

Howe's That

Who is Elizabeth Gray? I'm not the pretending to be the Wikipedia of politics, but I'd thought I had heard of everyone listed on the ballot for President of the United States. Gray is one of 13 people listed on the official ballot in the Texas Republican Party primary as a qualified candidate for President of the United States, however no one seems to be able to locate this camouflage candidate.

What is known is that she is from a little town called Taylor, Texas just northeast of Austin.

What we don't know is how she stands on immigration, foreign trade, abortion, tax reform, gun control, or whether there oughta be a constitutional amendment outlawing AstroTurf and the designated hitter.

To get on the GOP presidential ballot in Texas a candidate must either pay $5,000 or gather 300 signatures in 15 different congressional districts. I think I'll ask for 300 signatures before I get to $5,000. But either way seems unlikely for a President Walker.

Well, Gray didn't get much Fox News time and didn't get to go on a tirade about Donald Trump which would have certainly caused her some attention. But we've now learned that Gray has suspended her campaign presumably after a poor showing in New Hampshire, much like Carly Fiorina and Chris Christie.

She has no website, yard sign, and certainly not the guaranteed-to-win Howe Enterprise ad. Yet she received 34 votes in Howe. But don't feel bad my fellow Summit suffragist. The entire county cast 584 votes for Ms. Missing. As a matter of fact, Grayson County spent 1,130 votes on candidates that had already suspended their campaigns. That equates to six percent of voters. Rock the vote!

Chamber Dinner Thursday; Simmons is speaker

Anyone is welcomed to attend the Howe Area Chamber of Commerce Member's Dinner that will take place this Thursday evening at Gabriela's Mexican Cocina in Downtown Howe. The newly incorporated chamber will be discussing the happenings of the previous year and announcing the three members selected for induction into the Howe Hall of Honor as the 2016 class.

Doing the speaking at the event, which will start at 6:30 pm, is legendary Howe ISD Coach Steve Simmons who was hired by the district back in 1987. Since then he has become one of the most beloved members of the community and respected by so many that he has taught. The man is known in Howe for his deep-rooted passion, pride and unquenchable faith. His leadership with the elementary students has elevated him from respected coach to legendary status as he is a nominee for the 2016 Class of the Howe Hall of Honor.

Tickets for the dinner are $15 per plate. The dinner is open to anyone.

Memberships for the Howe Area Chamber of Commerce are annually $25 per individual or $75 per business. The chamber was first chartered in 1964.

Howe Lions Club needs 12 members to charter; meeting Thursday

Eight community members were listed as charter members at a meeting last Thursday. The Lions Club requires a total of 20 members to officially charter a club. There will be another meeting this Thursday, March 24 at Gabriela's at noon for those interested in joining the Howe civic club.

The Howe Lions Club of Howe, Texas is joining the world's largest service organization, Lions Clubs International. The Howe Lions will join the more than 47,000 Lions clubs making a difference in communities around the world. The new club is now seeking civic-minded men and women to join them in working together to meet needs within the community.

"Lions are men and women who want to help, who want to make a difference, and who want to have fun while doing it. Lions give a lot to their communities, but they get back something that's even more valuable – the satisfaction that comes from changing lives," said Charles Bethards, 2nd VDG District 2E2, Colleyville Lions Club, and Organizing Lion.

In addition to providing hands-on

Lions Club Governor Bob Carlson makes presentation to future club support, Lions clubs give members an opportunity to advance worthy causes, serve with friends and become leaders in the community.

A one-hour information session is scheduled on Thursday, March 24, at noon at Gabriela's Mexican Cocina for interested community members who want to learn more about Lions and how they can make a difference in their community. Lion leaders will also be visiting local businesses and community leaders to invite them to join the new club.

For more information on becoming a charter member of this new club, please contact Charles Bethards at bethards@sbcglobal.net or call at 817-999-4784 cell.

Bulldogs beat S&S and Pottsboro

The 'Dogs celebrate a win against S&S.

The Howe Bulldogs jumped out to an early lead on S&S and captured a 9-2 victory on Tuesday at Howe. and Reagan combined for eight hits and three RBIs.

The game was decided quickly as the Howe scored five early runs in the first three innings. In the fifth, Howe scored on an RBI triple by Matthews (who went 2 for 3) and an RBI single by Reagan (who went 3 for 3).

An RBI single by Matt Griffin in the first inning and an RBI single by Peyton Reagan, an RBI double by Tyler Grisham, a wild pitch, and a steal of home by Brennan Ross during the second inning supplied the early offense for the Bulldogs. On Saturday, Howe beat Pottsboro 9-4 in eight innings at Pottsboro behind Ross, who collected four hits. He singled in the first, second, fourth, and sixth innings. Griffin Underwood got the win for the Bulldogs . He allowed four runs over seven innings; struck out eight, walked two and gave up 10 hits.

Triston "Stump" Matthews put himself in scoring position with two extra-base hits.. He doubled in the second and tripled in the fifth. Howe tacked on another two runs in the third. The inning got off to a hot start when Crees singled, plating Underwood. That was followed up with a walk by Reagan. The 'Dogs built upon their lead with four runs in the sixth. Underwood kicked things off with a single, scoring Grisham.

David Crees got the win for Howe thanks to six strikeouts. Crees allowed one earned run on seven hits and two walks over six innings.

How did Howe vote?

Ted Cruz	Bernie Sanders	Tom Watt	Joe Brown	Scott Renfro
Howe's Republican party voters Precinct 106 casted their ballots very similar to the rest of Grayson County except for one particular race that included a local Howe man. Scott Renfro didn't win the position of County Commissioner of Precinct 1, but he did have support from the town in which he has served on the school board. His 408 votes to 252 that were cast for incumbent Jeff Whitmire were not in line with the rest of the county.	In fact, Howe was the only voting center that Whitmire did not win. In the Presidential race, Howe's favorite candidate was Ted Cruz with 338 votes over Donald Trump's 193. Other votes were cast for Marco Rubio (66), Ben Carson (60) and Elizabeth Gray (34), and John Kasich (25). Tom Watt took the Howe vote for Grayson County Sheriff with a total count of 432.		David Russell finished with 149 and Howard Day pulled 88 Howe votes. Joe Brown won his re-election campaign and got great support from Howe with 432 votes compared to 231 for Bobbie Peterson-Cate. As far as the Democrats of Howe, their Presidential favorite was Bernie Sanders with a total vote count of 62 over Hillary Clinton's 36.

Faith

by Debbie Wallis

“For just as Jonah was in the belly of the great fish for three days and three nights, in like manner the Son of man shall be in the heart of the earth,” Matthew 12:40.

Jesus fulfills prophecy. He declared He would rise again "after three days" in Matthew 27:63 and in Mark 8:31. The Bible is not a record of happenstance; prophecy is fulfilled over and over again. If you believe any of the Bible, you can believe all of it. The Bible is an exciting book that you can read and re-read, never get bored and it will always be relevant to your life today. Easter is the most significant event of the year to celebrate in a Christian's life and there is truths of the crucifixion and resurrection of Jesus through out the Bible to be learned.

“Now when they drew near to Jerusalem and came to Bethphage, to the Mount of Olives, then Jesus sent two disciples, saying to them, ‘Go into the village in front of you, and immediately you will find a donkey tied and a colt with her. Untie them and bring them to Me. If anyone says anything to you, you shall say, ‘The Lord needs them,’ and he will send them at once.’ This took place to fulfill what was spoken by the prophet, saying, “Say to the daughter of Zion, ‘Behold, your King is coming to you, humble, and mounted on a donkey, on a colt, the foal of a beast of burden.’” The disciples went and did as Jesus had directed them. They brought the donkey and the colt and put on them their cloaks, and He sat on them. Most of the crowd spread their cloaks on the road, and others cut branches from the trees and spread them on the road. And the crowds that went before Him and that followed Him were shouting, “Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord! Hosanna in the highest!” And when He entered Jerusalem, the whole city was stirred up, saying, “Who is this?” And the crowds said, “This is the prophet Jesus, from Nazareth of Galilee,” Matthew 21:1-11.

Jesus’ week changed quickly. “Hosannas” changed to “Crucify Him!” Hearts hardened as Jesus told the people what they did not want to hear. Jesus had one motive and that was righteousness (right standing before God) through love. The people had a different motive; selfishness (what benefits me even if someone else suffers). They recognized a power in Jesus but not the deity of His Lordship. They wanted Jesus to move certain people out of their way so they could finally take over.

Warren Read expected to find some skeletons in his family’s history when he started researching it. He wasn’t prepared to find that his great grandfather had instigated a famous lynching. Three black men were killed on false charges and photos from the event were made into postcards! Rather than hiding what he found, Read apologized to the victim’s family and wrote a book about his experiences and the event. The Lyncher In Me is a powerful book about owning your sins. By acknowledging his family’s guilt in the event, Read found redemption for himself.

“If we confess our sins, He is faithful and just and will forgive us and purify us from all unrighteousness,” 1 John 1:9. We have to acknowledge our sins to be forgiven of them. Jesus is looking for those who will do His will. Jesus wasn’t in town for a popularity parade. His task was to proclaim the truth and provide salvation. Jesus knew what was ahead of Him. The older I get the less time I spend on beating around the bush because I know my days are limited. Jesus knew His time was now to speak the truth to them because His days on earth had come to a end.

In Max Lucado book, Grace for the Moment, he says that Jesus was born crucified. “The force behind the hammer wasn’t an angry mob - the hand squeezing the handle wasn’t a Roman infantry man - the verdict wasn’t decided by jealous Jews. Jesus Himself chose the nails. Had the soldier hesitated; Jesus Himself would have swung the mallet.” Wow, that’s how much Jesus loves you!

The Jews were looking for a Messiah who would throw off the Roman yoke and give them freedom from their captors. They totally missed the fact that their Messiah would be the One who would suffer for the sins of the people. “Who would have believed what we just heard? When was the LORD’s power revealed through Him? He sprouted up like a twig before God, like a root out of parched soil; He had no stately form or majesty that might catch our attention, no special appearance that we should want to follow Him. He was despised and rejected by people, He experienced pain and was acquainted with illness; people hid their faces from Him; He was despised, and we considered Him insignificant,” Isaiah 53:1-3. This was a prophecy fulfilled. The death Christ died on the cross was absolute torture. The pain that Jesus endured for our sakes is unimaginable. It’s hard to read but makes me have a grateful heart. I cannot deny Him when He suffered for my sake. He was scourged - Matt. 27:26, beaten - Luke 22:63-64, spit upon - Matt. 27:30, His beard plucked from His face - Isa. 50:6, mocked - Matt. 27:26-29, stripped naked - Matt. 27:35, and nailed to the cross - Matt. 27:38; John 20:25. Just as in Isaiah 53:1-3 described, Jesus was fully human so He could feel what our temptations are like, yet He is fully God, innocent from all sin so He could save us.

Jesus went to the cross and died for the sins of humanity. When He did, His death on the cross forever settled the sin debt of man, Heb. 10:12-14; Heb. 9:24-28. Jesus did not die to stay dead, but He rose from the dead three days later. The Bible tells us that the victory over the devil is found in the blood of the Lamb, Revelations 12:11. The devil has been in the business of trying to hinder the work of God since he rebelled against God and was cast from heaven. His goal is to keep souls (minds, wills and emotions) in bondage so that you either never believe in Jesus and except His gift of salvation or that you live a powerless life so no one else wants what you have in your salvation.

It’s my opinion that the devil thought he had won the victory the day Jesus died. He may have even rejoiced when Jesus cried out, "It is finished!" But Satan was defeated by the cross. He may roar like a lion and he may try to keep you from God, (1 Pet. 5:8), but he has been defeated by the blood of Jesus and you do not have to remain his prisoner. The Bible tells us that we will never come into condemnation in Roman 8:1 because Jesus paid the cost of your sins.

If Jesus had died on the cross but not rose from the dead we would have nothing to celebrate. If you don’t know Him as your Savior, please say this simple prayer; “Jesus, I believe you paid the sacrifice for my sins and I thank You. Please forgive me for the sinful life I have lead and help me turn away from that lifestyle. I want to know You and Your way for me to live. I believe you are Lord. I believe You are the Son of God. I believe that You are God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit as One God. I believe you love me enough to die for me and I want to live for You. Come into my heart and take over.”

Congratulations on a brand new life! Jesus loves you so much. You have many brothers and sisters in Christ who have been where you have been and will help you on your journey of knowing more about your Savior. Get connected in a Bible teaching church so you can grow and mature in your faith. If you do not have a Bible contact me at sfadebbie@yahoo.com and I will provide you one.

Q. I bought this charming button because it has a bunny that looks like an angel on it. It also reminds me of Wedgwood jasperware. The initials S-R 96 are inscribed on the back. What can you tell me about it?

A. Craftsmen have been making buttons as a cottage industry and in small shops for many years. The term “studio”button refers mostly to 20th-century buttons made in the home for the collector trade. They are not usually worn on garments.

Often, these craftsmen, both men and women, started their businesses by working in rooms in their homes, as a creative hobby. In many cases they gave these buttons as gifts to friends and family. An exception to the creative hobby idea is the paperweight button that was made specifically for collectors.

Many materials were used such as clay, glass, plastic, wood and aluminum. Makers of porcelain and clay buttons often made decorative accessory items in home kilns and by chance tried their hands at making buttons.

Jasperware is a pottery that originated with Josiah Wedgwood of England in the 1700s. This material was used for button making soon after its invention. Jasperware is a smooth vitreous pottery, needing no glaze. It was made in black, white, blue, green, lavender, and brown. Usually white figures were applied. The white decorations were formed into molds, then carefully finished by hand. The white decorations needed only water to hold them in place on the colored disks, since the disk and the design fused in the firing. Most of Wedgwood’s figures were classical subjects. In the 1950s, the Wedgwood firm made a few blue and white buttons for the George Ertells.

Marie La Bare Bennett has made jasperware buttons in the United States since the early 1950s. Her buttons are marked “MB” on the back, sometimes accompanied by the date. They have been made in all the popular jasperware colors, in modern designs as well as classical. Bennett buttons from the 1950s and 1960s sell for $5 and up. I can’t tell you who “SR” is, but there are several contemporary studio button makers who are working in Jasperware. Your charming and beautifully detailed button was made in 1996 and would be considered a cross-collectible by Jasperware collectors, studio button collectors, bunny collectors, and angel collectors. What a heavenly addition to your collection.

Texas History Minute:

Dr. Ken Bridges

Texas is an immense landscape, and the land seems to stretch on forever. The question of the Texas border has resulted in many disputes. One infamous land dispute in the late 1800s resulted in a piece of Texas called Greer County becoming a part of Oklahoma.

The dispute arose over a portion of a fork in the Red River. On the border of what is now Wilbarger County, the Red River forks into two distinct rivers. One fork, called at one time the South Fork and now often referred to as the Prairie Dog Town Fork, continues westerly into the Panhandle. Another fork, called the North Fork, goes straight northward from the main branch of the Red River before curving back westward and into the Panhandle along what is now Interstate 40.

In 1819, the United States signed the Adams-Onis Treaty with Spain, which set portions of the Texas border at the Red River. Years after Texas gained its independence from Mexico and then joined the Union, it claimed the North Fork of the Red River as part of its boundary with the 100th Meridian marking the eastern edge of the Panhandle. The areas to the north of the Red River were set aside as the Indian Territory, lands reserved for Native American tribes. A series of surveys were completed by the federal government in the 1850s to further define the border. As the surveys were completed, Texas officials moved to secure their claim by organizing the entire region between the North Fork of the Red River and the 100th Meridian as Greer County.

The county was named for veteran Texas politician John Alexander Greer. Greer had a respected career that included serving as the last Secretary of the Treasury of the Republic of Texas under President Anson Jones in 1845 and later served as the second lieutenant governor of Texas from 1847 to 1851. He died in 1855. The Texas Legislature named the county in his honor in February 1860.

After the interruptions of the Civil War and Reconstruction, settlement in the area picked up steadily in the 1880s. In 1879, when Congress created a new federal judicial district for North Texas, Greer County was included rather than being pushed into the Indian Territory. By 1886, the town of Mangum was established as the county seat, with schools and ranches being established across the area.

After the Indian Territory was opened to settlement and Native American claims stripped away, the federal government took interest in Greer County. Where Texas had claimed the North Fork as the border, the federal government claimed the South Fork as the border, putting Greer County in the newly rechristened Oklahoma Territory. A protracted legal fight erupted. In 1895, the Supreme Court heard testimony from both sides but ruled that the southern fork was the real boundary, ruling in United States v. Texas in 1896. Congress formalized the ruling later that year, giving Oklahoma full rights to Greer County.

Since Oklahoma was admitted as a state in 1907, Greer County was subdivided into four counties: Greer, Beckham, Jackson, and Harmon. The area today is thinly populated, and the economy is mostly devoted to ranching. Border disputes between Texas and Oklahoma continued for more than a century. By 2000, Texas and Oklahoma agreed to a formal river boundary at the vegetation line on the south bank of the Red River and Prairie Dog Town Fork of the Red River. The fight over Greer County proved to be just one of many battles that Texas and Oklahoma had to face with each other.

Blum and Abner are All-Americans

Tori Abner and Brooke Blum, 2015 Howe graduates, competed in intercollegiate wool judging this year. They competed at the National Western (Colorado) wool judging contest in January, San Antonio wool judging contest in February, and last Monday at the Houston Livestock Show.

At the end of the year, they choose eight individuals from the Nation to be on the "All-American" team.

The selection process is based on GPA, University activities, and individual placing in the past contests. Blum, a member of the Texas Tech University wool judging team, and Abner, a member of the Texas A&M wool judging team, were both selected as All Americans and presented with their canes as the award.

These two Howe girls have been best friends since third grade. They were very successful in high school, chose different universities and still continue to represent Howe.

This is a very prestigious honor and award and Howe Texas currently has two All Americans.

The awards banquet was Tuesday morning at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

Blum is daughter or Ronald and Tracy Blum of Howe, and Abner is the daughter of Mark and DeeAnn Abner of Howe.

VOLUME I

HOWE, GRAYSON COUNTY, TEXAS, MARCH 19, 1964

PEOPLE

By Mame Roberts

Being sixteen years old and beautiful is no handicap to Howe's newest sweetheart, Nancy Armstrong.

Nancy, a sophomore in the Howe High School, chosen by the Future Farmers of America Chapter as their 1964 sweetheart, has endeared herself to the entire town, as well as to the Howe schools, by her natural, unspoiled and unselfish manner. She thinks of others before herself.

She was so surprised and so completely appreciative of the honor bestowed upon her by the FFA Chapter; it was hard for her to believe that she had been chosen over so many others. She was speechless.

To know Nancy is to appreciate the fine things for which she stands. She regrets that she is not an accomplished musician, singer, or speechmaker, or a star in sports, but she loves everybody.

Nancy can sew, cook and keep house as an expert, and she loves it. And the care of little children is her favorite pastime. She is always calm and relaxed in her manner, speaks softly, and knows the nicest things to say at all times.

Nancy looks forward to vacation—not to taking trips or other usual pleasures teenagers look forward to—but to home life with her family and friends in Howe.

Howe pays tribute to its FFA sweetheart, Nancy Armstrong. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Armstrong of Howe.

Mrs. Pat Tillman is spending the week in Houston with her daughter, Mrs. John Dietrich.

HOWE NEEDS A WATER WELL

Wednesday, March 18 1964

Dear Citizens of Howe:

This letter is to acquaint you with the urgent need for a new water well. The well that has been supplying our town with water since 1954, when the sewerage system was installed is now in serious need of repair. It has developed a vicious shaft vibration when the motor starts, caused by worn parts all along the shaft to the bottom of the well. The gravel at the bottom of the well has shifted lower and permits sand to be pumped along with the water. This has worn the impellers and bearings until the long shaft to the bottom of the well vibrates when started. The well will operate at full capacity as long as it is not stopped, as the vibration occurs when it is started each time.

We plan to repair the present pump as soon as a new well is put into operation. The Myers Pump and Sales Service estimate that it will take from four to six days to repair our present well at a cost of approximately $4,000.00.

A new well can be dug in about three weeks, and in as much as we must have another well before going through another summer, your councilmen and I most definitely recommend that we start digging a new well immediately.

The Myers Company who dug our last well tells us that they can dig us an eight inch well with a submerged pump for a little more than that the cost of our last well, which cost the city almost $16,000.

It may become necessary to ask you to vote revenue bonds paid off by income from our water plant, to pay for the well. We are also looking into other possibilities. Time is important as the present well can not be stopped until the new well is in operation.

At a recent meeting of the entire club the following officers were elected:

Mr. J. J. Chisum motored to Denver, Colorado Monday to get Mrs. Chisum and see his wife's people there. They expect to get back about press time (Wednesday p.m.).

Mr. and Mrs. Bealy Butler of Irving spent the week end with his brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Woodie Butler and family of Howe.

We urge all citizens to be EXTRA careful of all fire hazards during this crisis.

We also urge you to support this new well as we can not ignore it. A small increase in water rates is likely to become necessary to pay off the added expenditures.

I am sure your councilmen would appreciate your informing them of your likes as well as your dislikes. Tell him what you think. That is the only way he can represent you properly.

Sincerely,
C. C. Jones, Mayor.

SESAME CLUB

The Howe Sesame Club presented its own talented young book reviewer, Mrs. W. E. (Helen) Sprowls, in a review of "Come to the Bower" by J. Y. Bryan, at Trade Winds, Tuesday, with Mame Roberts introducing the reviewer.

Arrangements of spring flowers in red and white with small Texas flags centered the luncheon tables.

The Texas Seal, the state flower, the state bird and other points of interest in Texas history, were featured on the place cards.

TORNADO DAMAGE HEAVY

Herman B. "Sarge" Davis, city council candidate, called our hand on the way, or the occupation we had for him last week in our story on the candidates.

We listed Sarge as an employee of Perrin Air Force Base, and he informed us that he was a member of the military, stationed at Perrin.

We're sticking by our guns--members of the military stationed at Perrin are at least employed at the base, if not by the base. Anyway, we may both be wrong come June -if Perrin is closed as announced. Sarge will probably be a member of the military

You can never tell what some people will do in an emergency.

During last Friday's Rash of tornadoes in the Howe area, residents fled to the south in droves--

Heard one teenager remark later that She had left in such haste, she forgot all her record albums.

And one man even forgot his family (can't mention any names), but fortunately, the family is a two-car one, and the kids and the little woman escaped also.

All you golfing fans who were not on the Van Alstyne C. Course last Tuesday missed a Chance to see a birdie, the likes of which you haven't ever seen before.

W. E. Yonce, a regular Tuesday golfing enthusiast, prepared for his second shot on the eleventh hole this week (it was a par 4 hole) let fly with a birdie shot, and did. Yonce said he would have had the birdie either way, but didn't quite expect the birdie he got.

The golf ball and a sparrow happened to be in the same flight pattern, and the sparrow ended up with the worst end of the trip.

Witnesses said the bird disintegrated upon collision with the golf ball.

And we didn't even think to ask Yonce if he counted the birdie on his scorecard or proceeded according to golfing rules.

We haven't received any information from state sources on the subject, but according to reports from Sherman, Howe has been ordered to close its dump ground to comply with state regulations.

According to a report in the Sherman Democrat, Mayor

Howe was virtually evacuated last Friday night as several tornadoes touched down in the area immediately to the North east of town. Heavy damage was reported by several farmers and ranchers near here, while other twisters completely destroyed the Mt. Carmel Baptist Church between Gunter and Tioga, caused heavy damage at Achille, Ohla., in the Willis area of Lake Texoma, and points in between.

The L. W. Coleman place on Highway 902 took the first brunt of the twisters, with a garage completely destroyed and the roof blown off the house. Roof damage was also heavy the roof of Coleman's barn. Mr. and Mrs. Coleman were in their home when the twister struck. Windows were also blown out of the house.

The twister apparently hit the ground closer to town, as uprooted trees and other signs of the force could be seen.

Howe residents evacuated homes and businesses, most of them going south of Highway 775, as the first twister was sighted southwest of town. Several twisters were sighted between the hours of 5:00 pm, and 6:30,

One family narrowly escaped with their lives as the twister continued its Northwest course. The J. L. Owens property just north of 902 was almost completely destroyed. One of the Owens children sounded the alarm to the other family members, who retreated to the basement of the home. The twister destroyed the Owens' barn, garage with an apartment, house, and heavily damaged the family car and a pickup truck.

Furniture, bedding, and other household items were sucked through a picture window after the glass had been broken by the storm. A mattress in one bedroom disappeared through the opening and was found later about a mile away. Paneling was also torn from the walls, although actual framework of the home remained intact. Hay and other debris was deposited throughout the home. A refrigerated air conditioning unit was found inside the home, with the framework for the unit intact in the window where it had been installed. A steel trailer was lifted about 200 yds into a pasture. Trees along the roadway leading to the home were uprooted, blocking off the roadway.

Path of the destructive twister could be traced for several miles, with garages, barns and other buildings either heavily damaged or completely destroyed. Evidence of the tornado was visible north of the railroad near Highway 1417.

An unoccupied home north of the J. L. Owens property was completely destroyed, with a barn heavily damaged. A two-wheel fertilizer spreader was found in the top of a tree near where the house had been. Path of the twister could be traced easily by the uprooted trees, tin and other materials deposited throughout the area.

Several saddles and other material was reported stolen following the storm. A guard at the Texas Instruments plant reported he entered the area immediately after the storm to check damage to the company's radio tower, which was destroyed, and noticed several saddles near the roadway. Upon returning shortly, the saddles were gone. A Pickup truck was observed in the area at the time. Officers reported other looting Saturday.

James L. Davis, who lives in the area where the twister first touched down, said the funnel sucked water from a nearby stock tank, depositing it during its Northwesterly course.

Hail damage to autos was reported in the vicinity of the Johnson & Johnson plant.

Camper Members Attend Snake Hunt

Jesse Mack Davis of Howe and Terry Hix of Van Alstyne were Wagonmasters for the March camp-out of the North Texas Happy Travelers Huntsman Club. Twenty camper members and three guest campers traveled to Sweetwater, to attend the world's largest rattlesnake hunt held the 12-13 and 14th.

New members were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wise of Van Alstyne, Mr. and Mrs. John Turney of Eulless and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Green of Garland.

Several members of the club took part in the hunt and capture of deadly rattlesnakes as other gathered in the County Coliseum to view and photograph almost 4,000 rattlers. Patrick Burchfield of Brownsville gave an interesting and informative lecture on the various snakes, especially the

TWO STORY HOME DESTROYED IN BLAZE

A two-story home located West of the Terry Corbin home was completely destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon. Two fire department units answered the alarm, but volunteers were only able to prevent the blaze from spreading to outbuildings.

Alarm was sounded shortly before three o'clock.

April Draft Call Set At 1,033 Men

April draft call in Texas has been set at 1,033, according to Col. Melvin N. Gantz, the state director of Selective Service.

National call by the Department of Defense is for 17,000 men, all for the Army. April call for pre-induction physical in Texas will be 4,001.

Gantz also noted that 51 Texas medical doctors, four osteopaths and 32 dentists will be included in a separate induction call for doctors and dentists. National call is for 1,531 MD's, 77 osteopaths and 536 Dentists.

Selective Service announced reduction in its work force of about 15 per cent. Nationwide reorganization may require some local Texas boards in heavily populated areas to be merged.

Students Assist In Evaluation Program

As part of the evaluation program, the community profile committee obtained these results from the High School Students. The questionnaire is being filled out by all students in the Howe Independent School District.

88 1/2 % of all parents in this school district completed High School. Of the father's that did not complete elementary school, 11.5 % of the fathers did not, and only 2 1/2 % of the mothers did not. 56% of the parents completed high school, that leaves 44% of the parents in this community do not have a high school education.

28.7% of the fathers attended college while 12.7% graduated from college. 15% of the mothers attended college, but only 8% completed college. 27.7% of the fathers had attended a technical school.

When the students were asked if their parents wanted them to complete high school, 88% responded positively, but significant 12% of the parents were not concerned.

77.5% of the parents want their children to attend college.

So far without the tabulation from the elementary and junior high school, any evaluation would be biased and maybe not typical of this community. But, as far as the percentage goes now, Howe is neither blessed or deprived of an educational background.

Howe's that...

HE SAID, SHE SAID - This week I'm back and giving my husband a hard time. He's still doing the hard work on the paper, but I feel like doing some of the typing and giving advice on how to put the paper together.

That's where Dale is having problems. He said that last week he did just fine getting the paper together. (My only complaint was the placement of the "school menu" - I usually put it next to the school calendar.) And I agree - last week's paper looked pretty good for having been done by someone not used to doing it on a weekly basis. The problem comes in the fact that he and I do things differently. Over the years I have developed a system of laying out stories and ads. His system is not the same. So I'm trying to just sit back and let him put it together his way (but it doesn't work all the time!).

Thanks to all who have called, sent cards and even food. I appreciate your concern. I am feeling a lot better, but I still have some recuperating to do.

Paula Cavender's Senior English class has been studying poetry and song lyrics. Two students, Scotty Skaggs and Jay Bryant wrote the following "Raps."

Stay In School

Reject, neglect, come correct - cause I'll take you.

You said there's no way - but I'll make do.

Of what I got - just so you can learn.

You might of quit trying but now it's my turn.

Drop out of school - and you will never see.

Give yourself a chance - to be all you can be.

You said - that you don't really care about it.

But in my mind - to me - there's no doubt.

That you do - from me to you and I'm taking

Everything you said cause you're just trying to fake me out.

But you know that you can't do it.

If you drop out of school - you blew it.

Drink & Drive and You Could Die

by Scotty Skaggs

When you get drunk, you should not drive.

Getting behind a wheel can cost a life.

When on the road watch out for others,

Cause the person you hit could be your brother.

When you sober up and see what you have done,

You will see drinking alcohol isn't worth the run.

When you go to jail, you can sob,

Cause alcohol can cost you your job.

Taking A Chance

by Scotty Skaggs

When you get drunk, you should not drive

Getting behind a wheel could cost a life

When the vehicle is out of control,

More than likely you're going to roll

I've already had one friend go that way

And almost lost my loving Aunt T.J.

Remember, funerals are not great

Please stop drinkngn before it's too late

Or you will be the next one climbing

The stairway to heaven's gate.
