

Howe's That

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this [shall be] a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

- Luke 2: 8-14

Chamber holds Christmas dinner

The Howe Area Chamber of Commerce held their annual Christmas Dinner on Tuesday night at Abby's Restaurant in Downtown Howe.

The organization is entering their third year after having restarted in late 2014. President Robert Cannaday informed the group that the chamber had another great year and the dinner was not a way to profit, but to say thank you to the members.

Howe Chamber members gathered at Abby's Restaurant on Tuesday night.

Howe's Economic Development Director Monte Walker spoke about the current business climate and what he sees to be a great opportunity in the near future for Howe to create a TIRZ (Tax Increment Reinvestment Zone) for the downtown area which could include a partnership with Grayson County.

The Howe Area Chamber of Commerce is strictly funded by members and fundraisers. The organization is currently putting together "Welcome to Howe" bags to hand to new citizens. Working with the city, a "Welcome to Howe" brochure has been created that includes tax information, water/sewer and trash combined rates, utility contacts, information about trash, parks, youth sports, demographic information as well as city leaders and contact information.

The "Welcome to Howe" digital packet will be available soon at cityofhowe.org and is currently available at howechamber.com.

The chamber will start the process very shortly for the community to be able to select the 2017 Hall of Honor members as well as the 2016 Citizen of the Year and 2016 Business of the Year. Carolyn Cherry was Citizen of the Year in 2015.

Planning and Zoning to rule on new apartments tonight

The City of Howe Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) will hold a public hearing tonight, Monday, December 19 at 7 p.m. at the Howe Community Center at 700 W. Haning St. to consider a request from Phillip G. Shaffer for a new zone change from C1 (commercial) to MF (multi-family residential).

The one-acre property is located at 501 N. Collins Freeway, along Howe's "ribbon of commerce" on US 75. Shaffer will appear before the P&Z and then the city council on Tuesday night at 6 p.m. to make a case for an apartment complex on the same site he approached the P&Z and council three months ago for a motel.

Howe currently has four apartment complexes located along the main commercial highway zone.

The public is invited to attend both meetings.

If the P&Z approves the zone change, the council can still deny the change on Tuesday night.

Lady Bulldogs move to 2-1 in district play

The Howe Lady Bulldogs farered well this week with two wins and move to a season record of 8-5 and a district record of 2-1. Howe knocked off Commerce on Tuesday by a score of 56-23 and came right back on Friday night to beat Lone Oak, 63-46.

eight points and Kayla Anderson finished with seven. Other scorers were Peyton Streetman (6), Madisyn Hargrove (4), Emily Sanders (5), Payton Griffin (4), Kamryn Fulenchek (4), Honroe (4), and Vick (3). Anderson led the team with eight rebounds.

The Lady Bulldogs are in a transition year from being senior heavy a year ago to a very young core. Ally Harvey and Jenna Honore are freshmen starters and Callie Vick sees a lot of time as a sophomore.

Friday night's matchup with Lone Oak seemed to be a bit more challenging, but again Howe started the game on fire leading 17-7 after the first quarter and leading 31 -17 at the half. Lone Oak put together a good third quarter and one that frame, 19-17, but Howe answered right back by taking the fourth quarter, 15-10 to close out the win.

On Tuesday, the Howe girls dominated from the start by winning the first quarter, 17-6. They never looked back from there by scoring double-digits in each quarter thereafter and not allowing double-digits to Commerce in any period. Howe had a 34-14 halftime lead and entered the fourth quarter leading 45-18.

Streetman led Howe in scoring with 13 while Rhoten contributed 12 and Harvey added 10. Other scorers were Hargrove (8), Anderson (8), Griffin (5), Sanders (5) and Fulenchek (2).

Harvey led all scorers with 10 points and also contributed three rebounds. Landry Rhoten added

The Lady Bulldogs will take a break throughout the holidays but will return on Dec. 28 for the 29th NCTC tournament in Gainesville.

Howe defeated by Bells, Lone Oak

The Howe Bulldogs lost two more games this week. Howe dropped Tuesday's game with Bells in a close one, 42-38. Howe led 6-5 after the first quarter, but Bells put together a second quarter that outscored Howe, 14-10 to take a 19-16 lead into the locker room. Bells led 30-27 after the third and Howe couldn't get over the hump in the fourth where Bells outscored Howe 12-11 in the frame. Ty Harvey electrified the crowd with another dunk.

On Friday, Howe lost 55-41 to Lone Oak. The Bulldogs lost the first quarter, 15-13 and second quarter, 13-9 to go to the locker room trailing 28-22. Lone Oak won the third quarter, 11-7 and fourth by a score of 16-12 to round out the victory.

Harvey led Howe with 11 points while Elijah Campbell tallied seven. Other scorers were Brent Masters (5), James Cowin (5), Brandon Wall (5), Tyler Hawkins (4), Seth Seibold (2) and Clay Marshall (2).

Howe will take a break during the holidays and fire back up on Dec. 28 at the 29th Annual NCTC Holiday Classic Tournament in Gainesville.

Howe Chamber plans events for 2017 with other local chambers

Howe will begin their third year of existence in this latest renewal of the organization. Howe hosted a meeting that included Melissa Chamber's President Bill Jones and Anna's President Kevin Hall. Van Alstyne Chamber of Commerce is included in the multi-chamber partnership but was unable to make the meeting. Howe was represented by Economic Development Director Monte Walker.

The group discussed quarterly meetings to be held at various local locations including Hurricane Creek Golf Club. But Howe claimed Nov. 7 as the date to host a multi-chamber luncheon at the (by then) fully restored and renovated former First Christian Church building.

Dates for multi-chamber events will be announced throughout the year.

HISTORY OF HOWE

Founded in 1872, Howe was incorporated and became a "town" in 1884 and originally came into existence as a result of a land purchase agreement

The City of Howe has created a "Welcome Packet" for new citizens, and it is packed with a wealth of information for everyone. The packet will soon be available on the city's website at cityofhowe.org and it currently can be found at howechamber.com and howetexas.org.

The packet includes current tax rates, current budget as well as information about trash services, parks, youth sports and contact information.

With the new families moving to Howe due to the Summit Hill development, many questions are being asked by the new residents and the city thinks this will be of great benefit.

There is currently no hard copies of the pamphlet, but the chamber of commerce has expressed interest in creating copies to put in their welcome bags that will soon be handed out. The Howe Enterprise and FBC Howe have sponsored to provide bags for new citizens to Howe and those are expected to be delivered soon.

Fourth grade Letters to Santa

Dear Santa
 Are you ready for the big night? Pack up all the little boys and girls presents, Santa. This is what I have pinned for all year. His name is Cosmo the robot! One reason why I want him is that he learns, adapts, and remembers names, numbers, and places. Cosmo will love to play with you if he is charged and awake. Cosmo even has 2-D different emotions!

Also you can download a app on your phone/tablet. For expert mode where you can see out of his eyes, Cosmo is very small and he is compact enough to fit in a adult palm!

Another reason I want him is that he is so cute and adorable. Also he comes in different colors. But that is just a small detail he has a small arm thing to push around energy box. And of course he has little tiny wheels to roll around.

So Santa that is a few reasons I want Cosmo. And have a merry Christmas!!!

Sincerely Noah Fowler

Christmas 2016

Dear Santa

How have you been? I hope you're ready for the big night. I would like to have lots of presents for Christmas.

Because you don't have much oil from. And I have only one to operate. Beals has very nice weather. Far out. I'd like to be a astronaut. I'd like to be a astronaut. I'd like to be a astronaut. I'd like to be a astronaut.

And I want Cosmo the robot. He can do a lot of stuff. And I will make him. I will make him. I will make him. I will make him.

Sincerely
 Hannah

Next week's edition will recap 2016

For many years, it has been a tradition of the Howe Enterprise to recap the year in the final edition. Next week's edition will publish on Monday, December 26 and will highlight all of the big stories of the year month-by-month. The front page will also be a throwback to the 1980s style with the box logo in the upper right-hand corner.

We are considering printing the 20-page recap as a historical keepsake in magazine form. If there is interest in such a product, please email us at news@howeenterprise.com and let us know if there is any interest in purchasing such a product.

Faith by Debbie Wallis

“Jesus answered, ‘I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through Me’, John 4:16.

As we celebrate Christmas I want to remember that it is about the love of God who gave us baby Jesus. He is our only hope. Why has our deceived world decided that it is more politically correct to leave Jesus out of Christmas, take Him out of our school programs, remove the Naivety scene from government properties and change the wording of our greeting from Merry Christmas to Happy Holiday?

There are many religions and many who claim to have knowledge of what it takes to enter Heaven when a person dies. Some misinformed statements from these religious groups make statements of believe as in, “Surely all of these different religions cannot be wrong and only Christianity be right.” “The God I read about is merciful and loving and He would never condemn a person to hell.” “All roads lead to heaven if a person is just sincere and honest...” “If you are a good person then you will go to Heaven.” These thoughts and views are not correct according to the inspired Word of God. A person will not make it to heaven by believing those statements to be true.

From the Book of Genesis through Revelation, the Bible reveals that there is only one God and only one way to be with Him in Heaven for eternity. That gate is narrow and the older I get the more I realize why. The Bible is the Word of the Living God, without error, totally reliable and incontrovertible in its authority. For more than two thousand years men have poured over the pages of the Bible trying find inconsistencies and inaccuracies. Upon deep and extensive scrutiny and examination, the Bible has never been found to have a single error or inconsistency.

One proof of the accuracy of Bible is its amazing ability to predict future events with one hundred percent accuracy. There are 3,500 prophecies contained in the Bible and nearly 2,500 have already been fulfilled with perfect accuracy in every detail. The first prophecy in the Bible is in Genesis chapter 3. Immediately after man sinned and fell, God promises a Savior who will crush the head of Satan and reign victorious over life. “And I will put enmity between you and the woman, and between your seed and her Seed; he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise His heel,” Genesis 3:15. "Her seed", is Jesus who came to save all those who believe in His sacrifice. A woman's body doesn't have seed. This verse speaks of the fact that Jesus will be born of a miraculous virgin birth, without the seed of a man. "He" who shall bruise your head", is Jesus and by His sacrifice on the Cross He destroyed the devil and his work. "He shall bruise your heel", is Satan's attempt to stop Jesus by carrying out His death on the Cross. Satan didn't understand that Jesus won the victory and would rise from the grave. More than 600 years before Jesus was born Isaiah wrote that when He came, He would be dying for our sins, bearing the burden of our failures upon Himself so that anyone who believed in His Sacrifice would be given eternal life.

Jesus Himself claimed that He was the only way to Heaven throughout the New Testament. “Therefore I said to you that you will die in your sins; for if you do not believe that I am He, you will die in your sins,” John 8:24. “Nor is there salvation in any other, for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved,” Acts 4:12. “There is one God and one Mediator between God and men, the Man Christ Jesus,” 1 Timothy 2:5.

Every one of us was born into this world with a tendency to sin. We sin because that's our nature; we're a fallen race of beings that don't have the capacity to be flawless. Jesus took our place at the judgment of those sins. In His compassion for you, Jesus offered to pay the price that you owed by dying for you as a sacrifice, the innocent for the guilty. He died for your sins and conquered the grave and rose three days later again. If you ask Him to forgive you of your sins and be your Lord and Savior, and are willing to repent and turn away from your old life of sin then in an instant He will.

Jesus was born as a perfect sacrifice for all who will believe and call upon His name to be saved. That's what Christmas is all about. Don't let deceived people remove the true meaning of this month in your life. Sure, it's the Holiday season and it starts from Thanksgiving through out the New Year. It's appropriate to refer to it as so. But, this culture has not made it political incorrect to say “Happy Thanksgiving” or “Happy New Year.” But we are to remove Christ from Christmas and say “Happy Holiday” so that we don't offend anyone who doesn't believe He exists. To me, that's like taking a paid day off to go to...let's say your birthday party. I want the party favors, the special food and fun but I refuse to acknowledge that you were really ever born. Therefore, I want to call your BIRTHday party a CAKEday party. But, wait, I want everyone else to call it CAKEday party as well so I won't feel like I'm wrong. As you celebrate Christmas, please keep Christ in your party. It's His birth that we acknowledge and celebrate. Have a Merry CHRISTmas.

and family. HOWE MERCANTILE will not be open on Saturday, Christmas Eve day, or on Saturday, News Years Eve day.

PLEASE SHOP LOCALLY. We can show you Howe! This is the last week for shopping in Downtown Howe before Christmas. Please come by Howe Mercantile, Texas Home Emporium, and Stark Farms Gifts to find presents for your friends

Dr. Georgia Caraway, former director of the Denton County Museums for 14 years, and her friends opened the Howe Mercantile at 107 East Haning. Store hours are Thursday through Saturday noon until 8 p.m.

Christmas was a time in my day that little girls asked for dolls. I remember receiving Betsy Wetsy and later Betsy McCall dolls and still feel the same warm feeling I had when I opened those presents on Christmas morning. Sadly, dolls these days are not as popular, except for maybe Barbie. We have several dolls languishing on the shelves at Howe Mercantile. I have a half price sale going and still that has not helped find a home for these homeless babies. One doll-like figure that was very popular for a very long time, and still displays desirability among collectors is the Kewpie doll.

so popular that they soon were found on Jell-O advertisements, postcards, cradles, greeting cards, clothing, valentines, Christmas ornaments, calendars, tea sets and children's dinnerware, banks and clocks. The Cameo Doll Company of Port Allegheny, Pennsylvania, manufactured composition Kewpies and later plastic and vinyl Kewpies. The demand was too high for one company to supply, so other companies such as Effanbee, Strombecker, Knickerbocker, and Amsco aided in manufacturing these adorable babies.

Artist Rose O'Neill designed her first Kewpie in 1909 for the December issue of Ladies' Home Journal. She retained the design patents for them until her death in 1944. O'Neill claimed that Kewpies danced across her bed and shared their name while she was napping in her art studio. She always maintained that she did not invent Kewpies, she introduced them to the world. The wide-eyed, blue-winged, top-knotted sprites are reminiscent of Cupids who get into trouble, whereas the Kewpies work to get themselves out of trouble—always seeking ways to make the world better and funnier.

Collectors seek all forms of Kewpies. Determining an authentic Kewpie can be tricky. First check for O'Neill's signature—often incised in the bisque on the bottom of the foot. Licensed Kewpies were never made in Japan. A "Nippon" or "Japan" mark indicates that the Kewpie is not authentic. Rose O'Neill and Joseph Kallus insisted on top quality. If a doll is made of poor quality materials or the application of decoration is inferior, the Kewpie is not authentic. All Kewpies have blue-tipped wings. Authentic Kewpies have star-shaped hands.

In 1912, George Borgfeldt held the manufacturing rights for Kewpie dolls and by mid-1913 it took 21 factories in Germany to keep up with the demand. A 17-year-old art student, Joseph Kallus, designed the first Kewpie doll. Early Kewpies were made of bisque. Although imports from Germany ceased during World War I, Kewpies continued to be made in the United States.

O'Neill's canny marketing of her Kewpies earned her more than a million dollars before the Depression brought the fad to an end. But O'Neill was lavish in her generosity and gave away money to impoverished artists and her family almost as fast as she earned it. Rose O'Neill passed away more than seventy years ago, but she and her beloved dolls are not forgotten. The Kewpie Collectors' Club and the Bonniebrook Historical Society provide a lasting memorial to her genius. Bonniebrook, located near

Texas History Minute:

Dr. Ken Bridges

Dr. Bridges is a Texas native, writer, and history professor. He can be reached at drkenbridges@gmail.com.

For years, it was considered a clear-cut end to a violent career. In 1881, Billy the Kid, by then convicted for murder in the chaos surrounding the Lincoln County War, was killed in a night-time shootout by Sheriff Pat Garrett, a one-time Texas Ranger. A coroner's jury confirmed the body was that of 21-year-old Billy the Kid, also known as William H. Bonney or Henry McCarty, and the body was buried. However, decades later, a Texas man stepped forward and claimed to be Billy the Kid.

In 1948, William Morrison happened across a man claiming to be outlaw Jesse Evans who further claimed that Billy the Kid was still alive and living in Hamilton County. This man, Ollie P. "Brushy Bill" Roberts, claimed to be Billy the Kid. Roberts claimed that Garrett had killed another outlaw, Billy Barlow, while he escaped. Afterward, he alleged that he took a series of ranching jobs and traveled under the Ollie P. Roberts alias.

Most stories claimed Billy the Kid was born in New York City in 1859 as Henry McCarty. His father died while he was young, and his mother, Catherine Antrim, moved west, later remarrying. By 1873, they had made their way to the New Mexico Territory, where his mother died of tuberculosis in 1874. Afterward, he descended into a series of petty thefts. In 1877, he shot and killed a man after getting into a fight over a card game. After taking the alias of William H. Bonney, he eventually found work as a ranch hand for John Tunstall in Lincoln County. Tunstall's disputes with other cattle barons in the county escalated into a series of shooting deaths from which Billy the Kid became famous.

Roberts claimed to have been born William Henry Roberts in Buffalo Gap, near Abilene, in 1859. He claimed that Catherine Antrim was not his mother but his aunt. After 1881, he began going by the name Ollie L. Roberts, supposedly a deceased cousin, to protect his identity. Some family members, however, disputed his claims.

Allegedly, Morrison was able to secure signed affidavits from several men who knew Billy the Kid and confirmed that Roberts was Billy the Kid. Roberts also seemed to have several scars that conformed to known scars and injuries of the famous outlaw. In 1950, Morrison convinced Roberts to approach New Mexico Gov. Thomas Mabry to collect the pardon that Territorial Gov. Lew Wallace had supposedly promised Billy the Kid in 1879. According to witnesses, Roberts was overwhelmed and confused by the crush of people in the governor's office and the rapid-fire questions which he had difficulty answering. Afterward, Mabry dismissed his claims.

By the time Roberts met with Mabry, his health was declining rapidly. Roberts died of a heart attack at his home in Hico in December 1950, just a month after his meeting with the governor.

In 1990, the story was brought back into the popular imagination with the movie Young Guns II, with Emilio Estevez as Billy the Kid and an aged Brushy Bill Roberts telling of how he escaped. The story was further fueled by a 1990 digital analysis of a picture of Roberts in 1950 and the famous picture of Billy the Kid that showed a 93% match. However, similarity of appearance is not conclusive proof as many people have similar features. Modern DNA tests could solve the question of identity, but even the supposed resting places of Billy the Kid and his mother are both in dispute. As a result, no definitive sources of DNA exist.

Many historians and investigators dismiss the Roberts claim and are satisfied with the original story that Billy the Kid died at the hands of Pat Garrett in 1881. If Brushy Bill Roberts was indeed Billy the Kid, he may have covered his tracks so well that no one believed him even if he told the truth. Regardless, the story has only added to the mystique of the Billy the Kid legend and the glamour of the Old West. The debate may well continue for years. In spite of the controversy, a Billy the Kid museum opened in Hico some years after the death of Roberts and is still a popular attraction.

Fourth Grade Letters to Santa

12/15/16
Dear Santa,
Have you rested for the great Christmas Eve? The night of the great Christmas Eve! My main gift this year is a iPad. I think the first reason is it can do anything. The second reason I can call my mom or dad. Of course I can also take pictures. It can also do things like when you are sad it can tell you to smile. But that is only one reason.
Another reason I want it is because when my dad checks on me I don't have to use my grandpa's flip phone. My dad said he can't use it in the morning he is protective.
Sincerely,
Erin Randall

Dear Santa,
How are you? Are you ready for the big night on Christmas Eve? I would love a power ranger super saucer. I got it with the gold, red, purple and blue powers. The first reason I would like it is because I will light up! I will do super saucer stunts on the big night. I will punch them back when in the enemy. I can catch them with it.
Another reason I would like it is because I can activate my saucer that I can light up. I will practice every day.
Love,
Anthony Linder

Dear Santa,
How have you been? Are you ready for the big night? I'm really excited to have a fantastic iPhone 7!
That way I can call my mom and dad and Emily.
If I check something else I can call my mom. I would be pleased.
Sincerely,
Wyatt Rendra

Christmas 2016
Dear Santa,
I really hope you are ready for the big night. And eating a lot I would love to have the Dragonleg packet. I have been waiting for this ever and this book tells me about dragons. As you can tell and where they live, people and the unfair treatment towards dragons. I love dragons and dragons don't deserve to be dead. Me and my brother don't deserve the unfair treatment and neither do dragons.
Another reason I should have this book is because I love dragons and how pretty they are. I hope you can see that the original Meter has never been seen. I hope to change that. That is why I have to have this book. I have studied it and been really close to finding it.
That's why you have to give me this please.
Sincerely,
Hayden Adams

Dear Santa,
How are you this year? I was great. I will try to make you some cookies for you if you can't find any. I would like a robot because I like robots. I would like to have a reason why I would like a robot because I like robots. I would like a robot because I like robots. I would like a robot because I like robots. I would like a robot because I like robots. I would like a robot because I like robots.
Sincerely,
Charlie Vera

Dear Santa,
How are you? I hope you are good this year. I would like a skateboard because I like skateboarding. I would like a skateboard because I like skateboarding. I would like a skateboard because I like skateboarding. I would like a skateboard because I like skateboarding.
Sincerely,
Ethan Williams

Dear Santa,
Are you ready for the big night? Pack up all the little boys and girls presents. This is what I have pinned for all year. His name is Cosmo the robot. One person who I want him is that he learns, adapts, and remembers names. I would like to play with you if he is charged and ambe. Cosmo even has 10 different emotions!
Also you can download an app on your phone. For example, make where you are, see out of his eyes. Cosmo is very small and he is compact enough to fit in a adult palm.
Another reason I want him is that he is so cute and adorable. Also he comes in different colors. But that is just a small detail. He is small enough to push around everywhere. And of course he has little tiny wheels to roll around.
So Santa that is a few reasons I want Cosmo. And have a merry Christmas!!
Sincerely,
Noah Fowler

Dear Santa,
I've been great. How about you? I hope you had a great day because in 17 days it's Christmas so be ready for it!
I was thinking if you could get me the 260mer robot toy, because I love cats but I'm allergic and this cat toy is not real so I was hoping if you could get it for me. It can dance, eat, walk, it's wonderful. I want it on TV.
I been so helpful this year and help around the house, doing dishes, washing clothes, cleaning the living room, bedroom, bathroom. I help a lot around the house and I been so amazing and merry Christmas.
Sincerely,
Emily Foster

Dear Santa,
Say, are you rested enough for Christmas Eve? I hope you are just well, and hope you have a merry Christmas. Don't work your butt off!
One thing I especially want for Christmas is a Electric Scooter. One reason I need this excellent gift is because I will take out of sight care of this gift. I'll wash it, I'll ride it every day. I'm super responsible, so please Santa, I need this gift. I've been extremely kind, thoughtful, and greatful.
Another reason I need this wonderful gift is because I know I'm slightly too young but that shouldn't affect my mind blowing reason. I will take such great care, like I said I'm responsible.
with love,
Sincerely,
Caleb Sauer

Dear Santa,
How Mrs. Glave been making enough Christmas cookies for me? I hope she has because you are going to need so many. I need all of those wonderful Christmas gifts for my Christmas Eve.
This year Christmas, I would like to receive an X-Box from you. I want it because it is a lot of fun. I would like to play with it because I would like to play with it. I would like to play with it because I would like to play with it.
I would like to play with it because I would like to play with it. I would like to play with it because I would like to play with it.
I hope you see to it, that I would be delighted to receive an X-Box for Christmas.
with love,
Gracie Davis
