THE HOWE ENTERPRISE, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1971—VOL. VIII—No. 7

Where will it stop?
Following passage of the first of the civil rights acts, came open housing and all that — which simply meant you couldn't sell your house to just anybody, if somebody else wanted to buy it. In essence, it took away rights of sale and created more of what the act was supposed to eliminate — discrimination.

And the more recent discrimination — kids can't go to the school of their choice — unless it happens to have enrolled a certain percent of white, black, yellow and red students. If the balance is not right — it's to the buses for a trip to the other side of town, or county, to make sure everyone exercises his rights. This all goes back to the open housing bill — since the minorities didn't give a hoot about moving next door to the majority, we'll haul them across town and mix 'em up in the schools.

Where will it end?
If the trend continues, better get ready for a larger family.

Busing is not the end.
Again, if you're in the majority in any given area, you may have to adopt a bit of all the minority groups — you can't discriminate and have all of one breed.

What with all this stock fraud scandal involving everyone from the governor down through the ranks (allegedly) back in the good 'ol days, the country governors did things a bit differently. Take the following gem from out of the past:

There was one Texas Governor who was zealous, or notorious, for his free (?) use of the pardoning power. It is said that when a relative of a convict visited him to plead for clemency, the governor would point out the window and remark: "There's a very nice ball out there; how much will you give me for him?"

The ball was reportedly sold 87 times — was still grazed in the governor's corral with the administration on it. Incidentally, he was elected on the promise to put legislation on a paying basis — and he did!

Monday is Labor Day — a day to honor the working man.
Do it. If it were not for him we couldn't afford all these government programs.

Bulldog scrimmage game Friday

Howe's 1971 Bulldogs scrimmage Whiteboro at Whitesboro Friday night as a preliminary to the season opener next week against Anna here. The scrimmage will begin at 8:30 p.m. B-team will scrimmage Gunter Saturday night on the local field.

Coach Norman Dickey said Wednesday morning that 39 of the original 43 who began practice sessions two weeks ago remain on the squad.

Nine of the players are returning lettermen headed by halfback Robert Trotter, the speedster Dickey hopes will be the key to Howe's success.

Other outstanding players among the lettermen are Steve Underwood and Lenny Gray. Underwood is a 225-pound senior tackle while Gray is a 200-pound senior guard. Dickey hopes the three seniors will combine their talent and lead the Bulldogs in another season of victories.

BOARD ADOPTS NEW BUDGET

Budget in the amount of $375,450 was adopted by members of Howe school board in a called meeting Monday night. Figure is an increase of $25,000 over last year's figure.

Increase this year is credited to additional salary expenditures, and before the ink was dry on the new estimation of expenses, members were forced to hire an additional first grade teacher, after Supt. Charles Thompson said there were 68 youngsters

Region X Report

Growing school program looms

The changing, growing, and developing school program that is in the future of the Howe Independent School District will be more expensive one. For many reasons the program in the future will arouse more concern and create more interest on the part of the citizens of the community than ever before. This situation will demand greater understanding, more involvement, and increased participation on the part of the citizens of the community in the shaping of the school program of the Howe Independent School District. Citizens of the district will want to, and will need to participate in the determining of overall goals and purposes of the school program. They will want to know more about the school plant, the educational programs, and the personnel. The people should be continuously involved in comprehensive, long range educational planning.

All over the nation, the public is becoming increasingly aware of the education state Communities and taxpayers are insisting on a more complete understanding of their public school programs. This new awakening about public owner-in the first grade. No classroom is available for the additional grade.

Summary of the new budget gets lists $28,246 fund balances from last year; with estimated revenue set at $375,450. Expenditures in the budget total $372,978, showing a balance in 1972 of $30,718.

Fund balances as of September 1 included: State 413 County available, $1,437; local maintenance, $118; transportation, $8,911; interest and sinking, $14,487; and building fund $13,283.

Revenue will include $120,416 from local sources, $252,578, state sources, and $2,000 from federal sources.

Breakdown of expenditures shows: administration, $22,744 instruction and supplies, $254,526; health services, $150; pupil transportation, $9,860; operation of plant, $24,000 maintenance of plant, $2,500, and fixed charges, (insurance etc.) $1,250; total $314,970. Food service will add $1,100, capital outlay, $5,500, and debt service (bonds, loan, etc.) $31,-908.

Assessed valuation of the district is estimated at $6,645,688, with $1.85 tax rate. $1.15 of the tax is used for maintenance, with 70c going to the interest and sinking fund, debt service.

New first grade teacher to be hired

Hiring an additional first grade teacher was approved by school board members in a called session Monday after it was determined that 68 youngsters are currently enrolled in that grade. Although a classroom is not available for the extra grade, a partition will be added in the new elementary building to provide a teaching area, board decided.

Supt. Thompson said the current school enrollment stands at 410 with an additional 40 in kindergarten.

New bicycle ordinances in effect Monday
 Sweeping new traffic laws that take effect Monday provide ordinances for bicycle riders and even more important — to bicycle riders' parents.
 The new regulations make any violation a misdemeanor and for the first time specify that the parents' responsibility for the actions of their children. A parent's new ordinance makes parents subject to fines if they knowingly allow their children to leave home.
Parental obligation
 Highway Patrolman Helen Sewell said that "knowingly allow" might cover more of the responsibility than the parent might think. "For some things," Sewell said, "purchase of bicycle without adding proper equipment and getting it in the child's name almost automatically would be included in the knowledge."
 Safety equipment required includes a properly adjusted seat and brakes and lights front and rear (if used at night). If the bike is used after dark, a reflector visible 300 feet from the front and a red reflector visible up to 200 feet from the rear must be attached.
What's a bike?
 The statute defines a bicycle as a vehicle with two wheels on a road or highway. It also defines a bicycle with a seat for the rider.
 Misdemeanors such as riding on the right of the road, and on an adjacent pathway, and riding in a unsafe pathway are available.
 The statute also is allowed to ride on other type roads. Fleeing from officers is prohibited by fines ranging up to $100 or 30 days.

MPTI Models
 With some of the new 440, 350cc sported models that reportedly attain speeds of 75 miles per hour, some critics might be receiving speed tickets. Sewell explained that once the bicycle is included in the state traffic laws it automatically becomes subject to speed regulations.

Carrying passengers when the bicycle is not equipped with an extra seat, or specifically designed for more than one rider is prohibited. The carriage rack, front or back, is not considered a passenger seat.
 Riding bicycles on sidewalks and cutting across driveways and parking lots is against the new regulations, also running in and out of traffic. Bicyclists must also stop at intersections crossing all driveway and shall not cut across private property.

Load limits
 Package carrying is covered, too. A cyclist cannot carry anything that will not permit them to keep at least one hand on the handle bars at all times. City ordinances have prohibited clipping to motorized vehicles for some time but it is now the state statute. The only way to apply the rules for a bike rider is to stay moving, motorized vehicle but the law prohibits clipping to motorized vehicles for anyone on a skate board, roller skates, or any other toy by clinging to a moving vehicle.

LITTLE THINGS
A smile is half a little thing. As a word of praise. But each of them can warm a heart. And make a happy day. A helping hand, a kindly deed, a friendly wave. Could lighten someone's burden. Could all another's need. These are all just little things. As we go through our way. But little things are big things if they brighten someone's day. —Myrtle E. Shaker
