

Howe's That

Too many children today are living in a world where they never learn "no." They don't know how to handle disappointment and failure. Nor do they know how to react and move on when they don't get their own way. This is a new world constructed by "well-meaning" but dangerously naïve parents. The children know no better because this is what they're taught. Real-life doesn't come with "Participation Awards," "8th-Place Trophies" or laudatory bumper-stickers telling everyone that you're able to do your job without screwing up.

Learning a team sport, like football, with the right coaching can help young kids learn life's difficult lessons, including Mick Jagger's truism that "you can't always get what you want."

As these kids move on in life, they are going to get rejected when they apply for college, turned down when they ask out someone for a date, fail to get the job they want, the shift they want at work, and taste failure and disappointment on multiple fronts. It will be vastly more difficult on these kids should they never experience hardships and learn to cope at a young age.

The team-building process is partly learning to be a great teammate when it's not all about you. It breaks my heart for a kid to not get to play, but there is something to learn from it.

In a sense, sports is a true metaphor for life. No one is guaranteed "playing" time in life. For the most part, hard work, effort, planning and desire is rewarded. The benefits can be wonderful. But it's good to be prepared when it doesn't work out that way.

First responders remember 9/11

Members of the Howe Fire Department and Howe Police Department gathered on the FM 902 bridge on Monday morning to raise the American flag and honor those who lost their lives in the tragic act of terror on Sept. 11, 2001. The first responders were also treated to a cookout at the Howe Middle School by the student council. Making an appearance was Grayson County Sheriff Tom Watt.

Howe Middle School students Dax Foster, Zeb Montgomery, and Jacob Campbell serve Grayson County Sheriff Tom Watt a hamburger on Monday during the first responders cookout held by the HMS Student Council.

Chamber announces "Downtown Howe-lloween Festival"

The Howe Area Chamber of Commerce announced this past week that they will host a "Downtown Howe-lloween Festival" on Saturday night, Oct. 28, 2017 from 6:30 pm - 9:30 pm.

Interested vendors can set up a booth in downtown to give away items to "Trick 'R Treaters," cook food, have game, market your business, or simply hand out candy.

There will be lots of opportunities to wear the Halloween costumes this year as FBC Howe and FUMC Howe will have their events the following day on Sunday. Of course, traditional trick 'r treating will take place on Halloween night on Tuesday, Oct. 31.

Top ranked Muenster cuts through Howe, 46-12

Michelle Carney/Howe Enterprise

It's very likely that Howe has faced the toughest schedule to this point than any other team in the state of Texas at any level. Howe opened the season with Class 3A-2 top-ranked Gunter and Friday night faced Class 2A-2 top-ranked Muenster. Sandwiched between those two heavy-hitters was Bowie, who made a trip to playoffs a year ago. Howe, who went three-rounds deep in the playoffs a year ago is in a transition period. The coaching staff has been completely overhauled, with the exception of Head Coach Zack Hudson) and a vast new cast of characters are wearing the black and white laundry that Howe the community has supported for the past 82 years. State Rep. Larry Phillips not seeking re-election also of Sherman.

Rep. Larry Phillips

The vacancy appeared when U.S. President George W. Bush appointed Republican State Representative Ronald H. Clark of Sherman as a judge of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas, based in the branch court at Beaumont in southeastern Texas. Clark had held the state House seat since 1997.

Phillips is the chairman of the House Transportation Committee and a member of the committees on Ethics, Redistricting, and Border and Intergovernmental Affairs.

Phillips secured his latest full term in 2010 with nearly 88 percent of the ballots cast over the Libertarian Kenneth Myers. No Democrat sought the seat.

Those seeking the office are Republicans Brent Lawson, an electrical engineer from Van Alstyne, and Kevin Couch, a former member of the Sherman City Council, and Reggie Smith, an attorney from Sherman.

Republican Texas House Representative Larry Phillips announced that he would not seek re-election for the next term. Phillips initially won his seat in 2003 in a special runoff election with nearly 66 percent of the vote. His opponent in that initial year was the Democrat Donnie Jarvis, Howe fans will soon not have to watch their favorite sons compete against the State of Texas' elite of elite teams. This coming Friday night is homecoming and the Dogs will face the 3-0 Quinlan Panthers.

Howe made some offensive changes prior to Friday night's game with Muenster. They quickly aborted the traditional wing-T offense and moved to a one-back with two wide receivers and two slots. They weren't able to display that new look before trailing, 8-0 due to Muenster's first possession on Friday night. The Hornets well-oiled offensive machine went 70 yards on 10 plays to open the game with fullback Logan Pagel carrying the ball over for the game's first points. A 2-point conversion made the score 8-0 with 8:40 left in the first quarter.

Howe's first possession ended in a 24-yard punt by Hunter Cheatham. Muenster wasted no time on their next possession by scoring in 20 seconds. On the first play, running back Clay Stevens raced 44-yards for a presumed touchdown, however, when he dove into the endzone, his knee hit at the three. A personal foul for diving in the endzone moved the ball back to the 18 but it only took one more play for Hornet quarterback Parker McGrew to hit receiver Stetson McGrew for an 18-yard scoring strike. Muenster led, 15-0 with 6:22 left in the first.

Howe Head Coach Zack Hudson talks to his troops after the 46-12 loss to Muenster. Michelle Carney/Howe Enterprise.

Howe starting on the next possession when freshman quarterback Cirby Coheley fumbled on the very first play of the drive. Muenster took the ball at the Howe 42 yard line and drove to the one and were turned away by a great play by Cameron Blesi to give Howe the ball at their own one yard line. But three plays later, a bad exchange between the quarterback and center caused the ball to be recovered in the endzone by Muenster for a touchdown and upping their score to 22-0 with 3:27 left in the first.

Three punts ensued on the next three possession in the game to finish out the first quarter. But on the first play of the second quarter, Parker McGrew sprinted around the right edge for an 80-yard scamper to give the Hornets a 29-0 lead with 10:55 left bore half.

The 'Dogs began to get in sync offensively and drove 72 yards on 11 plays. Coheley hit newly-converted guard to slot back Mikey Hymel for the 3-yard scoring reception. Calley Vick's extra point was blocked and Howe cut the Muenster lead to 29-6 with 5:01 in the second.

Muenster bounced back with a 53-yard drive on six plays capped off by a Stevens 2-yard touchdown. Muenster's lead was 36-6 at the 3:16 mark in the second.

Howe punted on their next possession which gave the Hornets a chance to work on their clock management. Taking the ball with only 50.8 seconds before half at the 50 yard line, they ran five plays before scoring on a 12-yard catch and run with Parker McGrew to Stetson McGrew. The score left only 3.2 remaining and a 43-6 halftime lead for Muenster.

Howe opened the second half with a 6-play drive, but Coheley's intended pass to Ty Harvey was intercepted by Parker McGrew which would eventually set up a 25-yard field goal for Trey McTaggart.

The next two possessions would end in a punt before Howe's Andrew Griffin darted for an 89-yard sprint to pay dirt with 4:11 left in the fourth quarter. It brought the score to it's final tally of 46-12.

Griffin led the Bulldogs with 114 yards on 15 carries. Dylan Moreau had two carries for three yards. Cirby Coheley completed six of 13 passes for 64 yards with a touchdown and an interception.

Howe is 0-3 for the first time since 2005. They'll take on Quinlan on Friday night for homecoming. Howe won at Quinlan a year ago, 44-13 and are 4-1 versus the Panthers all-time dating back to Nov. 11, 1968 in which Howe won that initial matchup, 22-6 at Bulldog Stadium.

Make sure your kiddo's are traveling safely

PARIS – As part of its continuing commitment to safety, the Texas Department of Transportation reminds caregivers and parents of all ages to check, double-check and triple-check their child passenger safety seats. National Child Passenger Safety Week, Sept. 17-24, is an ideal time to do so.

TxDOT traffic funding specialist based in Paris. "It helps to know your child's weight and height, so have that information with you. Also remember that used car seats, ones you get at a garage sale or from family members, may not be safe. Child safety seats have an expiration date and shouldn't be used after that date. They should also be replaced if and when the vehicle is involved in a crash."

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, three out of four child car seats are not properly installed. Common child safety seat errors include: installing the seat too loosely; putting the harness straps through the wrong slots; leaving harness straps too loose; positioning the chest clip incorrectly; and using the wrong seat belt path.

State law requires that children less than 8 years old and shorter than 4'9" travel in passenger vehicles in approved child safety seats. Those older than 8 and taller than 4'9" can travel using adult safety belts. Drivers should refer to their specific car seat manufacturer's manual for instructions on how to install a safety seat. The vehicle owner's manual also includes information on the proper placement of car seats and proper use of the seat belt or LATCH system.

"We can help you check the fitment and safety of your child passenger seat at five locations in the nine-county TxDOT Paris District," said Monica Yates,

Diligence requires less talk and more action

Dr. Billy Holland

Success is not easily understood or there would be more of it! Learning and demonstrating certain principals can make the difference between watching others succeed and enjoying the blessings of success in our own life. One of these fundamental principles is that your God-given talent will make room for you! Proverbs 18:16 is a powerful statement that is worth considering; "A man's gift makes room for him, and brings him before great men." What does this mean? If we will pursue and practice whatever we are good at to the point of becoming our best, others will recognize our talent and will be more than willing to promote us and declare to the world about what we can do. Proverbs 22:29 say's, "Do you know a person diligent in their business affairs? They shall be presented before kings and shall not stand before mean tyrants." Allow me to include that our talents are truly opportunities but as we are reminded of the 10,000-hour rule, they must be developed. Very similar to being an athlete, it will require vision, hard work, and determination to become outstanding. How does a marathon runner increase their stamina and endurance? Certainly not by laying on the couch and eating Cheetos! They run every day to build strength and fortitude.

Alexander Graham Bell believed that sound could be converted into electrical impulses transmitted by wire, and today, no one remembers the long list of those who thought this idea of communicating was crazy. He had a relentless passion which kept his vision alive and his legacy is still greatly respected all over the world. If you are content with doing just enough to get by, you will always find yourself helping someone else achieve their goals. However, when you decide to focus on your mission and put your entire heart into it, you can then begin to trust God, live by faith, and fulfill your mission. There are huge differences between leaders and followers and it begins with knowing who God is, who you are and how serious you are within this personal relationship. When anyone begins to invest their life into what Jesus has died for them to be, they will be planted firmly on the path to success. What is the catch? We must become pliable and willing to surrender our will in order for the seed of God's Word to be planted deep within our soul. This field of dreams must be watered daily with prayer and the awareness of His presence in order to know our purpose and develop our spiritual wisdom.

Have you ever felt like the world was passing you by and doesn't even know you exist? Do you feel rejected and discouraged because you are not sure what direction to go in or how your dreams are going to come true? Each of us are born with a custom designed blueprint and it only makes sense that our spiritual gifts and abilities are intended to be an important part of this highly detailed plan. The question is how many people will understand how all of this is going to come together? We have heard that nothing takes the place of perseverance and hard work but is it how devoted we are helping someone else or is it how serious we are to embrace and focus on what God has called us to do? Just because we have some success does not always mean we are following our own divine destiny.

Let's consider a few synonyms for the word diligent; "Industrious, hard-working, responsible, conscientious, meticulous, painstaking, thorough, aware, persevering, persistent, tenacious, zealous, dedicated, determined, committed, tireless, and undeterred." Wow, does this describe you? These are words we need to tape to our bathroom mirror! How powerful and life-changing to incorporate these positive inspirations into our daily prayers and for them to eventually become imbedded into our conscience. An elderly chaplain told me one time that he loved his vocation so much that it never seemed like work. If you will submit and ask God to lead you, you will not have to worry about an audience, respect, recognition, finances, or God's favor. When you discover your spiritual blueprint, and become willing to do whatever it takes to see it evolve, you will accomplish your calling.

based on Washington Irving's Rip Van Winkle, was resurrected. Old Rip was sent on a national promotional tour and even visited President Calvin Coolidge in Washington, D. C. When Old Rip came home from his White House visit, he caught pneumonia and died. His body was sent to a taxidermist and his remains were placed in a casket in the rotunda of the new Eastland County Courthouse where they are still on display.

House of Webster Ceramics began making these horned toads as giveaways for school children and tourists who visited their manufacturing plant. I have received several of these ceramic horned toads as gifts and found more at flea markets. They come in different colors and shades, but all have the name "OLD RIP" emblazoned on their chest. To make these toads more valuable and collectible, the empty cavity under Rip's body should have a slip of paper with the legend imprinted.

While searching the Internet for more examples, I was amused to note that Old Rip can be found all over the United States. My most recent purchase came from a Fort Worth flea market for a two-dollar investment. Most of the examples of these kitschy collectibles I have purchased in Texas cost between two and five dollars. However, if Old Rip was taken from the state as a souvenir to California or New York, he commands twenty to twenty-five dollars. Sadly though, just as the horny toad is becoming less easy to find in nature, Old Rip has become less easy to find for sale at flea markets, too.

My examples are resting in peace on my laundry room window seal, probably looking longingly out the window for some nice juicy harvester ants.

SPECIAL NOTE: Howe Mercantile will not be open on Wednesdays for the foreseeable future. We experimented during the summer, but it is too difficult to schedule staffing that extra day. Perhaps we will be able to open more days during the holidays.

Dr. Georgia Caraway, and her friends, opened the Howe Mercantile at 107 East Haning in April 2015. Store hours are Thursday through Saturday noon until 8 p.m. We are excited to have Bucky's Farm All Natural Goat Milk Soap made in Howe for sale.

Georgia, former director of the Denton County Museums for 14 years, has written five Denton history books and hopes her next book will be the history of Howe. If anyone has photos that she can copy, please bring them to Howe Mercantile.

SHOP LOCAL. We can show you Howe!

Continuing our discussion about Texas pottery, of note is perhaps the most famous House of Webster product, the ceramic replica of the legendary horned toad, "Old Rip." In case you haven't heard, the legend goes that when the Eastland County Courthouse was dedicated in 1897, a Texas horned toad was placed in the cornerstone of the building. When the courthouse was razed in 1928, thirty-one years later, the cornerstone was reopened. Eastland county judge lifted the toad out of the box by his foot, and the presumed deceased horned toad twitched and came to life. "Old Rip," whose name was

Texas History Minute

Dr. Ken Bridges

Dr. Bridges is a Texas native, writer, and history professor. He can be reached at drkenbridges@gmail.com.

“Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall set you free,” is the Bible verse adorning the main building at the University of Texas and living in the hearts of millions. In those words are the most important concepts in law: truth. In a free society, truth is the basis of law, and law is the foundation of justice. Texas attorney Leon Jaworski was called upon to defend truth and law in the most challenging political periods America has faced, the Watergate Scandal.

Leonidas Jaworski was born in Waco in 1905. His parents were immigrants, and his father was a minister. Known to his friends as “Leon,” he proved a bright and hard-working student, often studying by candlelight. He graduated from Waco High School, where he excelled at debate, and enrolled at Baylor University.

In 1925, he completed his law degree and became the youngest lawyer in state history, not quite 20 years old. He later received a masters degree at George Washington University Law School.

He moved to Houston in 1930. His skills soon attracted the attention of some of the most powerful lawyers in the city. In 1931, Jaworski joined the growing firm of Rufus Fulbright, and within a few years, he became a partner in the firm, which became the largest and most influential firm in Houston.

During World War II, Jaworski served as a lawyer for the U. S. Army. At the end of the war, the Allies began putting Nazi officials on trial for crimes against humanity, Jaworski directed the prosecutions of war criminals. He ensured that those who slaughtered so many civilians and soldiers would face justice.

One case that he prosecuted personally stemmed from the 1944 Russelsheim Massacre, in which eleven German civilians murdered six American prisoners whose plane had been shot down nearby. Jaworski passionately argued that in spite of whatever orders the Nazis gave or however they incited the population, each individual was responsible for his own actions and must answer for those actions. Ten of the eleven defendants were convicted.

After the war, Jaworski returned to Houston. He served on numerous civic boards. In 1960, he was elected president of the Houston Chamber of Commerce. In 1961 and 1962, he was president of the American College of Trial Lawyers. He then served as president of the Texas Bar Association for the 1962-1963 term. Starting in late 1963, President Lyndon Johnson appointed him to several presidential commissions to study such issues as violent crime and investment law. In 1971, fellow lawyers honored Jaworski by electing him president of the American Bar Association.

In the meantime, President Richard Nixon had embroiled himself in a scandal during his 1972 re-election campaign. Nixon had ordered his employees to break into private offices to steal information or plant wiretaps and paid their silence with a secret slush fund of corporate donations. The most notorious break-in was the Democratic National Committee headquarters at the Watergate office complex. While Jaworski had become a respected member of the legal community, the Watergate scandal would make him a household name.

In May 1973, former Solicitor General Archibald Cox was named special prosecutor to investigate the case. Nixon grew increasingly paranoid as Cox moved closer to the evidence, zeroing in on conversations that Nixon had taped in the Oval Office. Nixon aides admitted these tapes existed, and Cox demanded they be submitted as evidence. Nixon refused. On October 20, 1973, Nixon fired Cox in what became known as the “Saturday Night Massacre,” where which Nixon also forced the resignations of the attorney general and the assistant attorney general in order to dismiss Cox.

Reluctantly, Nixon appointed a new special prosecutor, tapping Jaworski. Though Jaworski had been a Democrat, he had voted for Nixon in 1968 and 1972. Jaworski had not worked as a prosecutor in decades, he gave the appointment his full effort and left no legal stone unturned.

Jaworski quickly demanded that Nixon hand over the tapes. Nixon insisted that the tapes were privileged while Jaworski insisted that Nixon could not impede a criminal investigation. Jaworski took the case to the Supreme Court in July 1974, arguing that Nixon must cooperate. The Supreme Court agreed unanimously, and ordered Nixon to hand over the tapes. As it turned out, the tapes ultimately showed Nixon plotting to obstruct a criminal investigation and became his political downfall. He resigned in disgrace on August 9. In the end, Jaworski showed that everyone is subject to the law. He wrote several books on his experiences. In 1961, he published Fifteen Years After, detailing his work with the war crimes trials. In 1976, he wrote The Right and The Power, reflecting on his Watergate experiences. His work ensured that honor and justice would remain at the heart of American law. Jaworski died at his ranch just outside Austin in December 1982.

K-2nd grade Bulldogs beat Blue Ridge, 27-12

The Kindergarten through second grade Bulldogs battled the Blue Ridge Tigers on Saturday in Collinsville defeating the Tigers 27-12. The Bulldogs will have a bye week this Saturday, but will be back on September 30 to face the Bells Panthers in Howe.

Howe's 3rd-4th grade were defeated on Saturday, 26-0 to Leonard.

5th and 6th grade Bulldogs remain perfect with win

Howe's Jacob Campbell makes a big hit on a Tomcat on Saturday in Whitewright. Jennifer Daniels/Howe Enterprise

The Howe 5th and 6th grade Bulldogs won their 24th consecutive game when these two classes have been paired together. Saturday's game was the closes margin of victory that the Bulldogs have had all season, thanks to the Tom Bean strategy of keep-a-way.

Tom Bean won the coin-toss and deferred to the second half giving Howe the ball to start the game. The Bulldogs went 54 yards on four plays and took the early lead when Gage Troxtell scored from the two yard line. Cooper Jones scored the 2-point conversion on a pass from Jacob Campbell. Howe led, 8-0 with 4:21 left in the first.

Tom Bean started their drive at their own 48 yard line with 4:17 left in the first quarter. They made it as far as the 10 yard line and took the entire first and second quarter on the drive, but were turned away by a great play by Troxtell and Jones to end the half and allow no points to Tom Bean.

The Tomcats got the ball back to start the second half from their own 36 yard line. The pushed the ball as far as the Howe 23 yard line and held the ball the entire third quarter. On the first play of the fourth quarter, Howe's Mahlon Walker tackled the Tomcat ball carrier for a 8-yard loss on fourth down to give Howe the ball back. The Bulldogs went 61 yards on six plays to score. Fullback Marshall Larsen carried it over from the one yard line. Howe's 2-point conversion was no good and Howe led 14-0 with 2:49 left in the game.

Tom Bean took the ball at their own 33 yard line but couldn't get past the Howe 42 yard line.

The time management tactic by Tom Bean allowed Howe only 10 plays of offense on only five minutes of time of possession in game's 28 minutes. Unfortunately, this led to very little playing time for about 10 of the 31 Howe players. The coaching staff of Michael Portman, Thomas Troxtell, and Monte Walker thank the parents for their patience and understanding of the situation.

The Bulldogs are now 4-0 and have scored 122 points and allowed 0. They will take on Trenton on Saturday at S&S at noon. Trenton is also 4-0 and unscored on (115-0).

Good deal turned bad as Sherman eventually sued Howe over this contract 16 years later

Howe Enterprise

GRAYSON COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1968 NUMBER 10

JOINT SEWER CONTRACT APPROVED BY CITY

Contract for a joint sewerage disposal project was officially approved by Howe City Council at a called meeting Monday evening.

The contract was submitted to a lawyer Tuesday for approval in regard to a bond indebtedness on the present system, and if all is legal, the contract will be passed on to Sherman officials.

The contract, submitted by Sherman, remains to be signed by Sherman officials.

The contract involves an expenditure of around $87,000 for Howe, to be retired by a 14-cent per 1000 gallon disposal fee to be paid to Sherman. Howe will furnish one-sixth of cost of the main line from the present plant to Sherman's "collection system" reportedly at Texas Instruments. The city will also secure right-of-way here, with Councilmen J. W. Reed and Carl Thompson named to the right-of-way committee.

Howe will have, under terms of the contract, a maximum of 250,000 gallons per day facility reserve, which will accommodate more than double the present population, engineers have determined.

The project was made possible by a federal grant to the two cities for the proposal.

Council also approved an ordinance regulating commercial and industrial sewerage, in line with bond and State Health Department requirements.

BULLDOGS TO WHITEWRIGHT THIS WEEK; WIN OPENER AT BELLS, 28-6

Coach Norman Dickey's charges opened the 1968 football season last Friday night with a 28-6 victory over Bells' Panthers. The game was played at Bells.

The team this week will face the Whitewright Tigers in the second pre-district contest.

Whitewright fell to Farmersville last week, 28-18, after leading by two touchdowns at half-time. The Tiger backfield boasts a 191 pound average, with the line tipping the scales at an average of 187 (see complete lineup on page 6).

Bells threatened to score first last week, after recovering a Howe fumble on the Bulldog 15 early in the game. The Bulldogs had forced a punt following a Bells drive at the opening. The fumble came on the first scrimmage play for the Bulldogs.

Howe's first scoring drive began on their own seven yard-line minutes later, with Jimmy Watson finding an open road over the right side for 20 yards on first down. Tommy Robertson then added 21, and alternate trips by the duo gave the Bulldogs a first at the Bells 39. Two plays later Watson took advantage of the blocking by the Howe line and covered the first

Following an exchange of possession, via a Bells punt and a futile 4th down effort for a first by the Bulldogs, Bells initiated their only scoring drive of the game, beginning at midfield.

The Bulldogs onside kick was covered at the 50 by the hosts, and after losing 8 yards on first down and tossing an incomplete pass, the Panthers drew a 15 yard penalty. On the next play QB Lonnie Morrell hit Monte Laymon with a pass to Howe's eight. Bells scored on the next play around left end.

Watson scored another six for the Bulldogs on the following drive, with a 16 yard scamper around right end. The run climaxed a 48 yard effort in six plays, one a 27 yard aerial to Johnny Troxtell. Bennett added the 20th point for Howe.

Texoma Patriots welcome two Congressmen to upcoming meeting

The Texoma Patriots will hold a "Post-Session Wrap-up" on Tuesday, September 19 at 7 pm at Buck Snort BBQ in Downtown Van Alstyne with Representative Matt Rinaldi of the Texas Freedom Caucus and Representative Scott Sanford of the Freedom of Religious Exercise Exchange. The Congressmen will talk about their roles in the Texas House of Representatives and the information of what happened during the Texas 85th Session and also what passed and what did not in the Special Session.

Representative Matt Rinaldi of House District 115 (Irving) was elected in 2014. Currently he sits on both the Committee on Judiciary & Civil Jurisprudence as well as the Committee on Agriculture & Livestock. During the 85th Legislative Session, he was elected to serve on the Republican Caucus Policy Committee.

Currently Matt works as a commercial litigation attorney while also serving on the board of directors of a publicly-traded real estate investment trust in the hotel and hospitality industry.

He continues to be a strong advocate for limited government, personal liberty and free market policies, secure borders, 2nd

Amendment rights, and the protection of life.

Representative Scott Sanford represents House District 70 (McKinney, Anna, Celina, Melissa, Princeton, & Prosper). Scott is Executive Pastor at Cottonwood Creek Baptist Church in Allen.

Since religious liberty legislation is needed in every state across the nation, he authored and sponsored Religious Liberty legislation such as the Pastor Protection Bill, the Hope for Orphans and Minors Expansion act as well as the protection for Christian Health Care Sharing Ministries. Realizing that state legislative exchange organizations have abandoned social issues, he began the process of creating FREE or Freedom of Religious Exercise Exchange.

The Texoma Patriots are hoping for insight that can the Congressmen can give to help us learn more about the process, challenges, and potential for the State Representatives.

They welcome you to come early as Buck Snort BBQ will have fall-off-the-bone ribs and, of course, his chocolate chip cookies.

Everyone is welcome and there is no charge to attend the meeting.

—Texas Press slogan

The Howe Messenger

VOLUME XVII HOWE, GRAYSON COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1940 NUMBER 33

UNDER THE Dome at Austin

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent

Austin — A half million Joads make an annual circle tour of approximately 2,000 miles a year in Texas pelting produce and harvest the state's huge crops.

Since the State Farm Placement Service has made a study of migratory farm labor while carrying on its work of bringing the worker to the crops at the time they are needed and will find employment.

The Farm Placement Service is a part of the general State Employment Service which works in conjunction with the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission.

Happily the wide variety of Texas crops and climate affords a year round occupation for migratory workers. Many are engaged during the winter months in harvesting vegetables and citrus crops in the Winter Garden districts below San Antonio and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. In South Texas they work in the onion fields and cut squash during winter and spring months. They chop cotton in the late spring, pick cotton in Southwest Texas in July and August and then follow the cotton crop from the Rio Grande to the Coastal Bend area, to Central Texas, Northeast Texas, Northwest Texas and the High Plains. Cotton picking continues in the Plains until December. The workers then return to the Lower Rio Grande Valley to renew their annual harvest cycle.

The majority of the migrant agricultural workers in Texas are Mexicans, a report of the Placement Service shows. Very few are aliens. All of the migratory workers do not make a year-long tour. Some work only in cotton picking seasons, returning to other employment when cotton picking is over in their areas. Some are sharecroppers or tenant farmers who go to other areas to pick cotton either before or after their own crops have been harvested.

Migrant cotton pickers who travel in family groups usually have small trucks or old automobiles in which they make their rounds. Large trucks are used by labor contractors who transport crews of considerable size.

In the view of the Farm Placement Service the labor contractor performs a real service both for his workers and for the farmers. There have been small-time racketeers in the work but the department says most of them have been eliminated.

The labor contractors are not contractors in the sense that they agree to harvest a crop and then sublet the harvesting to their workers. Many of them are truck owners who act as "captain" or "Jefe" for the group they transport. "In many instances," says the report, "the contractor's crew is made up of his immediate family and relatives. In other cases it is made up of groups of families, with single men among them who are friends of the group."

The contractors arrange work details with the farmer. His income is obtained from weighing cotton in the field as the pickers bring it in and by hauling it to the cotton gin. He keeps a record of the amount picked by each individual worker.

The farm pays the contractor an agreed amount for hauling and weighing. He also pays the contractor the wages for the picking done by the whole crew based on the weight of the cotton delivered at the gin. The contractor then turns over the wages to the crew in proportion to the amount each picked.

Some of the contractors also advance money to pickers for supplies and arrange medical care. Speaking Spanish they eliminate a great amount of misunderstanding that might arise in dealings between Spanish-speaking workers and English-speaking farmers.

"The men who are operating as contractors are for the most part substantial individuals who 'play fair' with the people with whom they work," the Placement Service reported.

There were 24 guests present.

METHODIST SERMON TOPICS ARE ANNOUNCED

Rev. T. W. Lovell announces the following subjects for sermons at the Howe Methodist church Sunday.

Morning—"A Praying Preacher Running Before a Wicked King."

Evening—"What Will the Lord Do With Hitler?"

Improvement In Cotton Grade

Dallas—(UP)—Slight improvement in grade has been shown in Texas cotton ginned recently, but the staple still is of lower grade than that ginned during the same period last season, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service at Dallas.

At the same time, activity in Texas markets declined slightly but prices advanced. Growers are not offering cotton very freely, it was pointed out, and consumption by Texas mills is at a higher rate this season.

The Marketing Service recently has opened a new cotton classing office, the Board of Cotton Examiners at 1104 South Ervay, which is maintained only for loan purposes, for cotton from warehouses in the Dallas territory.

Other similar offices are maintained at Austin, Houston, Shreveport, Texarkana, Abilene, Lubbock, El Paso, Oklahoma City and Altus, Oklahoma.

For cotton quality and for improvement groups, the Marketing Service maintains its cotton classing room on the fifth floor of the Federal building.

The organization makes an effort to give one-day service on cotton classing of all types, according to J. R. Kennedy, head of the Marketing Service.

For the season, through August 15, strict middling white and above accounted for 6 per cent of ginnings; middling white, 58 per cent, and grades below middling white 32 per cent. About 4 per cent was spotted cotton.

As a whole, cotton was longer in staple than for the corresponding period last year, although not quite as long as for the period prior to August 1 this year.

Exports this year are far below those of last season. August exports of 51,000 bales compare with 278,000 bales during the same month last year and 236,000 bales during August, 1938.

English cotton mill centers indicate a downward trend of mill activity from the recent very high levels. There is, however, much uncertainty as to the future import policy of the British government.

In Texas, the Marketing Service reported that picking and ginning are well past the peak in the Rio Grande Valley and Corpus Christi areas and moving northward rapidly. The movement of the crop in the Dallas territory is about two weeks behind that of last season. Growers are not selling very freely at the gins.

E. Powell and son, James, were in Dallas on business Tuesday.

Interest Shown In Corn Show

Considerable interest has been shown in the proposal to hold a corn show here on September 28, and plans are now being made to add some premiums for cotton. For this reason publication of the premium list will be held up until next week, at which time it is hoped to be possible to announce a fifty to one hundred dollars list of prizes.

At a meeting of Howe businessmen and farmers at the Universal Feed store Friday night plans for the show were discussed and committees appointed to look after the details. W. P. Thompson was elected superintendent of the show; M. G. Bush, D. C. McComas, W. M. McCoy, S. L. Ricketts and Russell W. Bryant, named as a committee to obtain finances; W. C. Franpton, Bill Mayo and Russell W. Bryant, publicity committee; and A. M. Ferguson, program committee. It was planned to have some experiment station men here to take part on the program.

The show has already been rather widely publicized and a letter was received this week from the Sherman Chamber of Commerce offering assistance in putting on the show; congratulating the community on the movement and inviting exhibition of the Howe exhibits at the Red River Valley Fair in Sherman, which opens on Monday after the show here.

Mrs. A. W. Penn and children of Dallas are to visit her father, Dr. J. L. Shelley, this week end.

Mary Kathryn Chumbley, Martha Louise Barnett, Weldon Rutherford and James Powell visited in Bonham Monday night.

HOWE SCHOOL OPENED WITH PROGRAM

The 1940-41 term of the Howe public school opened Monday morning with the following program.

Song, student body; Invocation by Rev. C. Chumbley; "America," audience; "Necessity for Training," Rev. C. Chumbley; clarinet solo "Meditations" by James Powell; introduction of teachers by Principal Charles R. Thompson; and announcements by Supt. W. B. Wheeler.

GIRLS 4-H CLUB ORGANIZED HERE FRIDAY

Miss Eva Sue Merritt, assistant county home demonstration agent organized a girls 4-H club at the Howe school Friday afternoon.

The following officers were elected: president, Betty Jewel Cavender; vice-president, Betty Wilson; secretary-treasurer, Jeanette Terry; recreation and song leader, Dorothy Thompson; council delegate, Wilda Enloe; reporter, Helen Bryant.

Martha Ann Butler, presided.

V. V. Waite, Dallas geologist who is assisting local farmers in obtaining a deep oil test west of Howe, was here on business Thursday.

Miss Edna Meek visited friends in Howe Tuesday.

Miss E. C. Nason, R. Jerome Hill of Dallas, and V. L. Nason of Delhi, Oklahoma, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Bryant for the week end.

Miss Rosalie Butler has been elected fourth grade and music teacher in the Tom Bean grade school which is to open Monday.

Fire Destroys Cotton House

The cotton storage house at the Howe Gin Company was completely destroyed by fire which broke out about 6 p. m. Wednesday, entailing a loss of $2500 according to figures released by S. L. Ricketts Thursday morning. The building contained about 10,000 pounds of seed cotton. The loss was covered by insurance.

The blaze broke out while a load of cotton was being placed in the building and is supposed to have been started by a rock or match striking the suction fan, causing a spark. Volunteer fire fighters prevented spread of the flames to the nearby gin and cottonseed houses, which for a time seemed certain to burn. A call was made to the Sherman fire department for assistance and a truck and three firemen responded, but the blaze was under control by the time of their arrival.

Ginning operations were resumed as soon as the fire was extinguished and construction of a new storage house began Thursday.

This marks between six and eight cotton houses to burn on the same location since establishment of the gin a number of years ago.

It is the first fire of great consequence in Howe in almost seven years.

SFSAME STUDY CLUB TO HAVE ANNUAL LUNCHEON

The Howe Sesame Study club will hold the annual re-assembly luncheon at the Grayson Hotel in Sherman at noon Thursday, Miss Mame Roberts, president, announces.

Indians Driven Out; One Seeks to Resign

Fort Worth—(UP)—The gray-haired, copper-skinned man had an accent that the postoffice clerk here couldn't quite place, although she had registered aliens of many nationalities.

"I come to register," said he. The applicant said he was Mike Stein, age 63.

"Place of birth?"

"Indian territory."

The postoffice girl was perplexed.

"But your nationality?"

"Full-blood Cherokee," replied the unperturbed gentleman.

"Who sent you here?" asked the girl.

"Governor O'Daniel," said Mike.

"He says for all aliens to register."

"Well, you're no alien," he was told. "The Indians were here first."

"I know, but they chased all the Indians out of the state many years ago. I came back. What does that make me?"

By that time both persons were laughing. The applicant was Mike (Chief) Stein, who really is a full-blood Cherokee from Oklahoma. A former heavyweight wrestler, he now sells the Fort Worth Press as a downtown newsboy.

P. S.—The Chief admitted that he knew better. A lawyer-customer gave him a dollar to see what the alien registration office would do about a "first American."

I Give You Texas

By BOYCE HOUSE

How do you go about writing a book?

Well, in case you're figuring on doing one, be assured it's a lot of work—at least, this commentator has found it so.

Take "Were You in Ranger?" for example. Upon returning to Texas in 1920 (I had spent several years in the state during my boyhood), it was my determination to write about the romance of oil. So when, in response to a bunch of letters sent out to newspapers over the state, R. K. Phillips—publisher of the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News—wrote that he needed an editor in that oil town, "Here," said I, "is my opportunity."

But being the one-man staff of a daily paper is a full-grown job and for 10 years—including Cisco and Ranger, likewise oil towns—there was too much to do in the way of writing up killings, accidents, new wells, football and other day-by-day happenings to think much about the proposed book.

However many incidents were stored away in memory; there was a sub-conscious accumulation of colorful incidents and, on quiet Sunday afternoons, the dust was blown off the old files of the Ranger Times and bygone events were studied.

When J. R. Record, managing editor, offered a job on the staff of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, there was less responsibility (a fellow just had one e-run" and no; a whole paper to carry on his shoulders). Then began a spare-time search of the files of the Star-Telegram for 1917 through 1920. The big, flat volumes, wrapped in heavy brown paper, were on top of the shelves in the Public Library and could be reached only by climbing on a chair. There was no table on the narrow balcony and so a clumsy volume would be balanced on the heavy iron railing in front of a window and your author stood hour after hour. When a news item bearing on the Eastland County boom was found, the volume was balanced awkwardly with the left hand and notes were jotted down. No doubt the library force would have made the task much less arduous had their aid been asked but I didn't want to tell them I was working on a book when I might never be able to write it.

Here is an odd thing! It was necessary for me to leave Eastland County in order to get the perspective but, during this research in Fort Worth several trips back to Ranger had to be made to talk to people about boom events when I used to see those people every day while living there. You've got to have some luck, too. By coincidence, I ran into Gene Reynolds on the street in Fort Worth and, in a long interview, he unfolded the information about melodramatic Police Chief Byron Parrish and the criminal element that Parrish conquered in Ranger—(Gene himself was desk sergeant there and later chief of police) so this information was

GEORGE WESLEY LEFFEL COX

If you have not met George Wesley Leffel Cox, coach of the Howe high school, you have a pleasure in store for you. This smiling, enthusiastic young man likes his new home, Howe, and in reality has become one of us.

He hails from West Texas. He was born at Lockney, 22 years ago. He has lived at Pampa, Canyon and Abilene. He is a graduate of Abilene Christian college.

He wanted to be a doctor, but nature endowed him with an athletic physique, and opportunity prepared the way for athletic training, and before he knew it he was an athletic coach. This is how George Wesley came to Howe.

Equally as pleasing is Mrs. George Wesley, a bride of a month. Mrs. Cox is interested in club work and civic work. They are at home at the Green apartment in South Howe.

HOWE, GRAYSON COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1967

NUMBER 10

HOWE'S THAT ?

Guess most people just aren't interested in government—local, state or national.

At least that's the impression created by returns of a ballot printed a couple of weeks ago at the request of city officials.

A week after the request was made for opinions on whether or not Howe needed a city marshal, about eight replies had been received at city hall.

That's a very small percentage on which the city fathers can base a decision. The time to express our opinion as citizens is before the decisions are made and passed—not after.

o-o-o-o

While on the subject of policemen and such, we noticed in last week's Whitesboro News-Record about a couple, or more men who had been caught in that city.

A couple of men from another town did what was estimated later by qualified men as $15 to $30 worth of roof repairs, for which they billed an elderly property owner $137.50. When she called in to officers, the pair told authorities they had only made a mistake in figuring the repairs, that actually she only owed $60. In city court they admitted soliciting without a city permit, and assumed cost of the job as part of their fine and were released. No telling how many "jobs" they had already completed successfully.

Then there was the man, also

Booster Club Sees Bells Game Films; Officers Named

Officers and directors for the 1967-68 year were named Tuesday night by members of the Bulldog Booster Club.

The initial meeting of the new year was held at the field house, with films of the Howe-Bells football game featured as the program.

President Dave Hammons was re-elected to that office, with Jimmy Bearden named as vice-president. New directors are Bearden, Ray Bledsoe, George Cavender and Edwin Belden. Holdover directors are James Davis, Bob Fagala and Hammons.

In the current membership drive, it was noted that there are 32 members at present. Membership cards are available from any member.

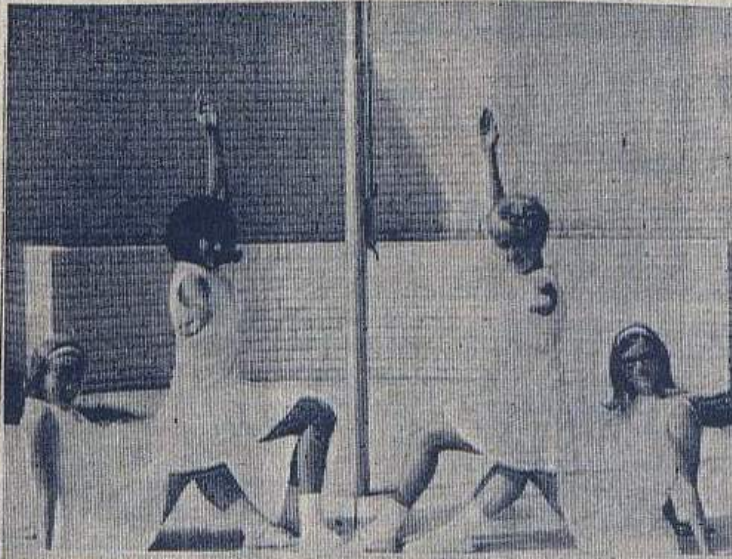

A 6 a.m. breakfast has been scheduled for members Saturday morning at the school cafeteria.

COFFEE TO BE HELD FOR BROWNIE, GIRL SCOUT LEADERS FRIDAY

A coffee will be held for prospective leaders and mothers of local Brownies and Girl Scouts, at 10 a.m. Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Kee, 135 King Avenue, it was announced this week.

BULLDOGS WIN OPENER, 32 - 14; CALLISBURG HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

Howe Bulldogs will host the Callisburg Wildcats Friday at 8 p.m. in the second football game of the '67 season. The team won the season opener last week, defeating the Bells Panthers, 32-14.

Howe rolled up a total of 386 yards in their offensive game, while holding Bells to 92.

In the scoring department, Lynn Cavender, filling the quarterback slot for the injured Bill Cloud, accounted for three TD's on sneaks of 3, 1 and 3 yards. Garry Gray and Jimmy Watson contributed a six-pointer each, and Watson added a two point conversion.

Cavender climaxed a 55-yard drive following the kickoff for the initial score, with a three-yard sneak through center. Watson contributed runs of 12, 4 and 5 yards on the drive, with Mike Bennett adding a 10-yarder and Gray, 6. The Bulldogs had trouble in the extra point attempts for the evening, with one successful attempt.

Second drive by the Bulldogs moved to the Bells 2, but on a fourth down effort, a bobbled pitch-out lost 11 yards.

The 'dogs dominated the second period with a 67 yard scoring effort, which consumed 14 plays and an exchange of fumbles. A 25-yard gainer by Garry Gray, with Watson and Bennett alternating for additional yardage, moved to the one, with Cavender going in for the score. Quarterback Charles Smith of Bells brought fans to their feet on the ensuing kickoff when he hauled in the ball on his own 20 and headed down the right sideline for a fast six-points.

Halftime score was 12-6, Howe Bells fumbled on the third play in second half action to set up the third scoring effort for Howe on the Bulldog 46. Watson hit for 12 yards to get things rolling, followed by gainers of 9 and 6 by Gray and Bennett. A quick-opener placed the Bulldogs on the three, with Cavender scoring on the following play.

First punt attempt for the Bulldogs eventually turned into another score. Facing a 4th and 9 situation, Watson dropped into kick position, but a bad snap prevented the boot. Instead, the halfback headed around right end to pick up a first down at Bells' 31. Later, facing a fourth and four, Gray scored from the 25 on a reverse, with Watson contributing the first successful conversion, a two-pointer.

At this point, Howe coaches sent in the Bulldog second team which handled almost all the Howe offensive effort for the remainder of the contest, as well as some defensive work.

Midway in the final period, the Bulldogs recovered a fumble on the Bells 38 to set up the final Howe score with Watson receiving the honors on a 10-yard scamper around right end.

Bells' final score climaxed a 34 yard drive following a fumble recovery, with Smith going over from the 1. A two-point conversion brought the Bells total to fourteen.

Lineups for this week's game are listed on page three.

Council Seeking Financial Avenue To Employ Officer

Proposal for a police officer for Howe was tabled Tuesday night by members of city council, with a view of seeking ways to finance the project.

Present at the meeting was James Spaugh, formerly with the Sheriff's Department and the City of Denison, who presented his proposal for the position. Spaugh had earlier been contacted by local representatives as a prospect for the proposed position.

When asked what salary he would expect, Spaugh offered as an example, since hours and days had not been determined, a seven day per week, seven hour per day (or night) proposition. "If the city wanted me to furnish the car, it would be around $350 to $375 per month".

In further discussion, members of council considered beginning the officer project on a part time basis, perhaps two or three nights per week. The matter was tabled to offer the council time to consider the project, including financing.

Tax rate for the year was set at $1.50 per $100 valuation, the same as last year, with 65c for sinking funds and 85c for operating expenses. While on the tax situation, council discussed the method of evaluating new construction in the future. Most of the recent construction has been evaluated in accordance with building permits. Individual appraisal was favored by members. Evaluation discussion arose when it was brought out that building permits do not necessarily reflect actual value of a new home or building.

In other action, council postponed decision on a request to close an alley between the First Baptist Church and the Church of Christ building, which was recently purchased by the Baptists. Under the sale agreement, the Church of Christ property will continue to be used by the congregation for about a year, when a new building is expected to be completed. New construction to the South of the First Baptist Church was given as reason for the request for closing—

Agreed to accept a strip of land (in the Stegall acreage) and house into the city limits. (Continued on page 5)

HOWE'S THAT

Capital punishment was outlawed recently by the Supreme Court, or that's the way the news releases read.

However, we read last week of one case, and the victim at the time was probably unaware of the sentence.

A news release on a killer of three people stated that he had been given a work assignment, in the prison print shop.

The new changes in mail service have had an effect on one type of service, for sure.

Nona Butler informed us last week that one of her relatives in California received his copy of The Enterprise on Friday, a first for the U.S. Postal Service.

When John Clark, city employee, lost some greenbacks a couple of weeks back, he didn't even make an effort to try to find them, because "I made about fourteen dozen stops, getting in and out of a city vehicle that day, and didn't have any idea where to begin to look for the money."

But John noticed a classified in the Enterprise Thursday, stating that some money had been found, and that the owner could have by stating the amount, and denomination of the bills.

And John didn't have any trouble doing that. Finder of the long green was Alicia Shoemaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shoemaker, 900 Sunset.

And because of her honesty, Alicia is a little richer this week, in more ways than one, and "Big John" is almost as rich as he was before he lost the money.

Friday is the final day for entering any of the Centennial contests, and for voting for the Citizen of the Year award to be presented by the Chamber of Commerce. City park plans furthered by council

Howe City Park came one step closer to reality during last Thursday night's monthly city council meeting, when council and owner of land proposed for the park reached a verbal agreement on an option to purchase the land.

C. C. Jones, who has offered the land at the request of the city for several years, outlined his proposals which were agreed to by council.

Legal papers are to be drawn by attorneys for the city and Jones. Option is to purchase the land at a cost of $1200 per acre for approximately 24 acres.

Representatives of the county planning commission, who are assisting with grant application for the park, were present; and outlined the status of the financial request. Representatives of the Parks and Wildlife Department are to examine the site shortly for approval by the state.

In other business, council approved a request by Fire Chief O. B. Powers and other representatives of the fire department for incentive for volunteer firemen; in the form of a $.00 Monthly allowance on their water bills, if they attend two monthly training sessions, or $2.50 for one attendance. Limit of the department was set at 25 members. Council agreed to another part of the request, a $250 per quarter ($1000 per year, to be used for regular department expense.

Powers said Howe now enjoys a 25% insurance discount due to fire credit, but the department needed additional equipment to keep pace with the growth of Howe and the area.

Voted to make application for Federal grant to aid the city in installing a 12-inch sewer main in Western Hills. The line is to replace an 8-inch line which has become inadequate due to growth of that section of the city, particularly the new 100-unit apartment complex recently completed. Cost of the project was set at around $10,000. Engineer John Wortham was authorized to advertise for bids for the project upon completion of necessary formalities. Council approved the engineer's plans for the improvement.

Followed advice of Jerry Chapman of the Texoma Regional Planning Commission to make application through HUD for a grant to increase the city's water supply in the form of a new well. Present service ran at near capacity during the recent hot weather.

City had already made such an application with EDA, but Chapman said approval by the government agency was doubtful. Cost of the project was estimated at around $150,000.

Discussed renovation of the front of the fire department building to coincide with a Chamber of Commerce drive for facelifting the downtown area, and tabled the project to obtain more bids.

Approved purchase of a new tranquilizer gun to be used to enforce the dog ordinance.

Discussed a proposed ranchette type development south of the Howe City limits.

Discussed a water service problem with Jack Parish, resident of southwest Howe, regarding service to that area. Parish told council he laid a 6-inch main from Western Hills to the site of his new home to the south in 1969, with the understanding that he would be re-imbursed in part when additional service was required in that area. Parish said a smaller line had been placed parallel to his, also tying on to city service in Western Hills. Parish was referred to minutes of the meeting when the project was approved for his home, listing service to the "south and west" would be required to tie on to the main purchased by him.

Equalization board meeting was set for 1:00 p.m. Saturday at City Hall. Persons who wish to discuss tax problems relating to city taxes may meet with the board,

Bulldogs win season opener, 13-12; meet Princeton Friday

Howe Bulldogs overcame a 12 point deficit in the second quarter last Friday night to edge the Anna Coyotes, 13-12, in the season opener for both teams.

The Coyotes scored first on a 41-yard run over the left side of the Bulldog defense by Wesley Scribner, 195-pound fullback. And with 39 seconds remaining in the first period, the Coyotes picked off a Howe pass at the Anna 13 and raced 87 yards for another score. Howe had penetrated to the Anna 13 from the 42 in four plays before giving up the score on an attempted screen pass. Anna failed on both point-after attempts.

The Bulldogs took the ensuing kick and marched from their 41 to the Anna 15 in seven plays, aided by a pair of penalties against the visitors, but the drive appeared to fizzle as the Coyote defense taxed the 'dogs 13 yards in the next three plays. Facing a fourth and 23, Vincent Hash, quarterback, dropped back and heaved a TD aerial to end Roger Lankford for the first Bulldog score. Ronnie Davis added what later proved to be the winning point with a boot through the uprights.

Following an exchange of punts, Anna faced a fourth and eight from their own 18-yard line, and, in trying to "kick out of a hole," set the wheels in motion for another Howe score. Lankford gathered in the kick on the Anna 46, fell in behind a wall of blockers, (continued on page two)

Centennial booster parade to tour area towns Saturday morning

A booster parade to neighboring towns to publicize the Howe Centennial, September 23-30, was set for 8:30 Saturday morning (this week) by members of the Chamber of Commerce at a called meeting Monday night.

Sponsors of queen candidates are asked to provide a car for their candidate for the trip. All persons interested in making the trip are to meet in front of Howe State Bank prior to the 8:30 departure time. Committee members will meet Thursday night to prepare signs and other forms of publicity for the trip.

Opening of the centennial celebration will be at 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 23, with a parade throughout the downtown area, followed by a barbecue, and professional wrestling matches at the high school gym at 8:00 p.m.

Events during the week include various contests, with deadline for registrations set for Sept. 15. Any resident of the Howe School District is eligible to enter the contests, sewing, cooking, dominoes, beads, fashion reviews, etc.

In addition, an art show, antique display, old fashioned store, and other displays are planned. Antique owners are asked to contact Mrs. L. H. Linker for display room. There will be no sales of antique items, Mrs. Linker said. In conjunction with the cooking contest, a bake sale is scheduled, with proceeds going toward completion of the proposed city park. Persons interested may donate items for the bake sale without entering the contest, it was decided. Mrs. Katie King is in charge of the cooking events.

Persons wishing to enter the art show may contact Mrs. Ann Wallace or Mrs. Dona Bearden (532-5328). Each artist may show as many entries as they wish, and no commission fee will be charged for any sales by artists.

Trophies will be awarded to domino tournament winners, (two first and two second place winners), and in the Old fashioned dress revue (five to be awarded) for best dressed couple, man, woman, boy and girl; three trophies in the beard contest, one each for the oldest resident of the city for man and woman and married couple, and a plaque to the "outstanding Citizen" of the year. In addition, ribbons will be awarded in the sewing contest and cooking contest. (There is no entry fee in the cooking contest, and a $1 fee will be charged, per person, in the sewing contest.)

Persons wishing to vie for the oldest citizen and oldest married couple awards may call Chamber President Ray Houston at Howe State Bank.

Old-fashioned dress up day has been set for Friday, September 22, with merchants and businessmen asked to participate in the event during the day and throughout the week-long celebration.

Ex-students reception set for the final day of the celebration will be held at the North Highway 5 school building. Anyone knowing the addresses of any ex-student or teachers are asked to invite them to the reception. The event will be held from 1:00 until 5:00 p.m., with refreshments to be served.

If interest is shown, an ex-students association will be organized. Hosting this year's reception will be James and Charlsie Tolbert Davis, Don and Martha Gray Adams, J. C. and Carrie Waller, Bob and Eva Lois Davis Smith, Marion and Nelda Jo Allison, and Marilee Cherry Wortham.

Queen contestants are asked to turn in all receipts for the contest Tuesday, September 19, with the contest continuing until noon Monday, September 25. Crowning of a Centennial Queen and a Junior miss queen is scheduled Monday night.

Wrestling tickets now available

Tickets were placed on sale this week for the Howe Fire Department sponsored wrestling matches to be held here next weekend. The matches will be held in the high school gymnasium beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

Fire Chief O. B. Powers, said the tickets are available at Howe State Bank, City Hall or White Auto Store. Ringside seats are going for $2.50, with reserved section, $2.00 and general admission, $1.00 for children and $1.50 for adults.

Events include a match between Bearcat Wright, a colored wrestler, and Crusher Stasiak, and a tag team event featuring Billy Red Lyons and Ray Dupree against Pedro Godoy and Frank Monte.

Proceeds from the wrestling will be used to purchase fire fighting equipment, Powers said.

Should have been--but wasn't. The pigskin was just off the fingertips of end David Hill in last week's contest with Anna. Howe won, 13-12.

Howe's that...

IF YOU CAN'T STAND THE HEAT, GET OUT OF THE KITCHEN! - Politics can be a very dirty business. Elected officials sometimes are harassed, threatened, and subjected to nasty rumors. Unfortunately, sometimes nice people with much to contribute are scared away by this type of behavior.

A Van Alstyne school board member resigned her position recently. Although no official reason was given for the resignation, board members said it was due to mail and telephone harassment she had suffered in connection with her service.

I know of several people in Howe whom I feel would make good city council or school board members, but they don't want to run for office because of this type problem. Elected officials do get a lot of heat; and if these people aren't willing to take that heat, they have no business getting into politics. Still, it is a shame that our community will lose out on their contributions which might have benefited our city and/or school.

What bothers me most about the case in Van Alstyne is that some people stoop to such low tactics as mail harassment. We all have a right to disagree with our elected officials and to express that disagreement. But we should be willing to sign our name to such disagreement. We also must allow the other person to hold his opinion even if we disagree. Our disagreement should be with the viewpoint and not the person.

I firmly believe every citizen has a right to question government officials (local, state and federal). Every citizen has a right to express an opinion. Everyone has a right to agree or disagree. But elected officials should not be subjected to threats and harassment just because of these disagreements.

As a post script to this editorial, I would like to add: If people with good ideas to contribute to our city and school are driven away, who will we have left to lead our government?

YOUR TURN - I have expressed my opinion on a matter I feel is important. Now it is your turn. You may agree or disagree. Your opinion may be about the above editorial or about another matter entirely. But I would like to hear from you. "Letters to the Editor" are invited on any subject. These letters may be sent to Howe Enterprise, PO Box 488, Howe, TX 75059 or brought by the office at 110 E. Haning St. All letters must be signed, but the name will be withheld if the writer asks. Letters not personally given to the editor should include a telephone number for verification. Please keep letters short (about 200-250 words) and to the point. Farm & Ranch Display To Open Sunday

The Sherman Historical Museum will formally open the Farm & Ranch Room & Exhibit Sunday, Sept. 19, 2-5 p.m.

The exhibit will include artifacts that would be found on early-day farms and ranches. A mural backdrop was painted by local artist Mary Ann Obenour. Fred Holcomb, a carpenter who lives in Howe, built a barn facade from time-worn wood. The artifacts include a sidesaddle, crosscut saws that were used to clear land, a wagon wheel made of bois d'arc wood, plows, planters and post hole diggers.

Veteran Sherman cattleman Pete Hudgins provided technical help and donated several of the artifacts.

The rotating exhibit for the next quarter will be related to the new exhibit. Cowboy dress and tools and fencing tools are on loan from Bas Jones of Pottsboro. Other tools have been loaned by B.J. Patterson and Neilan Schneider of Sherman.

The museum is located at 301 S. Walnut in Sherman. Hours are 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 5 p.m. Fridays, 2 to 5 p.m. weekends. Tours at other times are available by special arrangement.

Fire Meeting

The Howe Volunteer Fire Dept. will hold their regular meeting Tuesday, Sept. 21, at 7:30 p.m. Officers for 1982-83 will be elected. All members need to attend this meeting.

4-H Makes Plans

The first meeting of the Adults Leaders Association for the new 4-H year was held on Monday, Sept. 13. Howe 4-H was well represented as 9 of the 23 people in attendance were from Howe. Hopefully next month the information will get to more adult leaders who may be interested in attending.

Attending from Howe were Bob Madison, Bill and Elaine Lankford, Jania Schneider, Mrs. Glen Schneider, Keith and Pat Hayes, and Rodney and Betty Naquin. Plans for the coming year were discussed. More leaders are still needed. Call and volunteer today so you can start planning in the beginning for the coming year. The young 4-H group needs help and many, many projects are available.

Some items of interest discussed were:

*Loy Lake Steer Registration for 1983 deadline is Oct. 1, 1982. No late entries will be accepted. See Rodney Naquin or Keith Hayes for more information.

*Organizational Leaders & Project Leader Training Session - Monday, Sept. 21, 7 p.m., Courthouse Assembly Room, to assist leaders in fulfilling their job descriptions and leader roles. Come and learn about membership, projects, club involvement, and recruiting new leaders. Anyone interested in helping should come and join this session.

*Officer Training Session will be held Oct. 11 at 7 p.m. in the Assembly Room. All new elected officers for this year are expected to attend so they will have the information available that will be necessary to fulfill the office for which they have been elected. If you need a ride, please call Rodney Naquin or Keith Hayes.

*There is a new Senior 4-H Group being formed for ages 14-19.

*A halloween party for the 4-H will be held Oct. 16 in Tom Bean.

*A special rabbit training course will be held on Oct. 5, 10, and 23.

*Rural youth day at the State Fair will be on Oct. 16. Anyone interested in free tickets should contact Rodney Naquin.

*A Veterinary Medicine Project will begin next month. More information will follow.

*The Denton State School is collected Bar Codes to purchase needed supplies such as wheel chairs. Please start saving so we can contribute our part. It is a great community effort and you can use this help on your Record Books as a Community Affairs Project. Also Campbell Soup Labels.

Registration and Entry Fees for the Loy Lake Steer Show is due into the Courthouse by Oct. 1. Please get them to the 4-H leaders before that. No late entries will be accepted. If you have any questions on any of the 4-H plans, please call Rodney Naquin at 892-8257 or Keith Hayes at 476-2811.

Howe 4-H Meets

The Howe 4-H Club met Saturday, Sept. 11, at the high school cafeteria at 1 p.m. The new 4-H leaders for Howe are Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Naquin.

Officers for 1982-83 were elected: President - Christy Sollis; Vice President - Shane Cavender; Secretary - Sherry Markham; Treasurer - Rhonda Naquin; Reporter - Lisa Adcock; Council Delegate - Sheila Hayes; and Alternate - Stephen Ogle.

Jerri Kelley of the County Extension Office talked about 4-H and the record books.

Sept. 18 will be a livestock show at Leonard.

On Oct. 30 there will be a county show at Loy Lake. Entries will be due Oct. 15.

When the Howe Bulldogs and the Royse City Bulldogs met at Garland Memorial Stadium, Saturday, Sept. 11, everyone knew that Bulldogs would come out on top. Thanks to a team effort and what Howe Coach Buck Smith called "exceptional effort from our defense," Howe won 28-7.

Howe quarterback Scott Taylor made a 1-yard touchdown run and Barry Dunn made a 2-yard TD run in the first period put Howe in the lead early on. Norman Mutchler added the extra points with good kicks after each TD.

In the second period Taylor again made it across the goal line on a 4-yard run and Mutchler added another good PAT kick giving Howe a 21-0 lead at the half.

In the third quarter Taylor threw a 10-yard pass to David Carlson for a TD and Mutchler added another point with his kick.

Royse City got on the scoreboard late in the third period with blocked punt and a good PAT kick. Coach Smith singled out Taylor, Dunn, Carlson and Jamie Hussey for their defensive performances.

Taylor carried the ball 18 times for 98 yards. Dunn carried 13 for 48 yards and Carlson carried 2 times for 31 yards. In passing Taylor completed three of seven tries for a total gain of 42 yards. Dunn caught a 6-yard pass; Carlson caught the 10-yard TD pass, and Steven Dobbins caught a 27-yard pass.

Friday, Sept. 17, Howe goes to Celina, 2-0, for an 8 p.m. game.

Council Passes Budget On First Reading

The Howe City Council held the 1982-83 budget hearing on Tuesday, Sept. 7. In regards to salaries and pay increases, Mrs. Cox asked how the city could afford to give an 8 percent raise. She said, "State and local industries cannot afford this much increase."

Floodas said the State had just passed an 8.7% salary increase. Haigis said Texas Instruments is giving a 10% increase and Cate added that Johnson & Johnson is also giving a 10% increase on salaries. (Note: According to the Sherman Democrat of Sept. 8, 1982 the City of Sherman is giving 8% across-the-board salary increases for city employees.)

Cate also said the salary increases for City of Howe employees is not an across-the-board pay raise. The increase is in the budget, but the amount of increase is at the discretion of the supervisor of each dept.

Another question by Mrs. Cox concerned the sewer grant money needed by Oct. 1. Floodas said that City Engineer John Wortham is working with the city on this and possibly the grant will be walked through Austin to avoid a high attorney fee.

Another possibility is to get the money through the Municipal Utility District (a certificate of obligation which is not a bond).

The council then voted to accept the budget on the first reading. Vote was unanimous in favor. The second reading will be at the Sept. 16 council meeting.

Council also discussed paving of Beatrice St. at the east side of the high school from Aubrey St. to Roberts St. The city street dept. will prepare the street and the contractor will do the paving which is expected to take only one day.

The council also set the tax rate at 49c, the same amount as last year. The money will be divided as follows: 94% to general, 4% into Rattan, and 2% into sinking. (The last two concern bonded indebtedness.)

City of Howe Report

City Administrator Joe Fenton reports the following activities in the city during the past two weeks:

Several stray dogs have been picked up. A number of water leaks have been repaired in recent weeks. A water leak occurred at the mobile home park when a plastic pipe broke. The line was repaired temporarily on Sept. 3 and on Sept. 10 the water dept.

put in a 4" steel pipe and an extra gate valve to make a permanent repair. A water leak on Walnut has been repaired. On Monday, Sept. 13, the cap on the end of a 6" water main at Haning and Collins Freeway blew off. The line was repaired. Fowler Construction is expected to pave Beatrice St. next to the high school this week.

City Administrator Joe Fenton said that information would be included in the audit which is done each year.

Another question involved the salaries of city secretary Marilee Vaughan and clerk Carol Carter. Fenton provided a figure of $5.96 per hour base pay plus 35c longevity pay for Mrs.

Council To Meet

The Howe City Council will meet Thursday, Sept. 16, at 7 p.m. Items on the agenda include: approve minutes; under Old Business - second reading of fuel cost factor for TP&L, second reading on budget, sewer project financing, Logan Puckett - street; Public hearing on revenue sharing (expected funds $9,720); New Business - ordinance on water-sewer-sanitation charges, amend 1981-82 budget, transfer funds (sanitation and 1955 series Howe State Bank); Department reports from police chief and city administrator; financial statement.

SIDELINE SUPPORT

Members of the Bulldog football team along with Coach McQueen (second from right) support and watch the action from the sidelines. Howe lost to Roysce City, 21-13, on Sept. 11.

Howe, 13; Roysce City, 21

The Howe Bulldogs won the first half of the game on Friday, Sept. 11, 13-0; unfortunately, the Roysce City Bulldogs came back after half time and scored three TD's to win the game, 21-13.

Coach McQueen said, "I felt like our kids did a great job in the first half, however, we didn't keep the momentum going through the second half."

Howe took the opening kickoff and moved the ball just over the 50 into Roysce City territory before the drive stalled out on a four and six from the RC 44. Roysce City took over for four plays but the Howe defense held them to a gain of only 2 yards in 4 plays.

Howe took the punt midfield and advanced to the RC 19 on a 7-yard run on a quarterback keeper by Brian Freese and a 20-yard run by Doug Ogle. On the next play Jay Carson carried the ball to the RC 10. Daniel Faz kicked the extra point for a 7-0 lead with 7:04 left in the first quarter.

Howe's defense held Roysce City for four plays and then the Dogs took over. Their drive ended at the RC 29 when Freese's pass was intercepted. Howe's defense worked overtime on the next 4 plays pushing Roysce City for a loss. A bad snap on the punt gave Howe the ball on the RC 3 yard line. Three plays later Carson again carried the ball across the line, this time from 1 yard out. The PAT kick failed. With 27 seconds left in the first quarter, Howe led 13-0.

Howe missed out on three chances to score in the second quarter. Early in the quarter they advanced the ball to the RC 13, but a couple of passes fell incomplete and Roysce City took over.

On Howe's next series, Freese's pass was intercepted at the RC 17. And on Howe's final possession of the first half, Freese's pass was intercepted at the RC 13.

A fired up Roysce City team came out on the field after halftime and scored a TD on the second play of the quarter with a 62-yard run by Devon Bailey. The PAT kick brought the score to 13-7 with 11:08 left in the third period. Howe was unable to gain much ground and Roysce City took over. They fumbled the ball to Howe at the Howe 20 - (Faz recovered the ball for Howe). On their next possessions Howe and Roysce City both gained a first down but stalled. Then as the fourth quarter began Howe fumbled to Roysce City at their own 28 and two plays later Brian Freese intercepted a Roysce city pass. Starting at their own 20 the Dogs lost ground on the next four plays and punted. Roysce City started midfield and used four plays to score a TD and PAT kick to lead Howe 14-13 with 7:40 left in the game.

Jeremy Francis returned the kickoff to the Roysce city 45, but Howe lost possession three plays later on a fumble at the RC 41.

Roysce City used six plays this time to score a TD and PAT kick for a 20-13 score with 3:04 left in the game.

Howe took over at their own 36 for the last series of the game. Freese completed a couple of passes (one to #12 and one to Carson.) Just when it seemed over on a quarterback sack, a face mask penalty against Roysce City gave the Dogs another chance. However, the Dogs momentum failed and the game ended in a loss, Howe's second in two games.

Freese completed six of 15 passes for 95 yards but had 3 interceptions. Francis caught 2 for 62 yards. Carson caught 2 for 24. Stephen Dedman caught 1 for 5 and Chad Norton caught 1 for 4. On the ground Howe gained 112 yards. Ogle led with 68 yards on 14 carries; Carson had 39 yards on 12 carries; Kai [unclear] had 11 yards on 10 carries. One of our kids throughout the game because they kept a positive attitude. They were very disappointed after the game and that shows the sign of athletes who care that they lost. You can't fault them for their efforts. Our kids will learn from their mistakes and become more experienced each week."

Homecoming '92 Notes

Homecoming '92 and the theme "Remember When..." is being responded to in a very positive way. Reservations for the meal on Oct. 3 are coming in at a fast pace as well as address corrections to be placed in the Ex-Student Directory. Here are some additional notes that might be of interest as we draw nearer to Homecoming '92:

1. Judy and Jimmy Finney will be video taping at all scheduled events. During individual interviews, they will be asking for a favorite memory of the school and/or the town. Have something in mind for them.

2. The Homecoming Committee is not selling tickets to the football game. Tickets will be on sale that week at the high school office, middle school office and Howe State Bank. Pre-game sales close at noon on Friday, Oct. 2. The cost of admission to the ball game at the gate will be $4.00.

3. At the pep rally Friday afternoon at 2:40, the school has arranged for some floor level seating for those who do not like to climb up in the stands. It may be that a special section will be available for EXES.

Also all ex-cheerleaders are asked to call Tina Yates at Howe High School (532-5222) and let her know if you will be attending the pep rally. We want you to be a part of a special yell!

4. Tickets for the Saturday lunch will be sold at the ball game and at the reception after the game. However, to help us in consider sending in reservations early. Forms can be found in last week's Howe Enterprise or in the Homecoming '92 brochure.

5. The classes of '42 and '67 will be recognized at the game Friday night because of their 50th and 25th reunion years.

6. Friday night, all exes who were cheerleaders (at any level, i.e. junior high, junior varsity, varsity) will be asked to form the victory lane and lead in the singing of the school song.

7. Vicki Langdon has been in charge of publicity and has helped greatly in announcing our activities in newspapers, radio, and TV. There still may be some who are not aware of Homecoming '92 so continue to be verbal regarding this event.

8. We do not have list of former teachers of Howe. Please invite those that you know of - they are a big part of our success.

9. All former members of the Howe High School Band are invited to bring their musical instruments to the Oct. 2 game and play in the stands during the third quarter.

Weathering A Hurricane

by Kate Crowder

All the news on the TV, radio, and newspapers about hurricane Andrew carried me back to Aug. 17, 1969 and another hurricane. We lived in Biloxi, Mississippi, about 900 feet from the Gulf of Mexico. The news media had advised all to leave the coast, but we had been through several storms before so we decided to stay. Never again!

We had filled our water tank in the trailer, filled the tub with water. Tied down everything in the yard we could. Put the garbage cans in the garage. Found all the flashlights we had. Placed the Coleman lantern on the floor of the living room. Then came rain, hail, high winds.

We had asked two young airmen from Keesler Air Force Base to stay overnight with us. All were in the living room talking. Had the front door open so the neighbors could see the lantern. I saw huge trees flying parallel down the street in the front of the house. Also saw a small car, chairs, garbage cans. Anything that hadn't been tied down real good was flying about.

Light wires coming into the door off. We lost electricity at 9:27 p.m. The winds had picked up to well over 100 mph. There was a loud crash as tree trunk came through the living room ceiling. No one was hurt. The lantern was worth its weight in gold. It was the only light for blocks around. Objects were hitting the sides of the house. Another loud crash. A tree had fallen on my car.

Around midnight, we were startled by the ringing of the telephone. It was our son-in-law in New Mexico. He said he had been listening to the radio short wave and at 9:27 all went dead. He wanted to know how we were. I told him okay for then, but had damages to the house and car. But we asked him to get to the hospital as soon as he could to keep our daughter Barbara from finding out about us (she had a baby son on Saturday.) That was the last call we had on the telephone for 17 days.

Then there was dead calm, we were in the eye of the storm. Soon the rain and high winds started up again for several hours. Around 3:45 a.m. the wind and rain died. We decided to try to get some rest for we knew we had a lot of work to do at daylight.

No phone, no water, but we were alive. Clyde chopped the tree off of the car so he could get to his (ham) radio and get on the air. We believe he was the first one to make contact with the world from our area after the hurricane. We had gone through winds of up to 220 mph.

I will never forget what I saw the next few days. Large ships were two blocks inland. Everything south of the railroad for 32 miles was gone. Homes and stores were gone. I couldn't even find a brick of the grocery store I traded with. Working in the radio field, Clyde had a small generator which was soon put to good use. He ran his radio. We plugged in the deep freezer and refrigerator so we could let people with small children use them for milk and also for medications.

There are so many stories I could write. I lost a close, dear friend. Many treasures became lost because of the storm and every one. My prayers are with them. If you want to help, please do so. Also remember the children need toys as well as food, water clothes. So remember them too.

(Editor's Note: Kate Crowder writes the "Kate's Korner" column of the paper. She submitted this story of how she and her husband Clyde weathered a hurricane in 1969.)

Perot Rally

The United We Stand, America Perot Petition Committee will hold a Perot Rally Saturday, Sept. 26, noon to 4 p.m. at Loy Lake Park, Denison.

They ask: Are you happy with George Bush's plan? Are you happy with Bill Clinton's plan? or How about Ross Perot's plan? (A plan which includes each and every American.)

The public is invited to attend the rally. Bring a sack lunch, cold drinks and lawn chairs for entertainment and an All American picnic.

Fall Festival Set

With Fall just around the corner, it's time to start planning the annual Fall Festival, sponsored by the PTA to raise funds for "educational needs" in the classrooms. The event is an evening of fun for the family.

Fall Festival has been scheduled for Oct. 17 with the good times starting an hour earlier this year, 5-8:45 p.m. In case of serious rain, the date will be Monday, Oct. 19., time changing to 6-8:45 to accommodate work schedules.

All participants in the Fall Festival must fill out a registration form to be turned in no later than Oct. 3. Forms for all classes and school sponsored organization will be sent to each campus. If you are with a non-profit organization in the Howe community and would like a registration form, please contact Kelli Locke at 532-6309.

Mail completed registration forms to:

- Fall Festival Committee 1992
- PO Box 1107
- Howe, TX 75459

Fall Festival promises to be fun for everyone. So circle Oct. 17 on your calendar, and bring family and friends for a great time.

Saturday and Sunday the Sherman Theatrics group presented the classic story for children of all ages - "The Wizard of Oz" at Kidd-Key Auditorium.

Those who were able to obtain tickets (it was pretty much sold out) enjoyed 2½ hours of lively entertainment complete with flying witches and monkey as well as a pink 'bubble' in which Glinda the good witch arrived on stage as if floating.

In this version, the part of Toto the dog was played by an 8-year-old girl dressed in a black furry suit with ponytails for ears and her face painted to look dog-like. In my opinion this actress stole the show. I know I enjoyed watching her antics and listening to her yipping barks.

The whole troupe of child actors did an excellent job of singing, dancing, etc. It was a delightful way to spend a Sunday afternoon.

Six years have passed since September 11, 2001 - a day that will long live in the memories of those who watched their TV sets for hours watching the World Trade Center collapse. We stood or sat crying and shocked to realize that terrorists had flown planes into the WTC buildings and the Pentagon. We admired the bravery of the crew of Flight 93 who stormed the cockpit to stop the terrorists and died when the plane crashed on that Pennsylvania plain.

That event bound Americans together, ready to rise from the ashes and take on all comers.

We sang "I'm Proud to be an American," and "America the Beautiful." We donated blood. We donated money. We wanted to do something to help.

Let's remember those who died. Let's remember the sorrow still felt by those who lost loved ones. Let's always remember that day.

Texoma Chordringers to present annual show Sept. 29

Texoma Chordringers, the Sherman Chapter of the Barber-shop Harmony Society, will be presenting their annual show on Saturday, September 29. It will be performed at the Silver Wings Club on the west campus of Grayson County College.

As Time Goes By II, is an account of the exploits of a wacky professor and his time machine. The professor wishes to study music from past eras, but has trouble getting to the Renaissance time period. His first attempt puts everyone into the 1950s in a small town listening to a radio outside a local store. His next attempt, looking for Gregorian Chants, pushes way back to 30,000 BC and cave men singing around their campfire.

WASHINGTON, DC

Hall issues statement on 6th Anniversary of 9-11

Rep. Ralph Hall (R-TX/4th) issued the following statement on the anniversary of September 11, 2001:

"...we remember with thoughts and prayers those Americans who lost their lives on September 11, 2001, and their families and friends who mourn their passing.

"On that day America declared war on terrorism, and today that fight continues in Iraq, in Afghanistan, and in countries around the world where terrorists plot to kill innocent citizens and destroy the fabric of freedom that we have fought long and hard to preserve. We have lost many brave Americans in this struggle, and many more have been gravely injured. Today we honor the sacrifice of these fallen heroes. Our Nation owes them a debt of gratitude and support that can never be fully paid.

"The war on terror has been like no other. The enemy hides among innocent civilians to wage deadly attacks and seeks to coerce and intimidate by targeting both civilians and soldiers. Our soldiers are under immense pressure - tactically, physically, and emotionally - but they are prevailing. Our troops have killed or captured dozens of leaders and thousands of members of Al Qaeda. The new surge in Iraq is showing some positive - if uneven - results. While much remains to be done, it does seem that we have new momentum.

"I returned from my trip to Iraq last month with renewed hope that we can reach a point next year when we can begin to transfer more authority to Iraqi troops and security forces and begin an honorable withdrawal of our troops. General Petraeus and Ambassador Crocker are providing excellent leadership, and I anticipate that their report to Congress next week will give an accurate and cautiously optimistic portrayal of the situation in Iraq. Attacks by Al Qaeda have declined, basic services are improving, and local leaders are coming forward in pursuit of peace. Now is not the time to change course.

"The challenges in Iraq are formidable - but the strategic consequences of failure would be enormous. We should be encouraged by the new momentum and give General Petraeus and our troops the time they need."

GCC Hosts Financial Aid Workshop

"Understanding Financial Aid and Paying for College" will be the focus of an information session scheduled for 7 pm, Sept. 13 at Grayson County College. This free session is part of a series of monthly presentations to help families and students navigate the world of higher education.

"With the cost of higher education continuing to climb, it is important for students and their families to understand the options available that can help make college affordable," said Shelle Cassell, GCC marketing and public information director. She adds, "Most of the financial aid information that will be presented is applicable to any college or university."

The session will be held in the Center for Workplace Learning on the Main Campus. Reservations are requested by Sept 10 so that materials can be prepared for each participant. Reservations may be made by contacting Charles Leslie at 903-415-2532 or email to leslic@grayson.edu. The monthly series is hosted by GCC's Student Services personnel. Refreshments will be served.

Late Knight surge spoils homecoming

Billy Graham once said, "One coach will impact more young people in a year than the average person does in a lifetime." I was blessed to be coached by Jim Fryar for one year and I will say, he impacted me as much as anyone. My other coaches including Billy Hill, Joey McQueen and Tracy Beaty all had major impacts on who I've grown to be and I would say Billy Graham hit it on the head with that quote.

There is one missing element at Bulldog Stadium that had alumni a buzz at homecoming and that is the missing Victory Light. Coach Hudson says that the ag department is in the process of making a new one that will go high on the press box. The Bulldogs have already missed two opportunities to have a 'light the V' celebration after the game.

There are plans for a 'Welcome to Historic Downtown Howe' mural placed the outside wall of 101 E. Denny that faces the post office. The design will have a modern look to it but with features that tip the hat to years passed. Advertising spots will be available.

2014 Homecoming Queen - Madeline Ansley

Madeline Ansley was named the 2014 Howe Homecoming Queen. She is the daughter of Shawwna and Robert Ansley. She is currently the National Honor Society president, student council secretary, participates in Chi Alpha and is serving in her second year as drum major for the Band. After high school she hopes to attend college and major in vocal performance and theater.

The ceremony was in jeopardy to being on time due to the rainfall of the morning and afternoon. Also a late ending volleyball game made officials wonder whether the two volleyball girls that were in the Queen's Court would be able to get ready and make it in time for the pre-game ceremony. However, everything went smoothly and Ansley was crowned at 7:07 pm.

Much like a heavyweight fight, Howe and The Lindsay Knights battled it out with Howe winning every round up until a very late punch to the gut which sent the Bulldogs (2-1) to the turf only to suffer their first loss of the season, 21-10.

Don't mistake Lindsay (3-0) for your 'run-of-the-mill' Class 2A team. They are one of the better teams in North Texas below the 4A level. The town may be tiny, but the kids are far from it. Lindsay's noseguard Connor Pelzel dominated from his position. The Lindsay Knights returned eight starters on defense from a team that went undefeated and won their district in 2013. Their Head Coach Charles Boles is now 15-9 since 2012. Howe took the ball first due to Lindsay winning the toss and electing to defer to the second half. The Bulldogs punted on their first possession to the Lindsay 43 yard line. Easton Ross intercepted Lindsay quarterback James Fuller's pass on the first offensive play for the Knights. Ross actually fumbled the ball, but Anthony Hawthorne was there to recover.

The two teams exchanged punts before Howe had the ball at their own 29 yard-line and a huge decision had to be made on a 4th and inches situation. Howe elected to roll the dice and go for it early. Hawthorne got the call and carried it
