have to plan ahead to turn and run from our temptation! “But each person is tempted when they are dragged away by their own evil desire and enticed. Then, after desire has conceived, it gives birth to sin; and sin, when it is full-grown, gives birth to death,” James 1:14-15. David could have confessed his sin immediately but instead he weaved a web of cover up. Manipulation NEVER works out. Bathsheba got pregnant. David then had her husband, his loyal servant, killed on the battle field. His cover up made no sense and what he thought would make him happy was now a monster that would not be tamed. All of this came from a warrior king who showed himself excellent in battle. When we panic we open ourselves up to crazy logic and thinking! Telling the truth when we sin is hard to do because of the fear of punishment or loss of respect. We use terms like “I made a mistake”, “I didn't know”, “It was a bad choice”, “I was wrong” but we avoid the word sin. Confessing, “I sinned” is where the walls of lies come down. Fear blames others, makes excuses and matters get worse. When you lie you put yourself in Satan's territory. You may have gotten what you wanted but now it feels like a bed of copperheads. Your life is not over and you have not ruined God's plan for you. It's never been about us getting it right. It's about Christ Who makes us right. God is not disappointed in you. He already knew where you'd mess up and it didn't shock Him. Jesus took all your sins, your regrets, your shame and your heartaches and paid the price of death on the cross for you. His grace is unmerited but freely provided. God is opposite of our logic. When we go after what makes us happy we become miserable. God loves you exactly where you are. His joy is more than happiness and different than the happiness we can supply for ourselves. You can know real joy in the midst of real tragedy just by saying yes to Jesus.

"The LORD does not look at the things people look at. People look at the outward appearance, but the LORD looks at the heart," 1 Samuel 16:7. If you don't have a Bible please contact me at sfadebbie@yahoo.com and I will provide you one.

“Halloween” dates back to the Celts, a tribal people who lived two millennia ago chiefly in Britain and parts of Europe. On the night of October 31, Samhain, a harvest festival celebrated the official end of summer. Celtic households extinguished their hearths to deliberately make their houses cold and undesirable to disembodied spirits. Some Celtic families dressed in weird costumes as demons, hobgoblins and other malevolent creatures, and masks to disguise themselves from the evil-minded spirits or paraded in costumes through villages to lure the spirits away.

Later on, invading Roman armies brought their own harvest festival dedicated to Pomona, a goddess of fertility and orchard crops such as apples and nuts. Pomona’s festival was held nearly the same time as Samhain, thus the two celebrations were melded together. Harvest fest during the Victorian era was not only about spirits but also about romance. Girls and young women employed a number of divination spells to try to identify their future husbands and predict the course of their marriage.

Did you ever wonder why we bob for apples at Halloween parties? The winner of this game was thought to be the first who would marry.

When Christianity swept over Britain and Europe, many pagan celebrations were turned into Christian observances. Pope Boniface IV created All Saints Day in May of 610 AD to remember early Christian martyrs. Pope Gregory III moved the commemoration to November 1 in 835 AD. All Saints Day was also known as All Hallows and the day before as Hallows Eve or Even. Over time, October 31 came to be called Halloween.

When England began founding colonies in America, colonists brought their holiday customs with them. Puritan New England banned Halloween whereas the middle colonies, such as New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, preserved Halloween traditions.

The custom of hollowing out and carving turnips with demon faces and lighting a candle within is a Celt tradition. Immigrants to America found few turnips but plentiful pumpkins in their new land. The “Jack o’lantern” takes its name from an Irish folktale of a sinner named Jack who was condemned by the Devil to carry a coal in a hollowed out turnip until Judgment Day.

One of the most sought after Halloween collectibles are pulp/papier mache jack-o-lanterns. There are clues that you want to look for to determine if your jack is American or German. American jacks are larger, made of “egg-carton” material, with cutouts for eyes and mouth with paper inserts, and the bottom and body are one piece. The German jacks from 1900-1930s are generally smaller, made of composition or cardboard, with cutouts for eyes, nose and mouth with inserts, and have attached cardboard bottoms. Jack-o-lanterns are valued by size and condition. The following are for perfect containers with perfect inserts. American: 4” $95, 5” $145, 6” $185, 7” $225; German compo 4” $275, 5” $350, molded 3” $110-6” $275. One book listed an exquisite German 1908-1912 papier-mache pumpkin lantern with compo wash, perfect original paper inserts 4.5” at $5,000!

Texas History Minute:

Dr. Ken Bridges

Dr. Bridges is a Texas native, writer, and history professor. He can be reached at drkenbridges@gmail.com.

Lloyd Bentsen was a businessman, veteran, and four-term U. S. Senator. He was a hard worker and respected by Texans as he attempted to step up into the national spotlight. Bentsen was a gentle giant in Texas politics, a gentleman in a time in which politics was becoming increasingly bitter.

Lloyd Millard Bentsen, Jr., was born in Mission in South Texas in 1921. His grandfather had been a Danish immigrant who came to the United States and started a farm in South Dakota. His father, Lloyd Bentsen, Sr., arrived in the Rio Grande Valley at age 24 in 1918 to improve his fortunes. He arrived penniless and grew to become one of the most important businessmen and ranchers in the region.

The future senator grew up on his father’s ranch until he graduated high school. He attended the University of Texas, earning a law degree by 1942. With America fighting World War II, he enlisted in the U. S. Army Air Force and rose to command a squadron of B-24 bombers. He flew thirty-five missions and earned the Distinguished Flying Cross. He was honorably discharged after the war as a lieutenant colonel but would serve in the reserves from 1950 to 1959.

He returned to Hidalgo County and won election as county judge for Hidalgo County in 1946. He was elected to Congress in 1948, unopposed in each of three terms. He was a respected figure in Congress and worked closely with Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, a fellow Texan. With a wife and growing family, Bentsen stepped down from Congress in 1955 and started a successful insurance company in Houston and also served on the board of directors of several energy companies.

In 1970, Bentsen re-entered politics, challenging liberal Sen. Ralph Yarbrough in the Democratic Primary. Bentsen scored a surprise win in the hard-fought contest. In spite of the divisive primary, Yarbrough endorsed Bentsen in the fall contest, the Democrats united, and Bentsen went on to win against George H. W. Bush with a comfortable 53% of the vote.

In 1975, Bentsen announced a run for president. However, his efforts faltered and lost the Democratic nomination to former Georgia governor Jimmy Carter. Nevertheless, Bentsen’s career rebounded and he won re-election easily in 1976 and 1982.

He was a moderate politically. He supported civil rights, environmental protection, and the Equal Rights Amendment, while promoting deregulation and business interests. His expertise in business and finance was recognized by both parties. In 1983, he became chairman of the Joint Economic Committee. By 1987, Bentsen had become chairman of the influential Senate Finance Committee, a position he would hold for six years.

Gov. Michael Dukakis of Massachusetts won the Democratic nomination for president in 1988 and quickly chose Bentsen as his running mate. It would be a rematch of sorts from 1970, but on a national scale, as George H. W. Bush won the Republican nomination. The Dukakis campaign, however, quickly faltered after a series of missteps. In the vice-presidential debate, Bentsen uttered one of the memorable lines of the whole campaign. Then-Indiana Sen. Dan Quayle attempted to compare his experience to President John F. Kennedy when Bentsen replied, “I knew Jack Kennedy. Jack Kennedy was a friend of mine. Senator, you’re no Jack Kennedy.”

As much as his performance in the debate and on the campaign trail energized Democrats nationally, the ticket was defeated that November and Bush became president. In spite of the defeat in the presidential election, Bentsen was able to win re-election to the Senate at the same time.

In 1993, President Bill Clinton appointed him as Secretary of the Treasury. He reigned in 1994 as his health began to decline. He was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom for his service in 1999. He died at his home in Houston in 2006.

and found that there were positions available all over North Texas including Melissa, Frisco, Princeton, Howe and others.

"I looked at all of the school's websites and found a little bit about the schools that I didn't already know." said Atchison.

She applied at only one school and that being Howe and she did so with only having one day to spare before the job posting closed. With a mad scramble to get her resume and cover letter all together in time, she turned it in on Monday and received a phone call on Tuesday from Superintendent Kevin Wilson. They set up a meeting for that Thursday and she was offered the position on Friday.

"It's another God thing and I really do believe that." said Atchison. "I felt like it was just out of my hands and I was just kind of following the path. I don't believe in coincidences. I just feel like this is where I'm supposed to be."

Not knowing former Howe librarian and newly retired Becky Hogenson, Atchison did get to transition for a few days with her. She says that everyone is so friendly and welcoming and has had nothing but positive experiences so far.

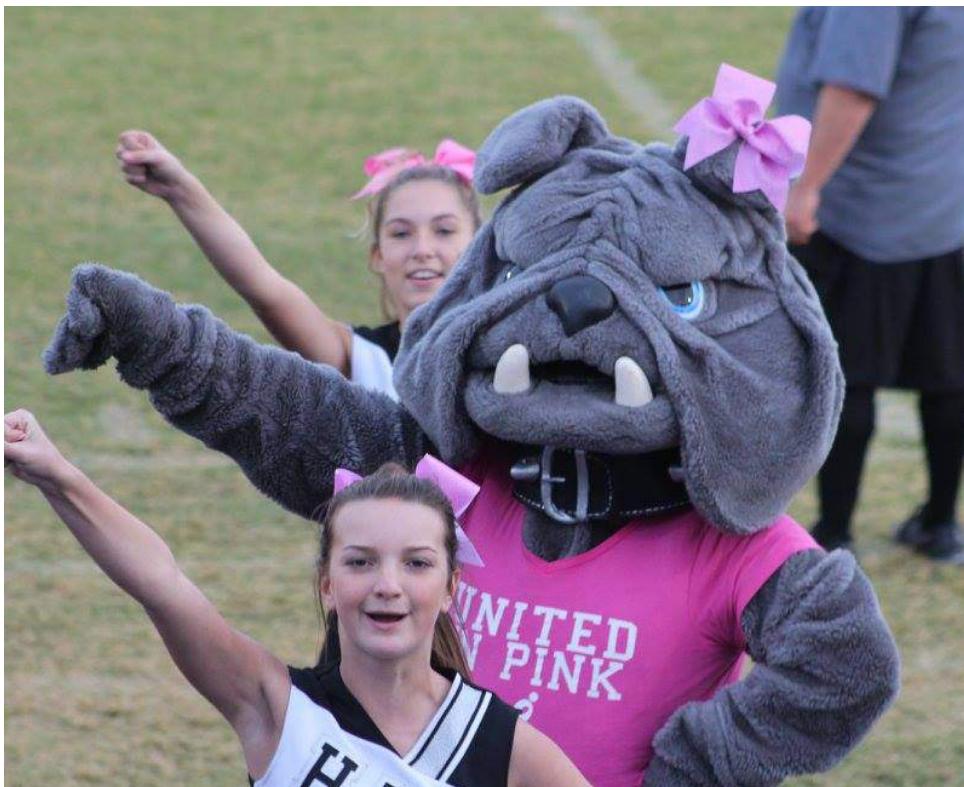

The soft-spoken new librarian has not made the complete transition from Van Alstyne to Howe as evident when talking about the Silver Spike. Her husband Jim is a Van Alstyne school board member and she taught most of the kids playing for Van Alstyne.

"It would be really hard to cheer against them. I don't think I've been here long enough for my loyalties to have completely altered that fast." Atchison joked. "It's a big week and we have a lot of ties to the school."

Jim and Melissa Atchison's daughters both graduated from Van Alstyne High School. Oldest Catherine is now a CPA, working in downtown Dallas at Price Waterhouse Cooper while Amanda is now in college at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville.

Many can look at west Parker Road in 2016 and never imagine the gravel road it once was 42 years ago. Many can also look at the career of an experienced educator and never imagine a fear of fate worse than death. But growth, goals, patience and faith will blossom a slippery gravel road into a solid sturdy base ready for the traffic He has prepared.

JV and eighth grade win; seventh grade loses

The Howe JV beat Van Alstyne's JV, 30-14. Layton Elvington threw two touchdown passes to Spencer Akins. Devin Porter rushed for a score as well as Akins.

The Howe eighth grade also won, 40-34. Noah Campbell, Ethan Sanders and Clay Barnett all scored in the win.

Howe's seventh grade fell to Van Alstyne.

Howe's 5th and 6th grade finish one game short of Super Bowl, 12-6

The Howe Bulldogs' 5th and 6th grade team came up one game short of the Super Bowl in a 12-6 loss to the Bells who is the number one ranked team in the Red River league.

Trailing 12-6 with just over six minutes left, the Bulldogs started a drive that would take the remaining time off of the clock. Quarterback A.J. Haley threw a pass that sailed mere inches from the outstretched arms of receiver Ryan Hough who had beat his defender deep down the field. The catch would have tied the game with seconds left, but the pass fell incomplete. One last heave to Cooper Jones fell incomplete and Bells escaped with the win.

Howe's Carson Daniels threw a halfback pass to Cooper Jones for Howe's lone score of the afternoon as the Bells defensive line blitzed and have Howe's offensive line fits all day. Haley and Hough, who connected on numerous touchdowns throughout the year were unable to connect but twice due to the pressure from the Panther defense.

This was a hard-hitting slug fest which saw several Howe and Bells players banged up. Howe was without slot back and linebacker Jacob Campbell to a broken arm prior to the game. At one point in the game, Howe was without Jones, Campbell, Tate Harvey and Marshall Larsen who were all banged up.

The coaches Michael Portman, Monte Walker and Thomas Troxtell wish to express their gratitude to all of the parents for their outstanding cooperation this season. They had an emotional talk with the team after the game.

The Bulldogs (8-1) matched up rotating their front three lineman with the Blue Ridge Tigers (6-1) in and bringing pressure off the edges the second round of the playoffs on with linebackers.

Saturday in Leonard. Howe scored on the first series with quarterback Garren Lankford on a 65-yard scamper to the end zone. The Bulldogs would struggle on defense slowing down a good running game by the Tigers . The Dogs would score again on their second possession with another Lankford option carry and take a 13-12 lead to the halftime break.

The Bulldogs would make adjustments at the half on defense that would prove to be the game changer in the second half game

The Dogs would dominate second half play with Lankford scoring his third of the day followed up with tailback Braden Ulmer adding two additional touchdowns. Lankford also capped off with a conversion with a nice throw and catch with wide receiver Triston Williams.

The 8-1 Bulldogs will play the 8-0 Tom Bean Tomcats for the Red River Super Bowl title at noon this coming Saturday at S&S Rams Stadium.

1st and 2nd grade bow out of playoffs, 26-23 to S&S

The K-2nd grade Howe Bulldogs traveled to Leonard to play the S&S Rams in the second round of the playoffs on Saturday. The Bulldogs started off strong with a touchdown by Kendall O'Brien and another scored by Riken Cross. At half time the Bulldogs were tied 13-13.

In the second half, the Rams scored two touchdowns and won 26-13.

The Bulldogs lost but had a great season with a 5-3 record. The defense was led by Buttery, Charles Fuhr, Samantha Fuhr, and Noah Fox. Offense led by Emerson Stephens, Kendall O'Brien, and Riken Cross.

The coaches said that they were very proud of the team and what they did this year.

scoring in three plays and ending the drive on a 16-yard pass and catch from Proctor to senior receiver Grayson Leinart. Van Alstyne took the lead for the first time since the first quarter and led 32-28 after another missed PAT with 7:17 left to go in the game.

The Bulldogs needed to go 74 yards to regain the lead. After converting another fourth down play, on first down Howe decided to throw the ball from their own 37 yard line. That proved to be costly as senior safety Landon Pardee intercepted the ball at the Van Alstyne 22 yard line. One play later, Jones outran the defense for a 78-yard touchdown. The score stretched the Van Alstyne lead to 39-28 with 4:42 remaining in the game.

The never-say-die Howe Bulldogs put together a 10-play, 87-yard drive that took 3:57 seconds to score when Matthews broke free on a trick play for 17 yards. Howe narrowed the gap, 39-36 with 1:45 left in the game.

Howe's hopes hung on an onside kick that landed out of bounds and gave the Panthers the ball at midfield. Howe used their timeouts to force a punt. The snap sailed over punter D'Angelo Alexander's head who had to go back and retrieve it. Fortunately for Alexander, the ball went over his left shoulder and the left-footed punter was able to retrieve and kick in the same motion with Bulldogs staring down at him. The punt went out of bounds at the Howe 30 yard line. With 7.9 seconds, Howe had one shot to score to win the game. Wall rolled out and tried to hit Ty Harvey but the ball fell incomplete. The clock mysteriously took all 7.9 seconds off the clock on a play that took only five second from snap to finish. The officials did not put time back on the clock and the game was ruled over.

The 36 points scored by Howe was the most against Van Alstyne since the 'Dogs put up 41 back in 1998. Howe was previously 18-0 when rushing for more than 300 yards in a game in the Zack Hudson era. The 456 total yards of offense is the most ever Howe has had in the series with Van Alstyne. The previous high was 444 in a 35-13 victory at Van Alstyne. Howe's record in the Silver Spike series now moves to 17-35-2.

The Bulldogs will now try to get back in the win column Friday night with a matchup with Whitesboro (2-5, 1-1) who lost to Pilot Point, 10-9 last Friday.

VAN ALSTYNE HAS BIG
FOURTH PERIOD

Van Alstyne turned a tight defence into a rout in the fourth quarter, having the outmaned, out weighed Howe Bulldogs a 40 - 2 loss.

Midway of the third period Van Alstyne held a 7-2 lead. From that time on the Panthers scored about every to tag the Class B Bulldogs with a 0-1-4 season record.

Howe's 20-man squad were simply worn out by the Class A Panthers in the later part of the game.

Jerry Smith opened the scoring for Van Alstyne by running the opening kickoff 80 yards for a touchdown. Pat Garrison kicked the point to give the Panthers a 7-0 lead.

Later in that period Larry Carver punted the ball dead on the Panthers' one-foot line Harold Finney tackled quarterback Joe Young in the end zone for a safety.

QUARTERBACK LARRY
CARVER SUFFERED A BROKEN ANKLE

Early in the fourth quarter Larry Carver suffered a broken ankle. Howe's regular quarterback, Buzz Matthews suffered a knee injury in practice and did not play except on defence and in this possession he intercepted two Van Alstyne passes.

The first half of the game aside from the run back of the kickoff was in Howe's favor Howe making 68 yards rushing to Van Alstyne's 42. And that part of the game was player largely in the Panther's end of the field.

Standouts on defense for Howe were Jeff Jaresh, Lynn Cavender, Larry Carver and Garry Moody.

PROGRESS

The other day we strolled over and looked over the new work on the new highway. We were reminded of the days when dirt was moved by "wheelers", this was a two wheeled vehicle drawn by a team of horses and a large one contained half a yard of dirt. Now the dirt being piled up for the overpass on West Haning Street is being moved by gigantic monsters carrying 20 yards of soil and moving that load at about 20 miles an hour to the fill. These monsters use tires 30 inches through the tire, compared with around seven on most of our passenger cars and they stood about six feet high, and with all that, the mighty engines mounted under the hood could spin the wheels when loading. Then there was the bulldoziers (don't know if I spelled it right) and several other tractor machines all with their engines roaring so that one could not hear himself think. But they are building that fill and soon the grade work will be finished and be ready for the concrete.

We also took a stroll out to Mr Bill Moyo's new clinic building which is now inclosed and ready for the fixtures to be installed. The bricks are there and they are a beautiful off-white and will make it a beautiful building suggesting cleanliness and sanitation. Good choice of color, Bill.

We are very happy to see these improvements going on.

THAT

Cadar Perkins threatened to file suit this week for that picture in last week's issue with him cat napping along about 6:30 in the morning. Claims it was an invasion of his civil rights —

He finally admitted though, that his wife thought he was working all that time —

The following tid-bit is from "Fable For School People," The administration of school curriculum with reference to individual differences, prepared by Dr. C. H. Reeves, assistant superintendent of the Cincinnati public schools:

Once upon a time, the animals decided they must do something heroic to meet the problems of a "new world."— So they organized a school.

They adopted an activity curriculum consisting of running, climbing, swimming and flying. To make it easier to administer the curriculum, all the animals took all the subjects.

The duck was excellent in swimming, in fact better than his instructor; but he made only passing grades in flying and was very poor in running. Since he was slow in running, he had to stay after school and also drop swimming in order to practice running. This was kept up until his web feet were badly worn and he was only average in swimming. But average was acceptable in school, so nobody worried about that except the duck.

The rabbit started at the top of the class in running, but had a nervous breakdown because of so much make-up in swimming.

The squirrel was excellent in climbing until he developed frustration in the flying class where his teacher made him start from the ground up instead of from the tree top down. He had developed "Charlie horses" from over-exertion and then got "C" in climbing and "D" in running.

The eagle was a problem child and was disciplined severely. In climbing class he beat all of the others to the top of the tree, but insisted on using his own way to get there.

At the end of the year an abnormal eel that could swim exceedingly well, and also run climb, and fly a little, had the highest average and was valedictorian.

The prairie dogs stayed out of school and fought the tax levy because the administration would not add digging and burrowing to the curriculum. They apprenticed private school.

Does this fable have a moral?

RECORD CITY BUDGET ADOPTED

Budget for fiscal year 1971-'72 for the general and operating fund and the sanitation department was adopted by City Council at regular monthly meeting last Thursday. Tabled for further consideration was the Police Department budget, with a proposal of $10,900 expenditures.

Total income for the year from taxes, garbage fees, fines, water, sewer, etc. (complete budget may be found on page four) was listed at $102,100, with expenses, including the proposed police budget, at $90,510.50. Council voted to set tax rate at the same $1.50 per $100 valuation, based on 30 per cent actual value, but changed the breakdown on tax revenue to allocate 90 per cent to the general fund, four per cent to the sinking fund, and six per cent to the Rattan fund. Breakdown last year was 80 per cent general fund, 1 per cent to the sinking fund and eight per cent Rattan.

In other action, council created a Police Department, eliminating the City Marshal's position —

Turned down a request for location of a mobile home in the south part of town near the end of Hughes street —

Methodist youth to trick or treat this year for UNICEF

Methodist Youth will be out again this Halloween to trick or treat for UNICEF (United Nations Aid to Children). This year citizens may help by saving labels from the following products to give along with monetary contributions:

Koolaid packages, Welch jam or jelly labels; Clark gum wrappers; Peter Paul candy wrappers; Birds eye frozen food wrappers; Hunt's snack pak cartons; Pals vitamin boxes.

These companies will give money to UNICEF for these labels, a spokesman said. For example, UNICEF can vaccinate one child against smallpox for two empty Koolaid packages.

Burglars hit rural homes

Two break-ins Thursday at homes between Howe and Dorchester could have been the work of one thief or group of thieves, according to sheriff's deputies. Both break-ins were reported Thursday evening.

Jewelry, jewelry boxes and a clock radio, worth a total of $650 were taken from the Jack Norman home sometime Thursday afternoon.

A shotgun worth $40 was stolen from the home of Mrs. R.L. Tolbert. The front door to her home had been kicked in,

White store grand opening underway this week

Grand Opening of the new White Store on West Hanning Street near the overpass is underway this week, with the owners offering prizes to visitors during the week.

Owners of the new retail establishment are George and Glenda Baker, who recently moved into a new home in South Howe.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker are both natives of Tioga, where they attended school. The couple has resided in Garland for the past eleven years. Mr. Baker was a machinist for Continental Emsco. They have one son, Gary, age 5.

The new store features a full line of appliances, auto supplies, televisions, radios, toys, guns, household needs, as well as many other items.

"We also have access to all other items handled by White Stores," Baker said in announcing the opening.

Building housing the new store was constructed by Swaner Bros., adjacent to a new 100-unit apartment complex which is expected to be completed next summer. Nearing completion in the area is a service station on the north access road.

Bulldogs fall to Community Friday; Greenhill to end pre-district play

Halloween usually arrives around the last of October, but for the Howe Bulldog offensive unit, Howe stadium was full of goblins Friday night as Community took a 12-0 victory over the locals. Defensively, Howe held the visitors to a respectable maximum in all departments, but the offense could never get off the turf.

Statistics show a minus 8 yards for the 'dogs on the ground; three of 23 attempted passes completed with three interceptions, and a total of four first downs. Eight lost fumbles also put the defense back to the test.

One of the three pass interceptions accounted for the first six pointer, with the aerial returned 60 yards. A fumble loss on their one yard line with two minutes left in the game contributed to the second TD for the visitors.

The defense held Community inside the Howe 10 on four occasion to prevent scores.

The 'dogs take on Greenhill here this Friday at 8:00 p.m. in the final non-district contest. District action will begin next week against the Prosper Eagles on the local field.

Starting time for the district contests will be 7:30 p.m.

Howe's that...

IT'S NOT TOO SOON to be planning your decorations for Christmas. The Chamber of Commerce is once again sponsoring a Christmas decoration contest and will be awarding prizes of $50, $25, and $10 to the first, second and third place winners.

The theme for the Christmas decoration contest has been set. All businesses and residents in the Howe school district are invited to to put their imaginations to work to decorate the community with lights, figures, etc. to make Howe sparkle with Christmas spirit. The theme is "Christmas Follies" - a light-hearted look at Christmas.

Even if you're not interested in a prize, please decorate your business and/or residence.

JORDAN REPORT - Jordan has learned a few new words and a new game. He says "hi" and "thank you" pretty well. He also likes to say "gone" or "gone gone." He likes to play a little game where whatever he is holding in his hands is put down (behind his back) or thrown down. Then he holds out his empty hands and says "gone." Sometimes he will retrieve the item with a little "there" (it is). He has always liked the hide and seek, peek-a-boo type games and stories.

He has also learned to shake his head "no-no-no" usually when someone else is shaking his/her head. He can really put on a show when he knows the adults in his life are watching.

He is also pretty affectionate giving out kisses and hugs of a sort. Last week at his birthday party he gave a sweet kiss to Lindsay Hefton, a guest at his party. Lindsay is six weeks younger than Jordan and they have been friends at church for some time. In fact, when they were in class together, Jordan often held her hand. A girl friend - ALREADY!!

Bulldogs Stay On Course With Win Over Aubrey, 33-6

The Howe Bulldogs took an easy victory over the Aubrey Chaparrals Friday, Oct. 11, winning 33-6. The Dogs are now 2-1 in district and 4-2 overall as they continue a quest for a playoff spot.

That playoff spot may rest on the outcome of the final regular season game to be played against Bells on Nov. 8. Bells beat Pilot Point, 26-22, last Friday night setting up the possibility of a three-way tie in the district race. If Howe, Bells and Pilot Point win all other games in the district match-ups, Howe will need to beat Bells by 5 points to claim the district title. Before the Bells game, Howe must face some stiff competition, from Whitewright, Callisburg and Tom Bean.

HOMECOMING QUEEN

Head coach Joey McQueen named the punt return team members as the players of the week for returning two punts for TD's. Punt return team is Domingo Rivera, Scott Grogan, Trey Dedman, Jason Boaz, Spencer Strawn, Tom Catching, James Fulencheck, Jeremy Francis, B.J. Sikes, Jarrod Killough, and Jason Williams.

Howe took an early 7-0 lead against Aubrey with a TD as Rivera rushed 55 yards on a punt return and Monte Walker booted a PAT. But several minutes later, Aubrey picked off a pass from Howe's quarterback and scored a TD four plays later. The PAT kick failed and Howe kept a tentative 7-6 lead until the final minute of the first half when Grogan raced 60 yards on a punt return for a TD and Walker added the extra point giving Howe a 14-6 halftime lead.

The second half of the game belonged to the Dogs as Aubrey managed only 3 first downs during the last half and crossed the 50 only once on a good punt return to the Howe 46, but the Howe defense pushed them for a loss on the next four plays.

Early in the game the two teams traded possession several times with neither team gaining much ground. Then with 2:41 left in the first quarter, Rivera took the punt and ran 55 yards into the end zone. Walker's kick made the score 7-0.

Six plays later Howe had control again and advanced to their own 40 when quarterback Brian Freese's pass was intercepted. Freese ran the Aubrey player out of bounds at the Bulldog 6 and the Howe defense held on for three plays, but with 8:23 left in the first half the Chaparrals scored. The kick failed for a 7-6 score.

Howe moved the ball with Michael Bailey making a long run to the Aubrey 15. A penalty called the play back and Howe's drive was stalled.

The two teams traded possessions again. With 1:00 left on the clock for the first half, Grogan returned the Aubrey punt 60 yards for a TD and Walker added the extra point. The Dogs took a 14-6 lead to the locker room.

Howe took the third quarter opening kickoff and advanced across the 50 where their drive was stopped. Aubrey managed a first down as they neared midfield, but were forced to punt on a fourth down and 13.

Grogan returned the punt to the Chaparral 45. Bailey ran for consecutive first downs to the 1-yard line where Doug Ogle carried the ball into the end zone with 2:48 left in the third quarter. Walker's kick was good for a 21-6 score.

An onside kick was recovered by Boaz for Howe at the Aubrey 37, but the Howe team was thrown for consecutive yardage losses and had to punt. The ball was downed at the Aubrey 3 and four plays later the Chaparrals punted.

Grogan caught the punt and handed it off to Rivera who returned the ball to the Aubrey to Whitewright to play the Tigers who are 4-2 for the season and 2-1 in district. The game begins at 7:30 p.m.

Advance tickets are $2.00 for students and $2.50 for adults. They may be purchased until noon at the Howe High School office, Howe Middle School office, and Howe State Bank. At the gate tickets are $3.00.

Band Performs On Track To Give More Room In Stands At Homecoming

Friday night something new was tried at the football game, according to Howe High School Principal Don Gilstrap. The band performed its game music from the north end of the track.

Band director Elmer Schenk said there were a number of reasons for moving to the track for this one game. The primary reason was to help prepare the band for district contest: entering stadium, forming and preparing to enter stadium field, marching around the stadium field and getting all the equipment to the stadium.

The other main reason was to allow more seats in the stadium for the large homecoming crowd. Both reasons brought success. The stadium was full and the band did iron out some problems.

Gilstrap added, one thing we did learn is that the band is loud. People in the stands missed the music and the game officials said the music was too loud for the visiting team, so they asked that they perform only during time outs. This resulted in less music for the game, but the band will be back in the stands for the rest of the season.

Friday night also showed the need for more stands for the students and paid admissions. Carlene Walker stated, "The stands are full even with the band on the track. To be fair to the band and everyone else, we need additional stands."

Several parents mentioned how they missed having the band in the stands. Jerry Burk said, "I like football, but I really only came to the game for the halftime and to hear the band music during the game." Marsha Carver added that halftime is very important to her family. "We come to watch our daughter perform, and I miss the game time music. We need more seats."

Mrs. Tina Yates, cheerleader sponsor, stated that the cheerleaders really missed the band and its spirit during their cheerleading yell.

Gilstrap said, "We would like to thank Mr. Schenk and the band for the additional seats but also we would like to say we missed the music and spirit that the band provides from the stands. The cheerleaders really missed your spirit and noise. The drill team also looked lonely in the stands by themselves and couldn't perform as much as usual because of the reduced music."

He added that Howe won the game and the halftime show was great as usual.

Howe's that

by Lana Rideout

Several readers noticed that I had been having a problem with allergies and passed on some home remedies. One that really soothes your throat and helps clear up your head is "Miracle Tea." Brew some decaf tea and store it in the refrigerator for future use. (I used green tea). Pour one cup of the tea into a microwave mug and heat the tea. Then add 2 teaspoons of apple cider vinegar and 2 tablespoons of honey. Drink it as hot as you can.

I finally ended up seeing a doctor and getting a week's worth of antibiotics and some cough syrup to help me get rid of the phlegm. Maybe I'll survive!

Last week one of our front page stories told about Howe High School math teacher Mark Keene and how he teaches math and life lessons in his class.

I remember another HHS math teacher who taught my children a lot about math and life - Norman Bennett.

The neat thing about Mr. Bennett is that he is also an actor of some renown. Not only has he appeared in many local theater productions over the years; he has an impressive resume of TV appearances and theatrical movies: he played a preacher who baptized Robert Duvall in Tender Mercies and was a beau of Shirley MacLaine's in Terms of Endearment. He also appeared in many episodes of the TV show Dallas.

Last week my husband and I had the pleasure of taking our oldest grandson Jordan to see the Sherman Community Players production of Harvey. It was Jordan's 16th birthday (yep, I said 16). Bennett played Elwood P. Dowd, a man whose best friend is an invisible 6'1½" white rabbit - a pooka.

If you have seen the play before, you will want to see it again; and if you have not seen it, you are in for a treat.

TEXOMA NIGHT OUT

Howe receives the "Spirit Award"

"The 2006 Texoma Night Out Against Crime was one of the best we have had since we started the Law Enforcement Caravan in 1997," said Grayson County Sheriff's Chief Deputy Ron Brown.

The caravan started in Sherwood Shores at noon on Saturday and traveled through 14 cities in Grayson County; ending in Whitesboro at 8:15 pm. The fall temperature and cool breezes helped make it a great day, and a pleasure to be outside. Fifteen minutes were added to each stop this year, allowing law enforcement personnel from 15 agencies the time to meet, greet, and talk with the citizens. Of course, there was also quality eating time at each stop.

This year's Grayson County Texoma Night Out "Spirit Award" will be presented to the City of Howe. The park in Howe was "jam packed" with adults and children. On arrival in Howe, the caravan was greeted by families lining the street side. When everyone was in the park, the children from Howe ISD chanted and sang songs of appreciation to the law enforcement officers present.

The Grayson County Texoma Night

Out "Outstanding Participation Award" goes to the City of Whitesboro.

The citizens of Whitesboro went all out to create a festive atmosphere and greeted the law enforcement officers as they exited their vehicles. To enter the park, members of the caravan walked through a giant, blow-up of the Whitesboro mascot. Residents of Whitesboro were lined up on both sides of the walkway clapping and cheering the officers on as they entered the park. Whitesboro Chief Taylor was welcomed the caravan and thanked everyone for their participation. Caravan members were then treated with home made ice cream while watching a fireworks display.

Brown added, "By our joining together we made a statement. With law enforcement and citizens working together we can continue to claim the neighborhoods in Grayson County as our own, and not give them up to crime and criminals."

NOTE: due to other commitments and lack of time, we will be printing more photos and story about this annual event in the next issue.

Historical museum renovations approved by city council

by Lana Rideout

For some time the Howe Historical Museum, located one block north of the intersection of Haning and Denny, has been closed - waiting for help needed to complete renovation, etc. and get it ready to be open to the public on a regular basis.

At the Sept. 19 Howe City Council meeting, Jean Norman, President of the Howe Historical Society, addressed the council about obtaining some help. City Administrator Steve McKay offered his personal assistance as well as help from the city crew for repairs.

Norman said there are lots of wonderful historical items to be displayed in the museum, adding that it would be "a great asset to our community to have a functional historical museum."

The council approved $8,000 from the Collins Fund and the resources of the city workers to get the roof, electricity, and other repairs done.

In other business, the council:

*Approved a request from Bruce Dawsey to use the Howe Community Center for Cub Scout meetings and also gave permission for them to store some of the scout items. Dawsey said the Scout group has grown from 8 last year to 20 this year., and needs the storage space

*Assured Robbie Seagroves, youth baseball commissioner, that work on the baseball fields will be done in time for the next baseball season. McKay said, "By Feb. 1, 2007, the fences will be up."

Ordinances

The council passed ordinances for the tax rate, water rate, sewage rate, and sanitation rates for the new fiscal year as follows:

*Property tax rate is $.4850 on each $100 valuation upon all property, real, person and mixed within the corporate limits of Howe.

*Water rate is $18 minimum for the first 1000 gallons; $4.25 per thousand for 1001-4000 gallons; $5 per thousand for 4001-20,000 gallons; $5.25 per thousand for 20,001-45,000; and $5.50 per thousand for over 45,001.

*Sewer rate is $23.50 for the first 1000 gallons of water metered. For each additional 1000 gallons of water metered, the charge is $3.40 per 1000 gallons.

*Sanitation rate for residential is $10.15 per month
