I spent my early business career in radio at KMKT, KLAK, and KMAC which are FM radio stations now owned by NextMedia. However, back in the late 1990s and early 2000s, it was owned by Bill Harrison, who was a very hands-on manager and one of my biggest business mentors of my life. This weekend, he was inducted into the Texas Radio Hall of Fame and I was fortunate enough to be able to be in attendance in Kilgore on Saturday. Bill once told me when I was a very young 24 that he thought I would own my own business one day. I thought that was laughable, but he was right - as he has been with most of the things he's ever said or done. He also said in his induction speech that, "If you take care of the community - the community will take care of you." And with that comment, I realized that his influence on me was far more reaching than I ever really thought.

I have made a living the past three years by taking care of my community and you, the community have certainly taken care of me. Thank you Bill Harrison. Thank you Howe!

Voting takes place tomorrow for Howe ISD bond

Voting day is tomorrow for Howe ISD tax payers on a $17 million bond that would allow for the district to construct a new four-grade campus to help with overall crowding of the 50-year-old campus that sits in the center of N. Collins Freeway, Roberts, Beatrice, Aubrey Streets. Early voting resulted in 315 total ballots cast.

The new school would house the four grade levels of pre-kindergarten, kindergarten, first grade, and second grade. The new school would be constructed in a way that would allow for easy expansion to become a full elementary school as growth continues. The additional facility would allow for much more breathing room at the present elementary and middle school campuses where students are currently sharing one cafeteria and grade levels are eating lunch from 10 am through 1:40 pm. It would also reduce the traffic count during morning and afternoon times.

The ISD says that the school is growing by nine percent annually and that the approved bond would mean that a home appraised at $100,000 would see a tax increase of $14.31 per month. A home valued at $250,000 would see an increase of $42.94 per month.

A group has been formed by the name of "Bulldogs 4 Bulldogs" that have placed yard signs and banners throughout the city. They also had an information booth at the Fall Festival on Saturday to give information to voters.

Send-off to take place for Band this morning

The Howe High School Marching Band will be headed to San Antonio this morning to compete for their fourth state title since the inception of the program in the mid-1970s. 'The Pride of Howe' announced a send-off through town that will take place this morning at 9 am.

The buses will leave Howe High School and route down Highway 5 and turn right on Haning Street. The band buses will then make a left turn on King Street and block around the elementary and middle school campuses before heading back to Haning Street on Collins Freeway to get on Highway 75. Kids at the campus are expected to hold signs in support of the band.

Pilot Point ends Howe's playoff hopes, 38-16

It wasn't for a lack of effort. The Howe Bulldogs (0-9, 0-4) fought their way to a 16-14 halftime lead and were pushing with momentum midway through the third quarter, but the Bearcats of Pilot Point (3-6, 2-2) took advantage of opportunities and eventually drowned out any hopes that the Bulldogs had of the playoffs.

Should Howe have held on to win on Friday night and then defeat Callisburg this coming Friday, who has only scored 31 points in district play, Howe would have clinched the fourth playoff spot. The scenario was nearly identical a year ago and it was Howe who slammed the door on Pilot Point's hopes. This year, turnabout was apparently fair play.

The game began with high hopes as Howe's offensive rushing attack cut through the Pilot Point defense like a hot knife through butter. Howe started with a season-high 14 play drive that went 57 yards. Howe, who has had a hard time in red zone, once again stalled out near the endzone. However, a heave into the endzone from

Howe's Fall Festival tradition is no drag

A few members of the Fall Festival Queen's Court.
Michelle Carney/Howe Enterprise

The Fall Festival in Howe is the gift that has kept on giving since 1977. The 31st annual event held raised thousands of dollars for school activities. The festival was originally held in the downtown area from 1977-1985, but moved to the parking lot of Charles R. Thompson Gymnasium in 1986 after the concrete was poured on the lot.

For many years, the junior class held a performance show, but the juniors now have changed the tradition to include a Fall Festival Queen's Court. This year, "Fancy Nancy" (also known as Spencer Akins) won the crown as the Fall Festival Queen 2017.

The festival has also

Howe quarterback Chase Harvey (25) breaks through the Pilot Point defense for yardage. Michelle Carney/Howe Enterprise.

Chase Harvey to Ty Harvey drew a defensive pass interference call which gave Howe a fresh set of downs at the two yard line. The Dogs immediately punched it in from the two with an option pitch to senior Andrew Griffin who strolled in for the score. Howe, needing a 14-point win to guarantee a playoff spot (coupled with a win versus Callisburg) chose to go for a two-point conversion after the touchdown. Harvey threw a successful throwback pass to Dylan Moreau for the points and Howe had an early 8-0 lead with 5:59 left in the first.

The build upon the momentum, Howe held Pilot Point to a four-and-out punt. However, Pilot Point punter Jaimie Tavera pinned Howe deep at their own 11 yard line. Howe was unable to muster a drive and punted it back. The Bearcats took advantage of the short field that started at their own 48 yard line and scored eight plays later on a Quincy Kemp 3-yard run. Kemp also threw a 2-point conversion to quarterback Jacob Pitts to tie the game a 8-8.

Howe, with much at stake, answered right back immediately with another impressive 13-play drive that went 73 yards and took over five minutes off the clock. Chase Harvey took it over on a quarterback keeper from the on yard line to give the Bulldogs the 14-8 lead. Again going for the 2-point conversion, Harvey hit Mason Riggs in the endzone to give Howe a 16-8 lead with 7:15 left in the second quarter.

The Bearcats, playing for their playoff hopes also, drive six plays and 63 yards to answer Howe with another Kemp touchdown, this one from the five yard line. The Dogs' Ty Harvey intercepted the 2-point conversion and Howe retained the lead at 16-14.

Both team traded punts before the the half and Pilot Point opened the third quarter with the ball and a chance to take the lead, however, Howe turned away the Bearcats on a crucial fourth down conversion which gave the Dogs the ball at their own 36 yard line.

The Bulldogs had all of the momentum in the game and the drive was shaping to be a back-breaker to the Bearcats thanks to Andrew Griffin and his powerful running attack. But Howe faced a third and four at the Bearcat 46 yard line and attempted a pass which resulted in a sack back to the Howe 49. That ended the drive with a punt and also ended the momentum for Howe for the remainder of the game.

Pilot Point scored to take the lead for the first time in the game, 17-16, eight plays later on a Tavera 30-yard field goal with 1:59 left in the third quarter.

Howe's next drive ended in a punt that was returned by Javon Bruce back to the Howe 13 yard line. It only took one play for the Bearcats to punch it in by Pitts on a quarterback scramble. Kemp ran the 2-point conversion to extend the Bearcats lead to 25-16 with 9:35 left in the game.

Howe turned the ball over on downs on their next possession, but forced Pilot Point to punt. Howe got it back with 5:30 left in the game, but on first down, a halfback pass by Mason Riggs was intercepted by Pitts at the Howe 28 yard line. Two plays later, Pilot Point scored again on a 19-yard Kemp run. The score was 32-16 with 4:56 left in the game.

Howe had another shot, but Harvey's pass was intercepted by Javin Bruce at the Pilot Point 32 yard line. The Bearcats scored their final points on a Tavera punt that bounced passed Griffin who picked it up at the three yard line with momentum taking him in the endzone. The ball was stripped in the endzone and recovered by Pilot Point for the final score of the game to round it out at 38-16 and ending Howe's playoff chances.

Howe will face Callisburg (1-8, 0-4) this Friday at home for the final game of the seniors' high school career. It is senior night and the ceremony will begin before the game.

Mercy is the result of humility

It's easy to be suspicious and though it's wrong, unfortunately it's common to judge unfairly and display negative emotions toward others. If we could only remember that many people are going through some type of painful trial and difficulty which usually explains their unusual behavior. I am regularly involved with those who are struggling with serious problems and it changes your perspective when you know the circumstances. As Christians we are called to be a light that represents the nature of Jesus and this includes patience, mercy, long-suffering, forgiveness, and love. This is so that everyone can see Christ within us and hopefully inspire them to learn more about who He is. When we act ugly and rude, we are actually turning others away from the message of grace that we proclaim is the spiritual compass the lost world desperately needs. You have probably noticed that people around you are carefully observing your every move which by the way is having a direct impact on what they think about you and God. It's true, how we live reveals much more about us than even what we say.

It would be wonderful if we could know what is going on within the lives of those all around us but most of the time we can hardly deal with our own problems. I published a book last year called "A lifestyle of worship" that is about developing a spiritual awareness of God's presence and how this discernment can drastically change the way we see life. I am convinced we will not grow in our compassion for people until we draw nearer to God. It only makes sense the closer we are to Him the more concern we will have for others. When I'm focused and trying to do God's will, I am more humble and have no desire to judge others. It's when we are distant from Him and filled with arrogance that we gravitate toward negative and critical reactions. Rick Warren is quoted, "God's mercy to us is the motivation for showing mercy to others. Remember, you will never be asked to forgive someone else more than God has forgiven you."

I read a story a while back about a young stewardess that told about her experiences. She had always considered herself a happy and positive person and was so excited when she had been selected among many capable candidates. She wanted to help people and serve others and this unique opportunity seemed perfect. However, shortly after she began her new career, the glamorous imaginations turned to a disappointing reality as she realized she was hardly more than a waitress working 30,000 feet above the ground. Nonetheless, she continued trying to be positive but started to become more of an actor that went through the motions of faking a smile and constantly forcing a thank you to groups of people that were rude and harsh. She discovered over time that when someone was desperately calling out for her it was usually not an emergency but rather to complain because their coffee was cold.

One day she noticed a man boarding the plane that was carrying a black plastic garbage bag which is an automatic red flag. He placed the bag in the overhead and patted the closure softly. She was having a bad day and with being highly suspicious of what was inside the bag, she warned the crew to keep an eye on him. All of these negative thoughts were swirling inside her mind and had given her a hateful impression even though she knew nothing about the situation. As he was waiting in line for the bathroom she finally saw a perfect chance to pounce on him with a subtle interrogation about his intentions. He looked at her with tears in his eyes and said he had come to New York because his only son was a first responder at ground zero and had been killed when the towers collapsed. He had picked up his uniform which was so precious to him and it was in the plastic bag in the overhead bin. These are the wake-up calls to our conscience that remind us of what a vast difference there is between the way we see life and the way life really is. "Blessed are the merciful: for they shall receive mercy" Matthew 5:7.

Learn about antiques and collectibles with Dr. Georgia Caraway

Dr. Georgia Caraway

Well Halloween is behind us and we are entering the gorgeous Fall season and our thoughts turn to the Thanksgiving holiday. This holiday seems overshadowed by Christmas with all the stores pushing December 25 and skipping over a month devoted to gratitude. So I am devoting my columns for this month to Thanksgiving.

Q. Each Thanksgiving my grandmother uses this lovely plate from her china closet to set her table. The mark on the back says “Three Crown China Germany” in a circle surrounding three crowns. The turkey decoration looks hand-painted with the signature “Huchs.” Can you tell me anything about it?

A A proclamation signed by President Abraham Lincoln on October 3, 1863, set aside the last Thursday in November as a national Thanksgiving Day. This came after nearly 20 years of petitioning by a woman named Sarah Hale. She wrote editorials for years encouraging the 150,000 readers of the “Boston Ladies Magazine” and “Godey’s Lady’s Book” to join with her in soliciting support for this national observance.

The Thanksgiving holiday provides some of the most popular holiday collectibles. Most are turkey based (not basted). Turkey salt and pepper shakers, figural glass covered dishes; turkey plates and platters; cast iron gobbler doorstops; glass, composition and papier mache candy containers; tin, aluminum, pewter, or wooden food molds in turkey forms; turkey cookie cutters; tissue paper fold-out decorations; Wild Turkey whiskey containers; blown glass turkey Christmas ornaments; turkey-printed tablecloths and napkins; turkey bookends; turkey stuffed animals and figurines; restaurant menus for Thanksgiving featuring turkey drawings; sweetmeats and bowls; toothpick holders and postcards all delight collectors.

Your grandmother’s plate is a lovely example of hand-painted German china popular in the early 1900s. I looked in my books on German porcelain and could not find this mark or signature. From the picture, the turkey design looks like a transfer print with a hand-painted edge. Hand-painted plates and platters this size usually sell in the $100-150 range.

Other turkey plates and platters are very popular as well, even though they are usually only used on one day. Howe Mercantile has some great turkey platters and turkey-related items. So come on in and gobble them up!!

May your turkey plates be full.

Dr. Georgia Caraway, former director of the Denton County Museums for 14 years, and her friends opened the Howe Mercantile at 107 East Haning. Store hours are Thursday through Saturday noon until 8 p.m. She has written five Denton history books. She hopes her next book will be the history of Howe. If anyone has photographs or documents that she can copy, please bring them to Howe Mercantile.

FBC Howe's XYZ gets visit from Howe Mercantile's Georgia Caraway

The XYZ (Extra Years of Zest) group from First Baptist Church Howe enjoyed a presentation from Georgia Caraway of the Howe Mercantile Store in Downtown Howe recently. She presented information about “Our Stuff: What’s Valuable and What’s

Not.” As we age, we realize that we have far more material possessions than we really need; so, as downsizing becomes necessary, that topic is pertinent. Her presentation was very enlightening and enjoyable. Thank you, Georgia Caraway.

Texas History Minute

Dr. Bridges is a Texas native, writer, and history professor. He can be reached at drkenbridges@gmail.com.

War was near in November 1941. The men of the Second Battalion of the 131st Field Artillery of the Texas National Guard prepared for the worst as they sailed to Hawaii. These men had come together from North-Central Texas to serve their country, and hailed from Abilene, Decatur, Lubbock, and the Wichita Falls area. Their capture three months later and the fate of what became the “Lost Battalion” became one of the most harrowing stories of Texas troops during World War II.

Their initial voyage in late 1941 proceeded with little incident. They docked briefly at Pearl Harbor in late November and were sent on to Australia to bolster Allied forces in anticipation of Japanese action. The troops heard the news of the attack on Hawaii while on the high seas. Army officials briefly considered recalling them to Hawaii, but the decision was made to send them onward. After spending Christmas 1941 in Australia, the men were then ordered to assist Australian, British, and Dutch troops in the Dutch East Indies (modern-day Indonesia) against Japan.

Though only a small contingent of troops, the Second Battalion prepared to defend the large island of Java. Japan invaded on February 27, 1942. Pressure from Japanese forces mounted, and the Allies fell back into smaller and steadily less defensible corners. The USS Houston was sunk, with the loss of 700 American sailors. More than 300 survivors reached Allied lines. Cohesion soon broke down, and it was every force for itself. The Americans were cut off in the mix, unable to rally and unable to communicate with other units. On March 8, Java fell to Japan, and the Texans were captured, along with more than 32,000 other Allied troops.

The news stunned America, but the War Department had no idea what had happened to the troops of the Second Battalion or the Houston survivors. Communications simply ceased. Families and neighbors grieved, worried, and prayed, not knowing what fates awaited their loved ones half a world away. The 534 captured of the Second Battalion, along with the Houston, became known as the Lost Battalion and suffered in Japanese prison camps throughout the war.

The Geneva Convention of 1929 specified that prisoners were to be given proper shelter and medical care and not to be tortured. Nations were also supposed to inform each other of captives. Japan refused to ratify the treaty, and during the war resorted to a medieval mentality that surrender was disgraceful and prisoners deserved the worst. And the worst they delivered, many later answering for their war crimes.

One group separated during the battle for Java, Battery E, was eventually sent to Japan to work as slave labor in the shipyards and coal mines until they were freed in 1945. Eight of these 99 men died in captivity.

Most of the remainder of the Lost Battalion were held for seven months in Java before put to work in their own slave labor camps building the Burma Railway for Japan. For nearly a year, more than 66,000 Allied prisoners along with more than 230,000 Southeast Asian civilians were forced to build a 258-mile rail line from Burma to Thailand across treacherous mountain passes and unrelenting jungles. The overworked men had little food or water, no medical care, and were beaten or murdered by guards. Seventy thousand men died building the railroad.

After completion of the “Death Railway” in 1943, the men were sent back to prison camps in the Dutch East Indies. Over the next two years, they were sent to various places across Southeast Asia to serve Japanese whims. They suffered from poor health, poor nutrition, and beatings. In all, 163 men from the Lost Battalion died in Japanese camps.

In September 1944, American submarines on routine war patrols came across Japanese merchant ships carrying hundreds of Allied prisoners. Once safely back in Allied hands, the POWs began telling how they had worked with survivors of the Second Battalion in Burma. News that some of the men were still alive was relayed to waiting families. They now had renewed hope, but these hopes were tempered by the knowledge of what the prison camps were like.

It would be nearly another year of hard fighting before the Lost Battalion could be rescued. In August 1945, Japan surrendered. By this time, most of the imprisoned Second Battalion were in camps in Java and Thailand. Two American C-54 transports were brought in to bring them to a hospital in Calcutta, India, before returning home.

After some time back in Texas, families organized a welcome home celebration in October 1945. The men formed the Lost Battalion Association and met regularly in the ensuing years. In a brutal chapter from a war full of brutality, the men may have been lost for a time but were never forgotten.

"EVER" person wants life to be a fine thing, and a easy. 'Tis fine, powerful fine, but 'tain't easy . . . life knocks you down, and you git up, and it knocks you down again . . . what are you to do then? Why, take it for your share, and go on."—The Yearling

Claudia Smith has taken life's set-backs as her share. She is up and going on. She was born in a little settlement in Oklahoma. The rural school was at a distance, the terms were short, and with other hindrances, Claudia quit school at an early age. Her parents were natives of Texas and longed to get back home, and moved back to a Texas farm. Crops were bad . . . times grew harder and harder, and harder, and the family moved from one place to another. The mother died. Claudia married a young Irishman, and they did not get the breaks they expected. The desire for an education that had been dormant for so long, again asserted itself, and the young wife and mother again entered school. She attends school with her young son, daily, trying in every way to improve her living conditions. She is young, ambitious, attractive and determined to make the best of everything.

HOWE, GRAYSON COUNTY, TEXAS, Thursday, November 2, 1967

Number 17

HOWE'S THAT?

Knew it would happen.

Several people forgot to move back the time for Sunday morning change from daylight saving time.

Among them were Shirley Davis and the Ches Ruffins.

Shirley arrived for Sunday School at First Baptist Church at a quarter to eight, and the Ruffins were there a few minutes later. It wasn't a lost effort however — they just attended the early morning services at the church, then Sunday School.

Walked in Howe State Bank the other day, and met an old school buddy — at least he's older than most people our age — Jimmy Rudd. And it so happens he's employed by the bank.

Jimmy's been a resident of Howe, or near Howe, for some time though. He and his wife, Dorothy, and two children, Dennis, 12, and Cheryl, 17, moved into their new home on new Highway 75 south of town.

Goofed again.

Planning Council Resolution Passed At C of C Meet

Grayson County Planning Council, an organization formed several months ago, was explained to Howe Chamber of Commerce members and a visiting delegation from Van Alstyne last Thursday night by Mayor Doug Wortham.

The organization, originally established by the cities of Tiooga and Bells, was later joined by other small towns within the county, Wortham said. Purpose of the council was to qualify for water and sewer improvements through the FHA. A committee representing the Planning Commission recently adopted a resolution to be presented to the Grayson County Metropolitan Area Council of Governments, the spokesman continued.

Howe chambers members voted to approve the resolution as presented.

In other business, members voted to sponsor a Boy Scout Cub Pack, upon request of representatives of the Cubs.

Discussed Christmas decorations for the city with a view of adding additional decorations to those already on hand.

A committee was also appointed by President Ray Houston, to prepare a current "facts and figures" information sheet for reference purposes.

Next meeting of the chamber will feature an evening meal, it was decided by those attending.

Van Alstyne delegates attending the October meeting included Monroe Bannister, Bill Barrett, Charles Parkman and Henry Hynds.

Old Highway 75 Changed To State Route Number 5

The Texas Highway Commission recently acted to provide a continuous route number — State Highway 5 — for the former route of U.S. Highway 75 from Howe to Richardson, in Dallas County.

U.S. 75 has been built on a new location in Grayson County from 1.4 miles north to the Grayson-Collin line.

In Collin County, Highway 75 presently is under construction from the Grayson County line south to a junction with the present Highway 75 3.6 miles south of McKinney. This work is expected to be completed in the fall of 1968.

In 1959, under similar circumstances, the Commission redesignated the old route of U.S. 75 from Richardson to 2.5 miles south of McKinney as SH 5.

The recent action would extend the SH 5 route marking over former routes of Highway 75 which will be retained on the State highway system. The order also extends SH 121 from the new location of Highway 75 northeastward to SH 5 near McKinney.

The Commission action will furnish a number continuity which will be of aid to the traveling public.

RAIN MEASUREMENTS

Area residents owning rain gauges reported various readings following rains Monday and Tuesday. Average was around 1.7 inches by Tuesday morning, with approximately 1/2 inch falling Tuesday.

FOOTBALL SWEETHEART TO BE CROWNED AT HOMECOMING GAME

Annual Homecoming will better action.

The initial score was set up for the Bulldogs when Lee Bailey crashed through onto the Prosper quarterback on a third down play, jarring the ball free for a Howe recovery at mid-field.

Facing a third and 12 situation QB Bill Cloud heaved to Gary Ingram for 15 yards and a first on the Eagle 40. Trips into the defense by Lynn Cavender, and Mike Bennett added another first down on the 29. Cloud then tossed another completion to Cavender on the one, with Gary Gray contributing the yard on two stabs. Cloud tossed to Ingram for the conversion but was ruled out of bounds.

Watching the proceedings on the sideline were Jimmy Worms baker and Jimmy Watson, defensive specialist and running back, respectively, for the Bulldogs. Both were sidelined with back injuries, but are expected to be back in the lineup this week.

The Bulldogs lost their first fumble on the second play of the last half, with Prosper recovering on the Howe 23 to set up their first score. Jon Moseley went over from the one on the fifth Eagle play, then booted the extra point for a 7-6 Eagle lead.

The Bulldogs kept possession for three series of downs before losing a second fumble at mid-field.

Early in the fourth period Howe ground out 69 yards in a scoring effort that began on their own 20, but a third miscue cost the football on the opponents 11. Passes to Cavender (2), Ricky Ferguson and Gary Gray accounted for 45 yards of the effort.

After forcing a punt by the Eagles following the fumble, two Bulldog aerials fell incomplete, with a third intercepted at the Prosper 11. Moseley contributed six more points for the visitors on an 89-yard gallop down the right side on the next play with a one-point conversion concluding the scoring for the evening.

The Bulldogs penetrated to the Eagle 10 yard line in another attempt to get back into the ball game, with a fourth down pass completion losing four yards to end the attempt.

SIGNS OF PROGRESS:
Things sure have changed around Howe for a lot of us. Few years back, out on the farm, folks most always ate their meals in the house, and there was the ever present lit tle out-house in the back. Nowadays, with all the bar-becue pits, outdoor cookers and the like, and what with plumbing revolution, people eat outside and have the out house in the house.

You think Uncle has come up with every type tax imagi-nable? He probably hasn't even heard of this one, yet:

In a small town in Germany the folks are stuck with a "rain tax". (If we had one here, it sure would be costly, based on rainfall during the past week.

For every 100 square met-ers of land owned, the are charged 90 marks. Every 50 square meters above this costs another 50 marks. The logis behind the assessment: Rain water is drained away be the town-owned pipes and there-fore the citizens must pay for the upkeep of these facilities. Think what Uncle could k do with a "breath tax" to finance the government's air pollution cleanup campaign!

There's a new organization in the making, being organized to protest stupid commercials on TV. It's the Committee for Rejection of Obnoxious Commercials, noting that the trouble with TV commercials is their unreality. Women, and some men, are character-ized with IQ's of 29 in situa-tions which couldn't happen.

The situation could be solv-ed by rewriting these commer-cials as the situations might really happen.

Most of the time, the peo-ple in commercials, whether they are suffering from wet underarms, slipping dentures or irregularity, are cheerful. Let's have a few old grumps on the TV scene--The White Knight is roaring up the street on his faithful white horse--which has become sick of it--and rears up and throws the Knight through the picture window.

And I'm waiting to the day when the woman, chastised at bout her sorry coffee, hits her husband with the coffee pot and tell Mrs. Olson what a "busy-body she is.

And when the lady in the completely "unrehearsed" soap commercial says to the folks out there in TV land: "Listen, I couldn't get this shirt clean with this soap or any other so I'm going to throwit away, and all by myself I'm going to do the laundry with my own brand X soap, which probabl won't get the clothes clean, and then run around the block without my deodorant.

E'll worry about my irregu-larity and nagging backache tomorrow.

FINAL HOME FOOTBALL GAME FRIDAY; BELLS WINS, 22 TO 15

Bells Panthers broke a Howe winning streak between the two teams last Friday night when they handed the locals a 22-15 defeat at Bells. The loss brings the Bulldogs' season record to 2-6, and 0-3 in dis-trict play.

This week's action will find the 'dogs hosting the Pottsboro Cardinals, who have been un-dergoing a similar season.

Bells scored 20 of their 22 points in the first half, with Howe scoring in the second and fourth quarters.

Dennis Rudd opened the TD count for Bells on a 15 yard pass, after the Bulldogs had lost a pair of fumbles on their first four offensive plays.

Bells scored again via the airways moments later, and a-gain failed on the conversion attempt. Howe narrowed the lead early in the second quar-ter when QB Vincent Hash hit Roger Lankford on a 28 yard aerial for a TD, with Lankford adding the seventh point on a Kick. Bells added another TD in the second quarter on a four yard pass and then passed for a couple of extra points to boost their lead at halftime to 20-7.

In the third period, the onlt score, a 2-point safety was added to the Bells total when the Panthers killed a punt on the Howe one, and then stop-ped Halfback Jackie Monk be-hind the double stripe on an attempted end run.

Howe fans peked up in the final period when Steve Hol-lensed broke for an 80-yard run and an apparent TD, but the play was called back to the Howe 35 on a clipping per-alty. The play may have adde a spark to the Howe offense however, as the 'dogs moved quickly for 65 yards and the six pointer. Time ran out, however, on the next pos-session after the locals had moved downfield toward the Panther den once more.

In other district action, the undefeated Whitewright Tig-ers downed Pottsboro, as Van Alstyne whipped Leonard, 39-0. (Howe will play Leonard, there, in the final game next (continued on page two)

Howe's that...

SURVEY - We recently took a survey of residents in Howe for the newspaper on readership. We would like to express our thanks to all who answered the questions. About 550 were surveyed in Howe. Over 50 percent read the paper most of the time and another 13 percent read it sometimes. Of those 62 percent read the ads regularly.

Most of the people seemed to be satisfied with the newspaper and its contents. Some suggestions were given on improvements or articles that they would like to see in the Howe Enterprise. One that made the list is more local news. I try to get as much local news as possible, but I have to rely on the people in town to be my "reporters" for many of the local happenings. I can't print it if I don't know about it. Several people also wanted the paper to be larger. For the most part the size is tied to the number of articles and ads I have. Some weeks there are more of both and the paper will be larger. Some weeks there is very little of anything going on in town (usually in the summer or during the week after Christmas) - that's when the paper is at its smallest.

Some people disliked the filler articles while others enjoyed them. I have to use them to "fill" in spots left vacant by no local news.

In some cases the articles liked least and liked most were the same. Some wanted more sports and some less. Some wanted more school news and some less. On the whole we at the paper try to put in as many articles as possible to appeal to a wide range of people with different likes and dislikes.

We can't please everyone on all things about the paper, but we do listen to our readers. If you have news or suggestions, please call 532-6012 (or 532-6476 after office hours). We are here to serve you.

LOTS OF HARD WORK went into the effort of the Howe High School Band and Drill Team Flag Corps, but it paid off. These young men and women have been working early and late, practicing at all hours of the day and night. When they went to the Regional UIL Marching Contest Tuesday, they came out on top and will be competing at the State Contest in two weeks.

This group is doing a fine job of representing our community and all residents of the Howe area should be very proud of each one of them. This is the third year in a row that this group has won regional marching honors and gone to the state competition.

The band members start practicing in August before school starts. The Highlighters also begin practicing before the start of school. Then after the school term gets underway, they practice every Monday night for two hours and three days a week from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m. They have also stayed after school to practice and have practiced on at least one Saturday. I feel sure they have done their routines so many times that they dream about it all night long!

All that hard work paid off Tuesday. They will continue working hard looking toward the contest in Austin on Nov. 16.

We expect them to come home winners. But whether or not they win or lose the state title, those students are to be commended for all they have put into their efforts. They are number one with us.

Bulldogs, Panthers Tie, 21-21

Although Van Alstyne held a one point lead at the half, and scored another touchdown, the Bulldogs managed to close the gap for a 21-21 tie on Friday, Oct. 29.

The Panthers took the kick-off and spent four and a half minutes on a march down field to the goal line. The PAT kick was good for a 7-0 lead for the Panthers.

Howe held the ball for several plays before a Panther intercepted a Bulldog pass to set up Van Alstyne on the Howe 39. The Panthers were unable to move the ball in the next four plays and the ball went back to Howe.

A five-yard delay of game penalty put the Bulldogs at 3 and 13 on their own 12, but, Quarterback Andre Liss tossed off to Mike Vickers for a first down at the Howe 33. Barry Dunn and Randy Geer carried the ball on two tries and made another first down.

The second quarter began with Scott Taylor taking the punt at the 10 and running to the Panther 40. Geer and Dunn carried for a first down. On the next three plays Geer and Liss carried the ball.

Dunn went into the end zone from one yard out. Norman Mutchler made a good kick to bring the score the 14-7.

Three plays later Van Alstyne fumbled the ball and Bulldog Dunn came out with the ball at the Panther 43.

A 15-yard illegal substitution penalty (12-men on the field) against Van Alstyne moved the ball to the Panther 18.

In the next series of plays Liss, Dunn and Geer carried for a first down and were set up at the 6-yard line. Liss tossed the ball to David Carlson who was at the one yard line. Geer ran in for the TD. The kick failed and the Panthers held a 14-13 lead. Neither team moved the ball very far in the next five minutes and the half ended.

As the third quarter began Taylor took the kickoff from the 10 yard line to the Van Alstyne 46, but two plays later the Panthers intercepted a Bulldog pass. On the next play the ball was fumbled and Howe came out on top. The Bulldogs carried for a first down at the Panther 20 but fumbled the ball back to Van Alstyne. The Panthers were unable to move the ball and punted it

"We're Rolling!" said the man in the white jacket. A car started down the street. Then another car came from the other direction. Then a man walked past the "Crescent Cafe" and a pickup went by. A group of men went into the cafe, and another group went in soon after. A woman walked down the sidewalk opposite the cafe.

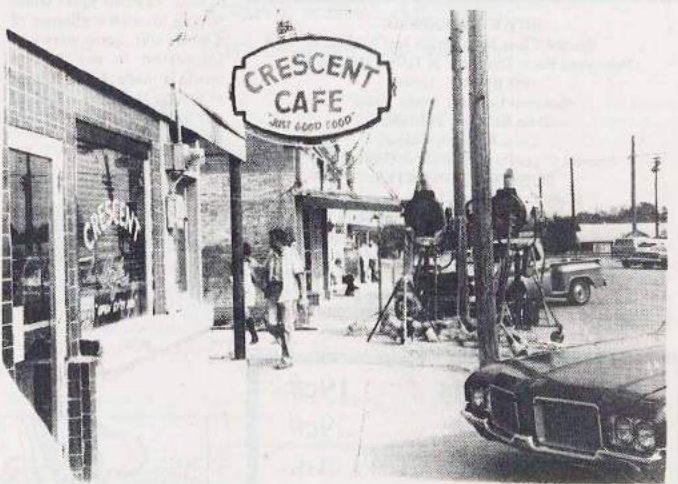

"Cut!" yelled the man in the white jacket.

The scene was repeated several times. Each time the man yelled, "We're rolling!" and the spectators lined up on either side of the downtown block of Howe (Alias Crescent City, Oklahoma for a day) were moved back out of the way.

On Monday, Nov. 1, downtown Howe was once again the site of movie making for the crew and cast of Silkwood.

The scene described above was filmed several times between 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., then the crew, stars, and extras had a lunch break for about an hour.

After the lunch break more filming was done from 2 p.m. to shortly after 6 p.m. In one of the scenes being filmed actress Meryl Streep, playing the part of Karen Silkwood, was dressed in a pink mini skirt and a faded denim jacket. She was inside the cafe. In a later scene she drove up to the front of the cafe and jumped out of the car, running inside the what was a union meeting. Several extras were recruited from the crowds gathered to watch the movie making process. Bob Walker and L.B. England who were watching the filming were asked to appear as part of the crowd inside the cafe. Walker said he drank coffee and listened to an actor giving some kind of union speech. He said Ms. Streep was reading a newspaper between takes. "That's the first time I've been paid to drink coffee," he said.

THE CRESCENT CAFE - a movie set for the ABC Motion Picture Silkwood was the scene of more filming Monday, Nov. 1. Lights were set up outside and the cameras were rolling inside.

The film is being directed by Mike Nichols who won an Academy Award for The Graduate. The story is based on the life of Karen Silkwood who died in a 1974 car accident in Oklahoma. She was reportedly en route to meet with a New York Times reporter and union officials with evidence of unsafe radioactive materials in plutonium fuel rods at Kerr-McGee Nuclear Materials Plant in Crescent City, Oklahoma where she was employed.

Others in the cast of the movie include Kurt Russell, Cher, Mary Kay Place, Craig T. Nelson, Diana Scarwid, and Ron Silver.

The movie is in its eighth week of an 11-week shooting schedule. About 40 percent of the movie has been and will be filmed in and around Howe. Last weekend a church at Tom Bean was the setting for a union meeting and a town hall type meeting for the movie. A number of local residents were used as extras for that part of the filming. One, Marcy Cadenhead of Howe, said it was interesting to see how they move the cameras for various angles.

The scenes in the church were filmed from about noon until 2:45 a.m. Those scenes will be just a few minutes in duration in the finished film.

He allowed the students to sit on the stools and at the booths while he explained different things to them. He showed them how the cameras work and answered questions. He also explained how the cafe was decorated for the movie.

One 5th grade student said the inside looked old-fashioned with juke box selectors at the tables and penny scale. She also said that the group saw Meryl Streep eating her lunch and Ms. Streep waved at the class.

Some of the filming in the movie is taking place at a farmhouse located near highway 902 four miles east of Howe. A farmhouse built about 50 years ago is being used as the Silkwood home. Several other buildings and fake structures have been set up in the area to keep the area from seeming so isolated in the film.

School Board Agenda

The Howe School Board will meet in regular session on Monday, Nov. 8, at 6:30 p.m. On the agenda are approval of minutes and accounts payable, Joyce Catching, review of financial reports, open bids on buses, guidance program, textbook committee, attendance report, and federal vocational programs. Also set is an executive session.

Council To Meet

The Howe City Council will hold a regular council meeting for November on Tuesday, Nov. 9, at 7 p.m. at City Hall. Some of the items on the agenda include an ordinance on speed zone on FM 902W, setting the date for a work session on the christian Church building, and Gene Stevens request concerning the closing of an alley.

Nannie J. Bell, Box 385, Howe has won a free one-pound box of candy from Hestand's Pharmacy, 110 S. Crockett, Sherman. Please contact Howe Enterprise by Nov. 11 to claim prize.

DPS Approves Window Coatings

Under new Texas regulations effective Oct. 18, glass coating materials may be installed on all motor vehicle windows except windshields. Previously, it was illegal to place the material on the windows to the immediate left and right of the driver's seat. However, the new regulations allow coating materials approved by the Texas Department of Public Safety to be installed on those windows.

The window film materials, which are sold under various brand names, are designed to reduce glare and the build up of heat inside the passenger compartment by limiting the amount of sunlight passing through the windows.

Glass coating materials applied to windows behind the driver's seat need not be approved by the DPS. However, vehicles with window film applied to the rear window must have outside rear view mirrors on the right and left sides.

Coatings which meet DPS standards cannot block more than two-thirds of the light directed at the material. Laboratory tests confirming that coatings meet the DPS standards must be filed with the Department before approval is granted. Regulations also require that the manufacturer's name or number and approval designation appear on each of the material placed on each of the front side windows.

DPS Director Jim Adams said Department staff members had received numerous inquiries about the materials from the public.

"One reason we held off changing the regulations is that until three months ago, none of these coatings had been approved by a nationally-accredited organization," Adams said. "When the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators approved several samples during the summer, we determined that the DPS policy prohibiting use of the materials on front side windows was no longer valid."

Adams pointed out that many sunbelt states do not prohibit the use of glass coatings on the driver's side windows.

DPS officials said some window film samples have already been evaluated by the Department and approved for use on the front side windows of motor vehicles.

Howe's
That . .

SALSA!!! - Last week I printed a salsa recipe (forgot to mention it came from my Aunt Mattie Lue Meinzer who lives in Childress, Texas). The Howe reader (who requested a salsa recipe is a Texan who is originally from the northern part of the U.S.) thinks that all Texas cookbooks should have at least one salsa recipe, but I have had trouble finding any in my cookbook collection. Does someone else in the area have a different salsa recipe they would be willing to share? Send to PO Box 488, Howe, Tx 75459.

JORDAN & AMBER REPORT
- Two year old Jordan is getting along pretty well with his new sister. In fact, he is now willing to share his Papa with her. After Amber arrived, Jordan wanted Papa to play with him and not hold Amber. But we had a "break through" last week when Jordan let Papa hold Amber for 1 1/2 hours without complaining. We have tried to make it a point to play with him and spend time with him. In fact, he has spent several hours with Nannie and Papa just as he did before Amber appeared on the scene. I think he knows his place in our hearts is secure and that there's room for both him and Amber.

THE ELECTION IS OVER - and the world did not come to an end! I read an excellent article on the editorial pages of the Sherman Democrat on Monday. It stated that all candidates are human, they all have their strengths and weaknesses. None of them can correct all the problems of the world.

Whether the candidates you voted for won or not, the world will continue. Good things and bad things will continue to happen. Democracy is not perfect, but it's still the best system on earth.

Remember now that all the hullabaloo is over - our children are following in our footsteps. As they grow up, they observe our reactions. The most important thing we should teach them about a democratic government is that the people have a voice in what happens by voting.

I received an article written by Howe 4th grader, Andy Smith. It is printed on this page. Read it and you'll feel good about our future.

I also received copies of two winning essays on "What I Would Do If Elected President." These essays were part of a large contest. I am also printing them in this issue, see page four.

HMS Holds
Mock Election

The students in grades 5-8 at Howe Middle School have participated in the democratic process the last two weeks.

The week of October 19 each student registered to vote by filling out a copy of the Voter Registration card. After the card was filled out, each student received a Mock Registration Card with that student's name, grade and precinct (his social studies class period).

On Tuesday, Oct. 27, each students cast his vote for the presidential candidate of his choice in a mock election. Mrs.

Puckett, the election judge, made arrangements for the voting booths.

Ross Perot won the election, with 133 votes. George Bush, received 83 and Bill Clinton, 42. Andre Mauro received 2 votes.

The students have been very interested in the debates, the "What's In The News" program, the network news, and class discussions.

This mock election process has helped the students to learn the importance of each vote and of being involved in the political process.

Kid's View On Learning About Electing A President

by Andy Smith, Howe
Hey, kids, you should be watching the shows on tv about the president. You know why!! Because when you grow up, you want to know how to choose a good president. You want to have one that's the best to you. You don't want one who's going to raise taxes. It is real easy to say but it is hard to do. That is why some people don't know who is telling the truth or not. So some people don't even vote. That's why we need a person that is running that tells the truth. Also we don't want a person that says a lot of good words, but when he is elected, he raises taxes sky high. The president doesn't have to worry about taxes because they are so rich they can pay them. But other people can't like the middle class people. Clinton says he is raising taxes $50. We don't want that do we. Well at least I don't. Bye, people, got to go now. Have a nice future. Vote and vote the one you think is good to you. Don't vote another person just because you friend is.

Bulldogs Defeat Rams, 18-0

The Howe Bulldogs overpowered the S&S Rams, Friday, Oct. 30, 18-0, getting their first district win and ending a four-game losing streak. The Dogs are now 2-7 for the season and 1-3 in district play.

Although they are eliminated from the playoffs, they are determined to end the season on a positive note.

Coach Joey McQueen said, "Our young men are playing hard, even though our season has not been as successful as we would have liked. These young men have never given up and this shows the trademark of the Howe Bulldogs."

Jay Carson scored the first Howe TD in the 2nd quarter on a 6 yard run. Kai Bray added two TD's in the 3rd period to cap the victory. Doug Ogle set up both of Bray's TDs on runs of 47 and 36 yards respectively.

The Howe defense held the Rams back from the end zone on several close calls giving Howe the victory.

S&S took the opening kickoff and advanced to midfield before stalling out. Howe took over at their own 11 and advanced steadily to the Ram 31 where they lost the ball on a fumble.

S&S had no luck on their next series and punted to Howe. Jeremy Francis returned the punt to the Howe 40 but a clipping penalty moved the ball back to the 24. Carson and Ogle combined on runs to advance the ball to the Ram 36. Francis caught a short pass and Carson carried the ball to the Ram 11. Ogle added 4 yards and Carson took the ball the final 6 yards into the end zone for a TD with 11:56 left in the first half. The PAT kick failed and the score was 6-0.

S&S managed a first down at their own 44, but had to punt after several passes fell incomplete. The two teams traded possessions for several series. Then with just under two minutes left in the half, Howe fumbled the ball on the punt and the Rams took over on the Howe 13. Howe's defense worked overtime to stop the Rams and a try for a field goal failed. Howe was unable to advance the ball and the Rams managed to return the punt deep into Howe territory. Nathan Gray stopped the runner at the Howe 11 and then four plays later Gray intercepted a Ram pass inside the 10 yard line to end the S&S threat and the first half.

The Dogs started the 3rd quarter with a 5-play, 70-yard TD drive highlighted by a 46-yard run by Ogle to the Ram 10 yard line. Two plays later Bray scored on a 7 yard run. The PAT kick failed and with 10:09 left in the third quarter, Howe led, 12-0.

The Dogs succeeded in keeping possession with an onside kick, but the play stalled out after quarterback Brian Freese was sacked for a loss behind the line of scrimmage.

The two teams traded possessions again with neither team gaining enough yardage for a first down. Then S&S managed a drive that took them across the 50, but the Howe defense led by Gray and David Brown stopped them around the Bulldog 35.

Ogle carried the ball 37 yards to the Ram 29. Bray, Ogle and Carson each took turns advancing the ball with Bray scoring the TD from 12 yards out with 1:45 left in the 3rd quarter. The kick failed. Score: 18-0.

S&S came back to advance the ball again deep into Bulldog territory but Stephen Dedman and Jeremy Francis stopped the Ram runner at the Howe 8 and a try for a field goal failed. S&S threatened once more to score late in the 4th quarter as they advanced to the Howe 35, but their quarterback was sacked for a loss and Howe took control at their own 42. Howe had possession for the final four plays of the game.

Freese completed 4 of 10 passes with 1 interception. Jeremy Francis caught 2 for 9 yards and Doug Ogle caught 1 for 15. Rushing was led by Ogle with 137 yards on 11 carries. Carson rushed for 92 yards on 17 carries and Bray added 57 yards on 2 carries. Also rushing for Howe were Freese with 15 yards on 3 carries; Chad Norton, 12 yards on 3 carries; and Jason Boaz, 7 yards on 3 carries.

McQueen said, "I would like to thank everyone for their loyal support throughout the year. Remember, tough times don't last, but tough people do."

Offensive player of the week is Doug Ogle. Defensive player of the week is Nathan Gray.

pendent worker and be willing and able to use higher level thinking skills to develop products in the gifted and talented class.

If you are unsure of the requirements involved for the program you may check with your child's teacher, the principal or the district Gifted/Talented Coordinator for more information.

Nomination forms must be filled out completely and returned to your child's school by Nov. 12 in order to be considered.

7th Grade
Football

TIES S&S, 6, 22-6

Last Thursday the 7th grade Bulldogs and S&S Rams battled to a 6-6 tie. The Rams received the opening kickoff and drove the ball 70 yards, consuming 8 minutes of the clock to take a 6-0 lead.

In the 2nd half the Bulldogs received the kickoff and drove 60 yards, culminating in a touchdown run by fullback Kyle Roberts. Roberts' point after attempt was short by inches to tie the game at 6-6.

In the 4th quarter, Howe drove down to the S&S 10 yard line, but couldn't punch it in. A TD pass from Dwayne Emmons to Roberts was nullified by a penalty. After that the Dogs turned the ball over on downs.

Coach Tim Smithart said, "Considering our injuries and kids out sick, we battled very hard. Unfortunately, we just came up short."

Next game is tonight at 5 p.m. at Little Elm. Season record stands at 5-2-1.

Howe's that...

by Lana Rideout

Almost 30 years ago, my husband and I bought the Howe Enterprise (now Texoma Enterprise). At that time we had an office in downtown Howe at 110 E. Haning Ave. Next door to us in a connecting office at 108 E. Haning was Allied Printing and Office Supply owned by Bob Walker, who had published the Enterprise from 1996-1974.

Bob died last week at age 77 from cancer (see story on this page).

When I first started editing the paper, I came to the job armed with a year of high school journalism and a BA degree in English. I did not have a lot of experience working with a newspaper but I had always loved reading newspapers of all kinds (I still do).

I don't remember how many times I asked Bob a question about how to do this or how to do that. He helped me. Since he also knew most of the folks in Howe, I was able to ask him who I needed to see for a story on local topics.

Bob often left his office door unlocked while he went to the café for coffee and conversation. Folks would come in and get their office supplies, leaving their name and list of what they took on his desk. Or they picked up orders they had called in and left the check on his desk.

As far as I know, he never lost anything or had anything stolen.

Back in the 70's, most people in town did not lock their doors when they were at home (and sometimes even when they were gone). It was a simpler time and a time when most people were trustworthy.

Mayor presents Girl Scout Bronze Award

The Girl Scouts of Northeast Texas Grayson County Troop 903 of Pottsboro were recently in Howe. They toured the Post Office and then honored one of their own, Angela Hammond, 10.

Howe Mayor Mike Jones presented Angela the Girl Scout Bronze Award for the work she did on the flower box and the "Welcome to the City of Howe" sign. The sign and flower box are located on the northeast corner of the Post Office in the downtown area. She repainted the sign red, white and blue with black outlines. "She did a fantastic job of redoing the sign," commented LeAndra Beckemeyer, Postmaster. "It really stands out."

Along with Angela, Michele Long, Dakota McAlister, Stephanie Tharp, Hailey Dunn and Julia Coughnour spent over an hour learning about the Post Office and how it operates. Each girl earned a badge at the end of the tour. In addition to the girls, Delynna Long and Christine Coughnour, parents of two of the girls, were along to assist.

Angela is the daughter of Sandra Hammond, who is a rural carrier for the Howe Post Office and Girl Scout leader of Troop 903. At the Grayson County Leader's Meeting Sandra was award-

Trick 'r treaters flock the city

Some of the most fun times of a youngster's life is to get to dress up like a superhero and get free candy from all around town.

Trick 'R Treaters were seen all over Howe Friday night walking in the streets or simply catching ride on the various hay rides that were seen all over town.

Over the last several years, the most popular places to trick 'r treat have been in the 'tree street district' on the south side of town from Elm St. to L.B. Kirby Ave. and all between.

Howe's downtown district also featured fun for the kids as Designer Cuts, owned by Paris Palacios, was decorated for weeks leading up to the event. Salvage Junky was also handing out items for kids.

Bulldogs push into playoffs

Austin Bearden takes on two Tiger linemen.

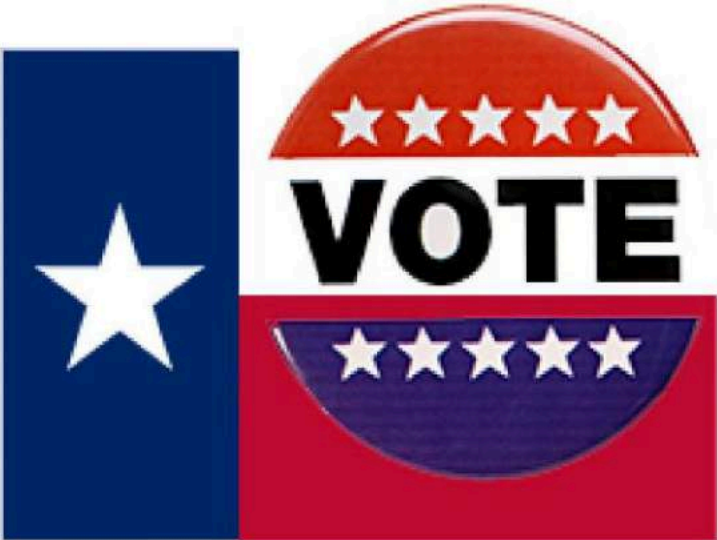

It's been four years since the Howe Bulldogs have been able to celebrate the clinching of a playoff berth. It is quite the turnround by Head Coach Zack Hudson, who is now 8-11 as the leader of the Bulldogs (5-4, 3-1).

The 38-0 clinching win over Whitewright came with a hefty price however, as slot back Stratton Carroll and defensive tackle Joel Menjivar each left with season-ending injuries. Both players suffered a torn ACL (Anterior Cruciate Ligament) in their right knee. The Bulldogs will have to test their depth which is usually thin at the small school level. Brandon Wall and Andrew Griffin should expect their

Texas voters hit the polls tomorrow

Texas sits in a fork in the road for the future of state government. With so many seats open at one time, the Lone Star State will look very different in Austin in 2015 no matter what the outcome is.

This will be the first open election for Governor since 1990. Incumbent Republican Governor Rick Perry, who has served in the office since December 21, 2000, announced that he will not run for an unprecedented fourth full term as Governor.

The election will take place between nominees who were selected on March 4, 2014. Republican State Attorney General Greg Abbott and Democratic State Senator
